Biedermann Und Die Brandstifter Twentieth Century Texts:

The Fortunes of Everyman in Twentieth-century German Drama Brian Murdoch, 2022 Death still comes to Everyman but this study of three twentieth century German plays shows the harder challenge of living without salvation in an age of war and unprecedented mass destruction Death comes to everyone and in the late medieval morality play of Everyman the familiar skeleton forces the universalized central figure to come to terms with this Only his inner resources in the forms of Good Deeds and Knowledge ensure that he repents and is redeemed Three important twentieth century German plays echo Everyman Toller's Hinkemann Borchert's The Man Outside and Frisch's The Arsonists Firebugs but the unprecedented scale of killing in the First and Second World Wars changed the view of death while in the Cold War the nuclear destruction literally of everyone became a possibility Brian Murdoch traces the heritage of Everyman in the three plays in terms of dramatic effect changes in the image of Death and especially the problem of living with existential guilt Death now overfed still has to be faced but Everyman has the harder problem of living with the awareness of human wickedness without the possibility of salvation All three plays have tended to be viewed in their specific historical contexts but by viewing them less rigidly and as part of a long dramatic tradition Murdoch shows that all present a message of lasting and universal significance They pose directly to the theater audience questions not just of how to cope with death but how to cope with life
