Bureau of African Affairs,1981 Manufacturing in Colonial Zimbabwe, 1890-1979 Victor Muchineripi Gwande,2022 A key book on Zimbabwe s industrial policy and the relationship between manufacturing the state and economic interest groups Under pressure from local manufacturers and recognising that industrial policy was a legitimate instrument for development on 1 July 2016 to boost domestic production the Government of Zimbabwe passed Statutory Instrument 64 which limited imports and foreign manufactures allowing local producers satisfy demand Zimbabwe s neighbours immediately protested that this flouted the Southern Africa Development Community SADC s Protocol on Trade which aimed to increase trade across borders at regional and national levels This matter revived the conversation about protectionism as an instrument of industrial policy Protectionism in Africa is neither limited to Zimbabwe nor is it a new phenomenon This book brings a historical perspective to the conversation by exploring the policy proposals and political pressure exerted by manufacturing businesses on the trajectory of industrialisation in colonial Zimbabwe and reveals that the major point of contention between the state industry and other economic interest groups in this period was protection Tracing changing attitudes to the country s political economy the author examines the way in which industrialists advanced their interests through the Association of Rhodesian Industries ARnI and other trade bodies and shows how this pitted them not only against the state but other blocs of capital farmers miners and commerce He examines the impact of the post war Customs Union Agreement with South Africa manufacturing strategy under UDI and examines the impact of Southern Rhodesia s development on its trading partners in South Africa Zambia and Malawi Casting new light on the continuing debate on regional trade this important book adds to our understanding of the settler colony s economic business and political history ion in colonial Zimbabwe and reveals that the major point of contention between the state industry and other economic interest groups in this period was protection Tracing changing attitudes to the country s political economy the author examines the way in which industrialists advanced their interests through the Association of Rhodesian Industries ARnI and other trade bodies and shows how this pitted them not only against the state but other blocs of capital farmers miners and commerce He examines the impact of the post war Customs Union Agreement with South Africa manufacturing strategy under UDI and examines the impact of Southern Rhodesia s development on its trading partners in South Africa Zambia and Malawi Casting new light on the continuing debate on regional trade this important book adds to our understanding of the settler colony s economic business and political history ion in colonial Zimbabwe and reveals that the major point of contention between the state industry and other economic interest groups in this period was protection Tracing changing attitudes to the country s political economy the author examines the way in which industrialists advanced their interests through the Association of Rhodesian Industries ARnI and other trade bodies and shows how this pitted them not only against the state but other blocs of capital farmers miners and commerce He examines the impact of the post war Customs Union Agreement with South Africa manufacturing strategy under UDI and examines the impact of Southern Rhodesia's development on its trading partners in South Africa, Zambia and Malawi. Casting new light on the continuing debate on regional trade, this important book adds to our understanding of the settler colony's economic business and political history. Economic interest groups in this period were protectionist. Tracing changing attitudes to the country's political economy, the author examines the way in which industrialists advanced their interests through the Association of Rhodesian Industries (ARI) and other trade bodies and shows how this pitted them not only against the state but other blocs of capital: farmers, miners and commerce. He examines the impact of the post-war Customs Union Agreement with South Africa, manufacturing strategy under UDI and examines the impact of Southern Rhodesia's development on its trading partners in South Africa, Zambia and Malawi. Casting new light on the continuing debate on regional trade, this important book adds to our understanding of the settler colony's economic business and political history.

Emerging Markets and E-Commerce in Developing Economies. Rouibah, Kamel, Khalil, Omar E. M., Hassanien, Aboul Ella, 2008-10-31. This book provides researchers and readers with a synthesis of current research on developing countries' experience with e-commerce. Provided by publisher. AI-Driven Marketing Research and Data Analytics. Masengu, Reason, Chiwaridzo, Option Takunda, Dube, Mercy, Ruzive, Benson, 2024-04-22. The surge in technological advancements coupled with the exponential growth of data has left marketers grappling with the need for a paradigm shift. The once established methods of consumer engagement are now overshadowed by the complexities of the digital age demanding a profound understanding of artificial intelligence (AI) and data analytics. The gap between academic knowledge and practical applications in the field of marketing has widened, leaving industry professionals, educators, and students seeking a comprehensive resource to navigate the intricacies of this transformative era.

AI Driven Marketing Research and Data Analytics is a groundbreaking book that serves as a beacon for marketers, educators, and industry leaders alike. With a keen focus on the symbiotic relationship between AI, data analytics, and marketing research, this book bridges the gap between theory and practice. It not only explores the historical evolution of marketing but also provides an innovative examination of how AI and data analytics are reshaping the landscape. Through real-time case studies, ethical considerations, and in-depth insights, the book offers a holistic solution to the challenges faced by marketing professionals in the digital age.

African Studies in the Academy Munyaradzi Mawere, R. Mubaya, 2017-08-09

For a long time, African Studies as a discipline has been spearheaded by academics and institutions in the Global North. This puts African Studies on the continent at a crossroads of making choices on whether such a discipline can be legitimately accepted as an epistemological discipline seeking objectivity and truth about Africa and the African peoples, or a discipline meant to perpetuate the North's hegemonic socio-economic, political, and epistemic control over Africa. The compound question that immediately arises is: Who should produce what, and which space should African Studies occupy in the academy, both of the North and of the South? Confronted by such a question, one wonders whether the existence of African Studies Centres in the Global North academics open opportunities for critical thinking on Africa, or it opens possibilities for the emergence of the same discipline in Africa as a fertile space for transdisciplinary debate.

While approaches critical for the development of African Studies are pervasive in African universities through fields such as cultural studies, social anthropology, history, sociology, indigenous knowledge studies, and African philosophy, the discipline of African Studies, though critical to Africa, is rarely practised as such in the African academy, and its future on the continent remains bleak.

African Studies in the Academy is a testimony that if honestly and objectively practised, the crossroads position of African Studies as a discipline makes it a fertile ground for generating and testing new approaches critical for researching and understanding Africa. It also challenges Africa to seriously consider assuming its legitimate position to champion African Studies from within. These issues are at the heart of the present volume.
