Experiencing Innovation In Asia: Cases In Business Model Development Essec Business School Singapore, Capgemini Consulting France, 2015-04-22 Does business model innovation look the same in Asia as it does in the Western world If not what can we learn from the differences This book attempts to answer these important questions through a series of original cases concerning a variety of companies from large multinationals to small social enterprises The cases arise from the Asian Strategy Project an initiative conceived by ESSEC Business School and supported by Capgemini Consulting As part of this unique programme students were embedded in a company in an Asian emerging market and given the opportunity to develop their understanding of an innovative business model by working on real strategic issues that the company faced Written by ESSEC professors this book gathers a representative selection of the resulting cases creating a repository of knowledge for business students teachers and professionals who wish to learn more about innovative business models in Asia

Transforming Microfinance Institutions Joanna Ledgerwood, Victoria White, 2006-08-30 In response to a clear need by low income people to gain access to the full range of financial services including savings a growing number of microfinance NGOs are seeking guidelines to transform from credit focused microfinance organizations to regulated deposit taking financial intermediaries In response to this trend this book presents a practical how to manual for MFIs to develop the capacity to become licensed and regulated to mobilize deposits from the public Transforming Microfinance Institutions provides guidelines for regulators to license and regulate microfinance providers and for transforming MFIs to meet the demands of two major new stakeholders regulators and shareholders As such it focuses on developing the capacity of NGO MFIs to mobilize and intermediate voluntary savings Drawing from worldwide experience it outlines how to manage the transformation process and address major strategic and operational issues inherent in transformation including competitive positioning business planning accessing capital and shareholders and how to transform the MFI s human resources financial management MIS internal controls and branch operations Case studies then provide examples of developing a new regulatory tier for microfinance and how a Ugandan NGO transformed to become a licensed financial intermediary This book will be invaluable to regulators and microfinance NGOs contemplating institutional transformation and will be of tremendous use to donors and technical support agencies supporting MFIs in their transformation

Making Microfinance Work Craig Farren Churchill, Cheryl Frankiewicz, 2006 This

training manual provides an overview of the key management principles necessary to optimize the services of microfinance institutions MFIs and brings together useful lessons from numerous MFIs worldwide to help managers strengthen the performance of their unit branch or institution Either used alone or as part of a management training course Making Microfinance Work offers various tools and advice The markets and marketing of MFIs are examined and looks at the different ways in which managers can communicate the value of their products and services It introduces effective methods for enhancing efficiency and productivity which minimize the trade offs MFIs invariably face as they try to provide services over the long term The topic of managing risks is also covered This manual offers strategies to prevent risk from occurring and if it does occur explains how to rectify the situation Practical techniques for allocating costs and determining prices are also highlighted as well as the importance of plans budgets and reports Illustrations and case studies are used to assist managers in applying the concepts outlined in the text An extensive list of additional reading and useful Internet resources is also provided

Jobs for Shared Prosperity Roberta Gatti, Matteo Morgandi, Rebekka Grun, Stefanie Brodmann, Juan Manuel Moreno, Daniela Marotta, Marc Schiffbauer, Elizabeth Mata Lorenzo, 2013-04-25 In the aftermath of the Arab Spring when thousands of young women and men fought for the opportunity to realize their aspirations and potential the question of jobs continues to be crucial in the Middle East and North Africa region This report uses jobs as a lens to weave together the complex dynamics of employment creation skills supply and the institutional environment of labor markets Consistent with the framework of the 2013 World Development Report on jobs of which this report is the regional companion this work goes beyond the traditional links between jobs productivity and living standards to include an understanding of how jobs matter for individual dignity and expectations an aspect that was clearly central to the Arab Spring Just as important this report complements the economic perspective with an analysis of political economy equilibrium with a view to identifying mechanisms that would trigger a reform process As such the report has three objectives First it seeks to provide an in depth characterization of the dynamics of labor markets in the Middle East and North Africa and to analyze the barriers to the creation of more and better jobs It does so by taking a cross sectoral approach and identifying the distortions and incentives that the many actors firms governments workers students education and training systems currently face and which ultimately determine the equilibrium in labor markets Second the report proposes a medium term roadmap of policy options that could promote the robust and inclusive growth needed to tackle the structural employment challenge for the region Third the report aims to inform and open up a platform for debate on jobs among a broad set of stakeholders with the ultimate goal of contributing to reach a shared view of the employment challenges and the reform path ahead

Entrepreneurship Education and Training Programs around the World Alexandria Valerio, Brent Parton, Alicia Robb, 2014-05-06 Entrepreneurship has attracted global interest for its potential to catalyze economic and social development Research suggesting that certain entrepreneurial mindsets and skills can be learned has given rise to the field of entrepreneurship education and training EET Despite the growth of EET global knowledge about these programs and their impact remains thin In response this study surveys the available literature and program evaluations to propose a Conceptual Framework for understanding the EET program landscape The study finds that EET today consists of a heterogeneous mix of programs that can be broken into two groups entrepreneurship education and entrepreneurship training These programs target a range of participants secondary and post secondary education students as well as potential and practicing entrepreneurs The outcomes measured by program evaluations are equally diverse but generally fall under the domains of entrepreneurial mindsets and capabilities entrepreneurial status and entrepreneurial performance The dimensions of EET programs vary according the particular target group Programs targeting secondary education students focus on the development of foundational skills linked to entrepreneurship while post secondary education programs emphasize skills related to strategic business planning Programs targeting potential entrepreneurs generally are embedded within broader support programs and tend to target vulnerable populations for whom employment alternatives may be limited While programs serving practicing entrepreneurs focus on strengthening entrepreneurs knowledge skills and business practices which while unlikely to transform an enterprise in the near term may accrue benefits to entrepreneurs over time The study also offers implications for policy and program implementation emphasizing the importance of clarity about target groups and desired outcomes when making program choices and sound understanding of extent to which publicly supported programs offer a broader public good and compare favorably to policy alternatives for supporting the targeted individuals as well as the overall economic and social objectives

Replicating Microfinance in the United States James H. Carr,Zhong Yi Tong,2002-06-28 Microfinance was pioneered in the developing world as the lending of small amounts of money to entrepreneurs who lacked the kinds of credentials and collateral demanded by banks Similar practices spread from the developing to the developed world reversing the usual direction of innovation and today several hundred microfinance institutions are operating in the United States Replicating Microfinance in the United States reviews experiences in both developing and industrialized countries and extends the applications of microlending beyond enterprise to consumer finance housing finance and community development finance concentrating especially on previously underserved households and their communities
