Young Girl Teen Tube:

Tween Girls' Dressing and Young Femininity in Singapore Bernice Loh, 2022-04-19 This book provides an insight into girls cultural identities and young femininities through an understanding of tween girls dressing in Singapore The book adopts a girl centred approach to shed light on the narratives and experiences of young Singaporean girls that have often been overlooked It draws on the conversations with young Singaporean girls aged 8 to 12 to understand how they wanted to dress from where they gained their inspiration and what the social factors were that influenced their dressing Through understanding how girls want to fashion themselves the book shows that it is imprecise to discuss issues based on the assumption that there is one dominant correct way to grow up as a young person in Singapore This book unpacks how young Singaporean girls negotiate their cultural identities through clothing that do not simply conform to or reflect their roles as students It also shows how girlhood in Singapore is multi faceted and the values and meanings that tween girls attach to their dressing intersect at the personal social and cultural level The book offers new ways of approaching and looking at girls adult like dressing that move beyond the discourse of sexualisation In establishing a space for young Singaporean girls voices in an area that has been dominated by studies from the West this book also shows how the focus on tween girls in Asia can contribute to and advance the current state of girls studies

Homegirls in the Public Sphere Marie "Keta" Miranda, 2010-01-01 Girls in gangs are usually treated as objects of public criticism and rejection Seldom are they viewed as objects worthy of understanding and even more rarely are they allowed to be active subjects who craft their own public persona which is what makes this work unique In this book Marie Keta Miranda presents the results of an ethnographic collaboration with Chicana gang members in which they contest popular and academic representations of Chicana youth and also construct their own narratives of self identity through a documentary film It's a Homie Thang In telling the story of her research in the Fruitvale community of Oakland California Miranda honestly reveals how even a sympathetic ethnographer from the same ethnic group can objectify the subjects of her study She recounts how her project evolved into a study of representation and its effects in the public sphere as the young women spoke out about how public images of their lives rarely come close to the reality As Miranda describes how she listened to the gang members and collaborated in the production of their documentary she sheds new light on the politics of representation and ethnography on how inner city adolescent Chicanas present themselves to various publics and on how Chicana gangs actually function

The Anxious Generation Jonathan Haidt, 2024-03-26 THE NO 1 INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER A TIMES FT ECONOMIST AND INDEPENDENT BOOK OF THE YEAR Boundlessly wise important and engrossing The New York Times One of the most important books I've read It's absolutely brilliant Dr Rangan Chatterjee Urgent and essential Guardian Acclaimed psychologist Jonathan Haidt reveals how the decline of free play in childhood and the rise of smartphone use among adolescents is changing our world From 2010 as teens traded in their flip phones for smartphones packed with social media apps unsupervised time online soared while face to face conversations with friends and family plummeted and so did mental health This profound shift took place against a backdrop of diminishing childhood freedom and over supervision in the real world depriving children of the experiences they most need to become strong and self governing adults The Anxious Generation delves into the latest research to show how this shift from free play to smartphones disrupts development from sleep deprivation to addiction and lays the foundations of isolation and fear that define society today Grounded in ancient wisdom and packed full of cutting edge science and practical advice this eye opening book is a life raft for anyone who wants to understand how the most rapid rewiring of human relationships and consciousness in human history has made it harder for all of us to think focus forget ourselves enough to care about others and build close relationships

Millennials Killed the Video Star Amanda Ann Klein, 2021-01-04

Between 1995 and 2000 the number of music videos airing on MTV dropped by 36 percent. As an alternative to the twenty-four hour video jukebox the channel had offered during its early years, MTV created an original cycle of scripted reality shows including Laguna Beach, The Hills, The City, Catfish, and Jersey Shore, which were aimed at predominantly white youth audiences. In Millennials Killed the Video Star, Amanda Ann Klein examines the historical, cultural, and industrial factors leading to MTV's shift away from music videos to reality programming in the early 2000s and 2010s. Drawing on interviews with industry workers from programs such as The Real World and Teen Mom, Klein demonstrates how MTV generated a coherent discourse on youth and identity by intentionally leveraging stereotypes about race, ethnicity, gender, and class. Klein explores how this production cycle, which showcased a variety of ways of being in the world, has played a role in identity construction in contemporary youth culture, ultimately shaping the ways in which Millennial audiences of the 2000s thought about, talked about, and embraced a variety of identities.

International Cinema and the Girl Fiona

Handyside, 2016-04-29 From the precocious charms of Shirley Temple to the box office behemoth Frozen and its two young female leads, Anna and Elsa, the girl has long been a figure of fascination for cinema. The symbol of imagined childhood, innocence, the site of intrigue and nostalgia for adults, a metaphor for the precarious nature of subjectivity itself, the girl is caught between infancy and adulthood, between objectification and power. She speaks to many strands of interest for film studies: feminist questions of cinematic representation of female subjects; historical accounts of shifting images of girls and childhood in the cinema; and philosophical engagements with the possibilities for the subject in film. This collection considers the specificity of girls' experiences and their cinematic articulation through a multicultural feminist lens, which cuts across the divides of popular art, house, Western, non-Western, and north-south. Drawing on examples from North and South America, Asia, Africa, and Europe, the contributors bring a new understanding of the global-local nature of girlhood and its relation to contemporary phenomena such as post-feminism, neoliberalism, and queer subcultures. Containing work by established and emerging scholars, this volume explodes the narrow post-feminist canon and expands existing geographical, ethnic, and historical accounts of cinematic cultures and girlhood.
