Document Based American History Assessment:

Document-based Assessment Activities for U.S. History Classes Kenneth Hilton, 1999 Covers significant eras in U S history Encourages students to analyze evidence documents and other data to make informed decisions Includes guidelines for students answer prompts and a scoring rubric Develops essential writing skills New Directions in Assessing Historical Thinking Kadriye Ercikan, Peter Seixas, 2015-02-20 New technologies have radically transformed our relationship to information in general and to little bits of information in particular The assessment of history learning which for a century has valued those little bits as the centerpiece of its practice now faces not only an unprecedented glut but a disconnect with what is valued in history education More complex processes historical thinking historical consciousness or historical sense making demand more complex assessments At the same time advances in scholarship on assessment open up new possibilities For this volume Kadriye Ercikan and Peter Seixas have assembled an international array of experts who have collectively moved the fields of history education and assessment forward Their various approaches negotiate the sometimes conflicting demands of theoretical sophistication empirically demonstrated validity and practical efficiency Key issues include articulating the cognitive goals of history education the relationship between content and procedural knowledge the impact of students language literacy on history assessments and methods of validation in both large scale and classroom assessments New Directions in Assessing Historical Thinking is a critical research oriented resource that will advance the conceptualization design and validation of the next generation of history assessments Document-Based Assessment Activities, 2nd Edition Marc Pioch, Jodene Lynn Smith, 2020-03-02 Today s students need to know how to evaluate sources and use evidence to support their conclusions This K 12 resource for teachers provides instructional support as well as a variety of learning opportunities for students Through the activities in this book students will ask and answer compelling questions analyze primary sources approach learning through an inquiry lens and hone their historical thinking skills The lessons teach skills and strategies for analyzing historical documents partnered with document based assessments Graphic organizer templates help students structure their analyses This resource written by Marc Pioch and Jodene Smith prepares students for standardized tests and engages students with inquiry The scaffolded approach to teaching analysis skills can be applied across grades K 12 Making a Difference: Volume I and II Sasha A. Barab, Kenneth E. Hay, Nancy Butler Songer, Daniel T. Hickey, 2017-09-05 William Wordsworth 1770 1850 needs little introduction as the central figure in Romantic poetry and a crucial influence in the development of poetry generally This broad ranging survey redefines the variety of his writing by showing how it incorporates contemporary concepts of language difference and the ways in which popular and serious literature were compared and distinguished during this period It discusses many of Wordsworth s later poems comparing his work with that of his regional contemporaries as well as major writers such as Scott The key theme of relationship both between characters within poems and between poet and reader is explored through Wordsworth s construction of community and his use of power relationships A serious discussion of the place of sexual feeling in his writing is also included Teaching and Using Document-Based Questions for Middle School Edward P.

O'Connor,2003-11-14 This guide focuses on using Document Based Questions DBQs to challenge students to interpret primary sources such as letters diaries speeches and other historical records Challenge your students to interpret primary sources from American History such as letters diaries speeches and other historical records Students learn to analyze a wide variety of visual and graphic stimuli such as paintings photographs charts and graphs using Document Based Questions Containing sixteen different themes selected from major units that are covered in American History DBQs help to utilize many of the skills stressed by social studies teachers and are an excellent tool for assessing student progress The activities are geared primarily toward middle school students grades 6 8 but can be adapted easily for use by secondary students

Assessing Historical Thinking and Understanding Bruce A. VanSledright, 2013-07-31 Assessing Historical Thinking and Understanding advocates for a fundamental change in how educators think about making sense of learners developing cognition and understanding in history Author Bruce VanSledright argues that traditional and typical standardized testing approaches are seldom up to the task of measuring the more complex understandings students are asked to attain as they cannot fully assess what the student knows Rather he points forward along a path toward changes in learning teaching and assessing that closely aligns with the Common Core State Standards He delves into the types of history knowledge the standards require illustrates how they can be applied in use in history learning contexts and theorizes how the standards might fit together cognitively to produce deep historical understandings among students in teaching learning contexts By providing a variety of assessment strategies and items that align with the standards and identifying rich useful assessment rubrics applicable to the different types of assessments he offers an important resource for social studies teachers and curriculum writers alike
