Barbican Estate City Of London:

Schulbauten – Debatten, Darstellungen und Aneignungspraktiken von 1968 bis heute Eva Zepp, 2023-06-02 In der Debatte um die Demokratisierung von Bildungseinrichtungen änderte sich der Blick auf Schulgebäude und ihre Nutzung seit den 1960er Jahren grundlegend und es rückte eine weitere Funktion in den Vordergrund die Rolle von Schularchitektur als Imageträger. Eva Zepp rekonstruiert den Diskurs um ein höheres Maß an Mitbestimmung bei der Planung von Schulbauten und deren mediale Repräsentationen. Anhand von Dokumenten aus Forschungsarchiven, Berichten und Bildstrecken in Architekturzeitschriften sowie zwei prominent diskutierten Schulbauten analysiert sie die Rollen und Praktiken von Nutzer:innen und zeigt, wo verschiedene Interessen aufeinandertreffen. Braucht es eine partizipative Planungspraxis, die Raum für Eigensinn und Dissens öffnet?

London – Geographien einer Global City Veronika Selbach, Klaus Zehner, 2016-01-15 Die Deregulierung des britischen Finanzsektors in den 1980er Jahren und der entschiedene Wille der damaligen Regierung unter Margaret Thatcher, London zu einer der führenden Wirtschaftsmetropolen im transnationalen Wettbewerb auszubauen, haben die Stadt verstärkt dem Einfluss der Globalisierung ausgesetzt. Seitdem hat sich London von einer gealterten Haupt- und Industriestadt zu einer Global City der höchsten Rangstufe verändert. Der Band nimmt diesen Wandel in den Blick und thematisiert die städtebaulichen, wirtschaftlichen, sozialen und planerischen Folgen, etwa die Verformung des Stadtkörpers durch den Bau neuer Büro- und Wohnhochhäuser, die Gentrifizierung ehemaliger Arbeiterquartiere oder die Zunahme der sozialräumlichen Disparitäten.

Estate Regeneration Brendan Kilpatrick, Manisha Patel, 2020-08-20 One hundred years ago the Addison Act created the circumstances for the large scale construction of municipal housing in the UK. This would lead to the most prolific phases of housing estate building the country has ever seen. The legacy of this historic period has been tackled for the last twenty five years as these estates began to suffer from misguided allocation policies, systemic building and fabric failure and financial austerity. A series of estate regeneration programmes sought to rectify the mistakes of the past. Estate Regeneration describes 24 of these regeneration schemes from across the UK and the design philosophy and resident engagement which formed each new community. A number of essays from a wide range of industry experts amplify the learning experience from some key estate regeneration initiatives and provide observations on the broader issues of this sector of the housing market. Regeneration is inevitable, it is a matter of the form which regeneration should take. The information presented here is a guide to an intuitive approach to estate regeneration which commences with the derivation of strong urban design principles and is guided by real community engagement. The experience presented seeks to learn from the mistakes of the past to create the best possible platform for regeneration of the housing estates of the future.

Redefining Brutalism Simon Henley, 2019-10-18 There is a genuine resurgence of interest in this period of architecture. Brutalism is a highly debated topic in the architectural press and amongst architectural critics and institutions who promote the preservation of these buildings. This book is unique in combining beautiful, highly illustrated design with description of both British and International brutalist buildings and architects alongside analysis of the present and future of brutalism Not just be a historical tome this book discusses brutalism as a living and evolving entity Great Estates Sarah Yates, Peter Murray, 2024-03-01 The only book that brings together all London's historic and contemporary Great Estates documents a remarkable history unique to England but with lessons for landowners and communities around the world Shows how they shape the way development takes place in England providing essential lessons to all those wishing to understand city planning whether practitioners or academics Provides a model example of corporate modernisation following the impact of leasehold reform Much of the story of London's development can be traced through the historic ownership of large pieces of land which through the ongoing ownership of freehold assets and their lease terms have created a resilient cycle of change and renewal Today this long term attitude to investment development and management has influenced the development of new large scale and mixed use areas of the capital such as King's Cross Canary Wharf and the Olympic Park This book provides a comprehensive picture on all of London's historic and contemporary estates and sets out what we can learn from them on the most successful principles of placemaking for the future Part retrospective part forward looking the book will provide lessons on place shaping management and stewardship for global cities looking to learn from this unique London model

