functions such as protecting from corrosion and wear decoration and electrical shielding Anodizing most closely resembles standard electroplating Anodizing or anodizing is an electrolytic passivation process used to increase the thickness of the natural oxide layer on the surface of metal parts Anodizing increases corrosion resistance and wears resistance and provides better adhesion for paint primers and glues than bare metal Anodic films are most commonly applied to protect aluminium alloys The aim of this handbook is to give the reader a perspective on several metal surface treatment techniques which are generally followed in the finishing Industry This is a unique compilation and it draws together in a single source technical principles of surface science and surface treatments technologies of plastics elastomers and metals along with various formulae of bath solutions current density deposit thickness manufacturing processes various ingredients used in these processes It is a very useful guide for the readers engineers scientists practitioners of surface treatment researchers students entrepreneurs and others involved in materials adhesion and processing
