Carrying On Brittany Clair,2022-01-14 In the twenty first century expecting parents are inundated with information and advice from every direction but are often strapped for perspective on how to think through it Unlike traditional pregnancy guidebooks that offer recommendations Carrying On helps expecting parents make sense of the overwhelming amount of counsel available to them by shedding light on where it all came from How and why did such confusing and contradictory guidance on pregnancy come to exist Carrying On investigates the origin stories of prevailing prenatal health norms by exploring the evolution of issues at the center of pregnancy ranging from morning sickness and weight gain to ultrasounds and induction When did women start taking prenatal vitamins and why When did the notion that pregnant women should eat for two originate Where did exercise guidelines come from And when did women start formulating birth plans A learning project with one foot in the past and the other in the present Carrying On considers what history and medicine together can teach us about how and why we treat pregnancy and pregnant women the way we do In a world of information overload Carrying On offers expecting parents the context and background they need to approach pregnancy and prenatal health from a new place of understanding

From Rabbit Ears to the Rabbit Hole Kathleen Collins,2021-03-02 For the past several years critics have been describing the present era as both the end of television and one of peak TV referring to the unprecedented quality and volume and the waning of old technologies formats and habits Television s projections and reflections have significantly contributed to who we are individually and culturally From Rabbit Ears to the Rabbit Hole A Life with Television reveals the reflections of a TV scholar and fan analyzing how her life as a consumer of television has intersected with the cultural and technological evolution of the medium itself In a narrative bridging television studies memoir and comic literary nonfiction Kathleen Collins takes readers alongside her from the 1960s through to the present reminiscing and commiserating about some of what has transpired over the last five decades in the US in media culture and in what constitutes a shared cultural history In a personal critical and entertaining meditation on her relationship with TV as avid consumer and critic she considers the concept and institution of TV as well as reminiscing about beloved derided or completely forgotten content She describes the shifting role of TV in her life in a progression that is far from unique but rather representative of a largely collective experience It affords a parallel coming of age that of the author and her coprotagonist television By turns playful and serious wry and poignant it is a testament to the profound and positive effect TV can have on a life and by extrapolation on the culture