How To Think About Cities Deborah G. Martin, Joseph Pierce, 2022-11-29 Cities are raucous cacophonous and complex Many dimensions of life play out and conflict across cities intricate landscapes be they political cultural economic or social Urban policy makers and analysts often attempt to cut through the noise of urban disagreement by emphasizing a dominant lens for understanding the key central logic of the city How To Think About Cities sees this tendency to selective vision as misleading and ultimately unjust cities are many things at once to different people and communities This book describes the various ways of seeing the functions and landscapes of the city as place frames and the constant process of negotiating which place frames best explain the city as place making Martin and Pierce call for an explicitly hybrid perspective that shifts between many different frames for making sense of cities This approach highlights how any given stance opens up some lines of inquiry and understanding while closing off others Thinking of cities as sites of contested perspectives promotes a synthetic approach to urban analysis that emphasizes difference and political possibility This mosaic view of the city will be a welcome read for those within urban studies geography and social sciences exploring the many faces of urban life

The Housing Design Handbook David Levitt, Jo McCafferty, 2018-10-04 Everyone deserves a decent and affordable home a truth almost universally acknowledged But housing in the UK has been in a state of crisis for decades with too few homes built too often of dubious quality and costing too much to buy rent or inhabit It doesn't have to be like this Bringing together a wealth of experience from a wide range of housing experts this completely revised edition of The Housing Design Handbook provides an authoritative comprehensive and systematic guide to best practice in what is perhaps the most contentious and complex field of architectural design This book sets out design principles for all the essential components of successful housing design including placemaking typologies and density internal and external space privacy security tenure and community engagement illustrated with case studies of schemes by architecture practices working across the UK and continental Europe Written by David Levitt and Jo McCafferty two recognised authorities in the field and with contributions from more than twenty other leading practitioners The Housing Design Handbook is an essential reference for professionals and students in architecture and design as well as for government bodies housing associations and other agencies involved in housing London : [mit Extra-Reisekarte und 10 Entdeckungstouren!] Annette Kossow, 2009 Stadtführer mit Informationen zu Geschichte Kultur und Alltagsleben der britischen Metropole Besichtigungs und Ausflugstipps Hinweisen auf Hotels Restaurants Kneipen Bars Einkaufsadressen sowie separatem Stadtplan We Have Never Been Private Ioanna Piniara, 2025-05-08 This book serves as a provocative and thought provoking entry point into the exploration of housing typologies and urban forms challenging traditional notions of privacy and shedding light on the complex interplay between architecture individuality and community Piniara goes beyond a mere analysis of physical spaces encompassing narratives for the decolonization of housing typologies urging readers to reconsider established norms and envision more inclusive equitable and culturally diverse urban landscapes The Secret Life of the Modern House Dominic Bradbury, 2021-04-01 Informative and entertaining this publication is a feast for the eyes while also thought provoking and offers excellent inspiration for daydreaming about what makes the perfect modern house Wallpaper A fascinating selection of innovative homes this is a thoughtful journey through the evolution of domestic architecture Sunday Express Over the last century the way that we live at home has changed dramatically Nothing short of a design revolution has transformed our houses and the spaces within them moving from traditional patterns of living all the way through to an era of more fluid open plan and modern styles Whether we live in a new home or a period house our spaces will have been shaped one way or another by the pioneering Modernists and Mid century architects and designers who argued for a fresh way of life Architectural and design writer Dominic Bradbury charts the course of this voyage all the way from the late 19th century through to the houses of today in this ground breaking book Over nineteen thematic chapters he explains the way our houses have been reinvented while taking in along the way the giants of Art Deco influential Modernists including Le Corbusier and Frank Lloyd Wright as well as post war innovators such as Eero Saarinen and Philip Johnson Taking us from the 20th to the 21st century Bradbury explores the progress of modernity itself and reveals the secret history of our very own homes Identity and Heritage Peter F. Biehl, Douglas C. Comer, Christopher Prescott, Hilary A. Soderland, 2014-10-15 This book will suggest new agendas for identity and heritage studies by means of presenting contentious issues facing archaeology and heritage management in a globalized world The book is not only present the variability of heritage objectives and experiences in the New and Old World and opens a discussion in a shrinking world to look beyond national and regional contexts If the heritage sector and archaeology are to remain relevant in our contemporary world and the near future there are a number of questions concerning the politics practices and narratives related to heritage and identity that must be addressed Questions of relevance in an affluent cosmopolitan setting are at odds with those relevant for a region emerging from civil war or ethnic strife or a national minority battling oppression or ethnic cleansing A premise is that heritage represents a broad scope of empirically and theoretically sound interpretations that heritage is a response to contemporary forces as much as data It is therefore necessary constantly to evaluate what is scientifically accurate as well as what is valid and relevant and what can have a contemporary impact ADAC Bildreise Führer London Hans-Joachim Völse, 2008

