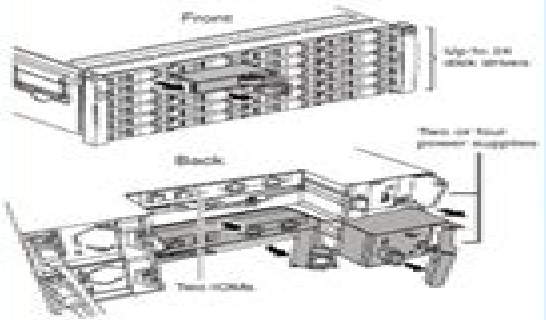
Component replacement map



- Power supplies and disk drives are hot-swappable. (Replace the power supply within two minutes of removal to minimize disruption to the disk shelf's airflow.)
- Shelf IOMs are not hot-swappable in storage systems that are single-controller single-path configurations.
- Mixing IOM3 and IOM6 in the same disk shelf is not supported.

For component replacement instructions, LED behavior, and SES error messages, see the DS4243, DS2246, DS4486, and DS4246 Installation and Service Guide.

Note: New DS4243 and DS4246 disk shelves are visually distinguished by the following labeling:

- The disk shelf model, DS4243 or DS4246, appears on the front right ear cover of the disk shelf.
- IOM3 appears on the IOM face for DS4243 disk shelves. IOM6 appears on the face of the IOM for DS4246 disk shelves.

The illustrations in this document show a DS4243 disk shelf.

Hot-adding disk shelves

If you are hot-adding disk shelves to an existing storage system, see the applicable document for the system's requirements and procedure:

- For storage systems, see the DS4243, DS2246, DS4486, and DS4246 Disk Shelf Installation and Service Guide.
- For MetroCluster systems using SAS optical cables, see Configuring a stretch MetroCluster system with SAS disk shelves and SAS optical cables.
- For MetroCluster systems using FibreBridge 6500N bridges, see Configuring a MetroCluster system with SAS disk shelves and FibreBridge 6500N bridges.

These documents can be found on the NetApp Support Site at support.netapp.com.

Alternate Control Path (ACP) capability

For maximum storage availability and stability, storage systems with disk shelves have the option to use the ACP capability. ACP is a protocol that enables Data ONTAP to manage and control the disk shelf storage subsystem. It uses a separate network from the data path so that it can independently perform recovery whenever certain interruptions are detected in the data path.

To use the ACP capability, you must cable the ACP ports on the disk shelves and connect the disk shelves to the dedicated network interface on each storage system controller. At system setup, you enable ACP functionality by configuring ACP parameters. If your storage system does not have a dedicated on-board network interface for ACP, you assign one at system setup.

Standard ACP cabling rules apply to all storage systems and can be found in the Universal SAS and ACP Cabling Guide. ACP functionality configuration, and enabling information can be found in the Data ONTAP Storage Management Guide.

Note: If at initial storage system setup you choose not to use the ACP capability, you can use it later by cabling the ACP connections and enabling ACP by running setup again.
