Nights of Musk Haggag Hassan Oddoul, 2009 These stories speak of the demise of traditional Nubian life and culture While the temples of Abu Simbel were relocated before dam building the drowning of the ancient heartland of the Nubian people along the banks of the Nile went largely unnoticed Haggag Oddoul documents the personal tragedy of social transformation Nile Sparrows Ibrahim Aslan, 2009 Set in the author's own Nile side neighborhood of Warraq Aslan's second novel the first to be translated and published in English chronicles the daily rhythm of life of rural migrants to Cairo and their complex webs of familial and neighborly relations over half a century It opens with the mysterious disappearance of the tiny grandmother Hanem who is over 100 years old and is last seen by her daughter in law Dalal Dalal does not have the heart to tell Hanem that her grown children Nargis and Abdel Reheem have both been dead for some time Her grandson Mr Abdalla who has children of his own and not a few flecks of gray in his hair reluctantly sets out for their home village to search for her embarking on a bittersweet odyssey into his family's past and a confrontation with his own aging In an elliptical narrative Aslan limns a series of vignettes that mimic the workings of memory moving backward and forward in time and held together by a series of recurrent figures and images There is Abdalla's father the tragic al Bahey Uthman his quirky and earthy uncle Abdel Reheem and his sweet mother Nargis who dies with her simplest desires unfulfilled Aslan's moving portrait of the quotidian dramas that constitute the lives of ordinary Egyptians is untainted by populist pretensions or belittling romanticism and full of the humor and heartbreaking pathos that have become trademarks of the author's style

Drumbeat Muḥammad Bisāṭī, 2010 In a fictional Gulf country with its gleaming glass towers and imported greenery the routine of day to day life is suddenly interrupted when the national football team qualifies for the World Cup The Emir issues an edict ordering all native Emiratis to travel to France to support the team leaving the country to the care of its imported labor. How do they handle such newly found freedom? As though steered by a perverse blend between Dante and Scheherazade, we descend layer by layer beneath the facade of modernity from the colorful multilingual throngs rejoicing for the Emirati team to the hierarchies that underpin them from the luxurious gardens and swimming pools into the darker secrets of the bedroom from the rigid and inhibiting strictures of the present to a remote age of innocence. Three narratives interweave to form a tight and thought provoking examination of the psychology of control. Drumbeat received the Sawiris Foundation Award for Egyptian Literature.

Heads Ripe for Plucking Maḥmūd Wardānī, 2008. An Arab tyrant once infamously declared, 'I see heads that are ripe for plucking.' In Mahmoud Al Wardani's novel of tyranny and oppression, an impaled head seeks solace in narrating similar woes it sustained in previous incarnations. Beheadings, both literal and metaphorical torture, murder, decapitation, brainwashing, losing one's head, are the subject of the six stories that unfold. The narrative takes us from the most archetypal beheading in Arabo-Islamic history, that of al-Husayn, the grandson of the Prophet Muhammad, via a crime passionnel, the torture of Communists in Nasser's prisons, the meanderings of a Cairene teenager unwittingly caught in the bread riots of 1977, a body dismembered in the 1991 Gulf War, and a bloodless beheading on the eve of the new millennium into a dystopic future where heads are periodically severed to undergo maintenance and downloading of programs.

Cities Without Palms 2009, تارک إلتايه In a desperate attempt to save his mother and two sisters from famine and disease, a young man leaves his native village in Sudan and sets out alone to seek work in the city. This is the beginning of Hamza's long journey. Hunger and destitution lead him ever farther from his home, first from Sudan to Egypt, where the lack of work forces him to join a band of smugglers, and finally from Egypt to Europe, Italy, France, Holland, where he experiences first-hand the harsh world of migrant laborers and the bitter realities of life as an illegal immigrant. Tarek Eltayeb's first novel offers an uncompromising depiction of poverty in both the developed and the developing world. With its simple yet elegant style, Cities without Palms tells of a tragic human life punctuated by moments of true joy. Once started, it is difficult to put down. It is sensational, original, and altogether a magnificent literary debut.

James Kirkup Banipal The Lodging House Khairy Shalaby, 2009-03. A young man's dreams for a better future as a student in the Teachers Institute are shattered after he assaults one of his instructors for discriminating against him. From then on, he begins his descent into the underworld. This novel takes on epic dimensions as the narrator escorts us on a journey to this underworld.

The Mirage 2009, كميل روبا A psychological study of the first order with a subtly Freudian flavor. The Mirage is the autobiographical account of Kamil Ruḥa, a tortured soul who finds himself struggling unduly to cope with life's challenges. The internal torment and angst that dog him throughout his life and the tragic, ironic turns of events that overtake him as a young man are to a great extent the outworkings of his faulty upbringing. At the same time, they work together to drive home the novel's underlying theme: the illusory, undependable nature of the world in which we live and the call to seek beyond the outward and the ephemeral that which is inward and enduring The narrative full of pathos draws the reader unwittingly into a vicarious experience of Kamil s agonies and ecstasies As such it is a specimen of Mahfouz s prose at its finest      The Traveler and the Innkeeper Fāḍil ‘Azzāwī,2011 This timely elegant novel s hero is an Iraqi secret police inspector who routinely uses enhanced interrogation techniques which even he considers torture Convinced that he is protecting society from anarchy he is at peace with the world until ordered to interrogate a childhood friend a journalist with possible links to violent subversives Then he falls in love with his friend s wife The plot of this novel which was written in Iraq in 1976 and published in Arabic in Germany in 1989 is further complicated by street protests in Baghdad following the Six Day Arab Israeli War of June 1967 Despite the grim subject matter of this novel it is at heart a love story lyrically narrated      Gold Dust Ibrāhīm Kūnī,2008 Rejected by his tribe and hunted by the kin of the man he killed Ukhayyad and his thoroughbred camel flee across the desolate Tuareg deserts of the Sahara Between bloody wars against the Italians in the north and famine raging in the south Ukhayyad rides for the remote rock caves of Jebel Hasawna There he says farewell to the mount who has been his companion through thirst disease lust and loneliness Alone in the desert haunted by the prophetic cave paintings of ancient hunting scenes and the cries of jinn in the night Ukhayyad awaits the arrival of his pursuers and their insatiable hunger for blood and gold Gold Dust is a classic story of the brotherhood between man and beast the thread of companionship that is all the difference between life and death in the desert It is a story of the fight to endure in a world of limitless and waterless wastes and a parable of the struggle to survive in the most dangerous landscape of all human society