Berthold Lubetkin John Allan, 2023-09-15 This book presents a compact and compelling account of the life and work of Berthold Lubetkin 1901 1990 widely regarded as the outstanding architect of his generation to practise in England It explores the key themes achievements and setbacks of his career drawing from the author's twenty year personal friendship with Lubetkin himself from discussions with former colleagues and from his direct experience of working with many of Lubetkin's buildings as a conservation architect The study reveals the significance of Lubetkin's Russian origins and European travels re-assesses his prime work of the 1930s and charts the extensive output of his often overlooked post-war career It also considers Lubetkin's legacy in the later work of his key associates several of whom became significant architects in their own right Lubetkin is a legendary figure in architectural circles while still remaining slightly mysterious and misunderstood The author shines new light on the man and his ideas and assesses his unique place in modern architectural history Illustrations include original black and white images as well as high quality colour studies of the buildings as they are now A complete List of Works and published commentaries also provide a valuable source of reference London: Business, Travel, Culture Nicolae Sfetcu, 2014-08-10 Revision 1.1 London is the most important political financial cultural and artistic center of the United Kingdom and one of the most important cities of the world In London there are many institutions and corporate headquarters of global importance many important buildings palaces museums theaters concert halls airports railway stations numerous embassies and consulates London is a huge engine of the world economy City is the largest financial center of London home to banks securities companies insurance companies law and accounting A second financial district is developing Canary Wharf More than half of the top 100 British companies have their headquarters in central London and more than 70% in the metropolitan area of London 31% of the world monetary transactions take place in London Here are selling and buying more dollars than in New York and more euros than in all other European cities Tourism is one of the most important industries of the United Kingdom over 350 000 people worked in tourism in 2003 only in London With a number of universities colleges and schools London has a population of about 378 000 students making it an important center of research and development

Revaluing Modern Architecture John Allan, 2022-02-28 The conservation of our Modern architectural heritage is a subject of vehement debate When do buildings become old or significant enough to warrant special heritage status and protection Should Modern listed buildings be treated differently from those of earlier periods And what does all this mean for building users and owners who might be better served if their buildings were less authentic but more comfortable and usable Presenting a clear line of sight through these complex questions this book explores the conservation regeneration and adaptive re use of Modern architecture It provides a general grounding in the field its recent history and current development including chapters on authenticity charters listing and protection Case studies drawing on the author s extensive practical experience offer valuable lessons learnt in the conservation of Modern heritage buildings Looking beyond the specialist field of elite heritage Revaluing Modern Architecture also considers the changing culture of conservation for sub iconic buildings in relation to de carbonisation and the climate emergency It suggests how revaluing the vast legacy of modern architecture can help to promote a more sustainable future Features leading conservation projects such as the celebrated Penguin Pool at London Zoo Finsbury Health Centre by Lubetkin Tecton and Wells Coates Isokon Lawn Road Flats as well as previously unpublished projects Analyses key Modern conservation controversies of recent years Illustrated with over 160 photos and drawings An essential primer for architectural students and practitioners academics those employed in conservation and planning property owners developers surveyors and building managers

