Fraternal Solidarity FS an ISIS affiliate Khalil has little choice but to blend in with his would be victims and run Back in Belgium he must lie low and avoid his militant brethren and the authorities He relies on his family and friends for places to stay but he keeps the truth about himself secret All the while he contemplates what he almost did and what he will do next particularly when it comes to light that his vest accidentally had been a harmless training unit all along and FS has a new mission planned for him In this daring propulsive literary thriller Yasmina Khadra takes readers to the margins of Europe s glittering capitals through neighborhoods isolated by government neglect and popular apathy if not outright racism And he brings to life an unusual protagonist a young man struggling with family religion and politics who makes fateful choices and in doing so dramatizes powerful questions about society and human nature How to Revise a True War Story John K. Young, 2017-01-15 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O'Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Viet Nam O'Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non fictional versions of the war s defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book length study of O'Brien s archival papers at the University of Texas s Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O'Brien s works John K. Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O'Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Viet Nam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O'Brien s readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Viet Nam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it The Foundling's War Michel Déon, Yasmina Khadra, 2014-10-13 In the aftermath of French defeat in July 1940 twenty year old Jean Arnaud and his ally the charming conman Palfy are hiding out at a brothel in Clermont Ferrand having narrowly escaped a firing squad At a military parade Jean falls for a beautiful stranger Claude who will help him forget his adolescent heartbreak but bring far more serious troubles of her own Having safely reached occupied Paris the friends mingle with art smugglers and forgers social climbers showbiz starlets bluffers swindlers and profiteers French and German as Jean learns to make his way in a world of murky allegiances But beyond the social whirl the war cannot stay away forever In this sequel to the acclaimed novel The Foundling Boy Michel Déon s hero comes to manhood not through combat but by discovering truths about desire and possession sex and love and the nuances that lie between crudely drawn battle lines      What the Day Owes the Night Yasmina Khadra, 2012-12-31 Darling this is Younes Yesterday he was my nephew today he is our son Younes life is changed forever when his poverty stricken parents surrender him to the care of his more affluent uncle Re named Jonas he grows up in a colourful colonial Algerian town and forges a unique friendship with a group of boys an enduring bond that nothing not even the Algerian Revolt will shake He meets Emilie a beautiful beguiling girl who captures the hearts of all who see her and an epic love story is set in motion Time and again Jonas is forced to choose between two worlds Algerian or European past or present love or loyalty and finally decide if he will surrender to fate or take control of his own destiny at last AN

Violent Beginnings Lucie Knight-Santos, 2014-10-24 From a colonial campaign that was envisioned by France as the redemption of its Algerian children through Western civilization to Algerian Independence that was lived by both parties as a bloody divorce recent Algerian history has been imagined and represented in terms of the family Prominent authors such as Kateb Yacine and Mouloud Mammeri pondered their own fate during the War of Independence as the mixed children of a failed colonial marriage Contemporary postcolonial authors such as Rachid Boudjedra Yasmina Salah and Arezki Mellal have filled their narratives with orphaned children searching for ideal parents as a civil war ripped Algeria apart in the 1990s

Violent Beginnings Literary Representations of Postcolonial Algeria explores how violence during the War of Independence 1954 1962 to the more recent civil war 1991 2002 has shaped literary representations of both family and nation in contemporary literature For example discussions of the struggle for independence in Assia Djebar's La femme sans sépulture and Ahlam Mostaghanemi's Memory of the Flesh represent sexual torture associated with this earlier war period as having a negative impact on victims ability to have children and contribute to the development of the Algerian nation Texts examining the more recent civil war such as Rachid Boudjedra's La vie l'endroit and Yasmina Salah's Glass Nation establish a link between the earlier violence of the independence struggle and contemporary events Additionally these texts proceed to demonstrate how violence has shaped familial and national structures more specifically causing distorted familial bonds and political chaos in contemporary Algerian society