Modern Buildings in Britain Owen Hatherley, 2022-04-07 The definitive illustrated guide to modern British architecture from one of the most acclaimed critics at work today Modernism is now a century old and its consequences are all around us built into our everyday lived environments Its place in Britain s history is fiercely contested and its role in our future is the subject of ongoing controversy but modernist buildings have undoubtedly changed our cities politics and identity forever In Modern Buildings in Britain Owen Hatherley applauds the ambition and explores the significance of this most divisive of architectures travelling from Aberystwyth to Aberdeen from St Ives to Shetland in search of our most important and distinctive modern buildings Drawing on hundreds of examples we learn how the concrete of Brutalism embodies post war civic principles how corporate values were expressed in the glass fa ades of the International Style and why Ecomodernist experimentation is often consigned to the geographic fringes As Hatherley considers the social political and cultural value of these structures a number of which are threatened by demolition two linked questions emerge what happens to a building after it has been lived in and what becomes of an idea when its time has passed With more than six hundred pages of trenchantly opinionated often witty analysis and with three hundred photographs in duotone and colour Modern Buildings in Britain is a landmark contribution to the history of British architecture

Materials and Meaning in Architecture Nathaniel Coleman, 2020-02-20 Interweaving architecture philosophy and cultural history Materials and Meaning in Architecture develops a rich and multi dimensional exploration of materials and materiality in an age when architectural practice seems otherwise preoccupied with image and visual representation Arguing that architecture is primarily experienced by the whole body rather than chiefly with the eyes this broad ranging study shows how the most engaging built works are as tactile as they are sensuous communicating directly with the bodily senses especially touch It explores the theme of material imagination and the power of establishing place identity in an architect's work to consider the enduring expressive possibilities of material use in architecture. The book's chapters can be dipped into each individual chapter providing close readings of built works by selected modern masters: Scarpa, Zumthor, Williams and Tsien; insights into key texts and theories: Ruskin, Loos, Bachelard; or short cultural histories of materials: wood, brick, concrete, steel and glass. And yet taken together the chapters build to a powerful book-length argument about how meaning accrues to materials through time and about the need to reinsert the bodily experience of materiality into architectural design. It is thus also in part a manifesto arguing for architecture to act as a bulwark against the tide of an increasingly depersonalised built environment. With insights for a wide range of readers ranging from students through to researchers and professional designers, Materials and Meaning in Architecture will cause theorists to rethink their assumptions and designers to see new potential for their projects.

Hoop Skirts and Ponytails - A Fifties Memoir Jacky Hyams, 2016-11-03. Elvis is waiting outside in a big pink Caddy. Or rather he would be if the dreams and fantasies of millions of teenage girls could only come true. And like so many other thirteen-year-olds, East End schoolgirl Jacky Hyams has fallen under the spell of the man with the swivel hips and sexy voice, an unforgettable moment in time amidst a tidal wave of social change in Britain, the era of the Fifties teenager. All around her people are shaking off the memory of the drab austerity years after the Second World War. Ration books are now history. The good times have finally arrived. Families like Jacky's are starting to be tempted by the incredible new household goods in high street shop windows: TVs, fridges, washing machines, electric heaters, now widely available on credit. Wimpy bars and frozen fish fingers are changing the culinary landscape. Even the Prime Minister is telling the country 'You Never Had it So Good'. Now for the first time ever teenagers are being wooed as never before: consumers in their own right rather than mere mini versions of their elders. It is a dramatic cultural shift that sparks a huge rift between the generations. As bewildered parents struggle to cope with her teenage rebellion against old-fashioned attitudes, for Jacky all these tempting changes can only lead her in one direction: an all-embracing desire for freedom and a growing determination to break free of the traditional East End way of life.

Social Housing in Performance Katie Beswick, 2019-02-07. This book explores the ways that council estates have been represented in England across a range of performance forms. Drawing on examples from mainstream, site-specific and resident-led performance works, it considers the political potential of contemporary performance practices concerned with the council estate. Depictions of the council estate are brought into dialogue with global representations of what Chris Richardson and Hans Skott Myhre call 'the hood' to tease out the specific features of the British context and situate the work globally. Katie Beswick's study provides a timely contribution to the ongoing national and global interest in social housing. As the housing market grows ever more insecure and estates are charged with political rhetoric, theatre and socially engaged art set or taking place on estates takes on a new potency. Mainstream theatre works examined include Rita Sue and Bob Too and A State Affair at the Soho Theatre; Port at the National Theatre; and DenMarked at the

Battersea Arts Centre The book also explores the National Youth Theatre's Slick and Roger Hiorns's Seizure as well as community based and resident led performances by Fourthland Jordan McKenzie Fugitive Images and Jane English
