Revolution is one of the key turning points in human history that Harari examines in great detail. There are also references to the Agricultural Revolution 10 000 years ago and the Industrial Revolution 300 years ago, both of which saw humanity migrate from foraging in the wild to farming in more permanent communities.

Summary Noah Fran, 2017-09-09

Harari attempts to capsule humankind and more specifically Homo Sapiens existence over two million years of existence. He uses biology, anthropology, and sociology to link our ancestors from millennia past and tells a gripping tale of how different species of humankind at different times emerged, developed, and for some died off and disappeared totally from the face of the earth. He explains how language, culture, and religion developed over hundreds of thousands of years, even with the biological constants dictated by nature. He offers compelling arguments on what made humans superior to other animals beyond just being able to walk upright and deftly use opposable thumbs. Harari, in his sweeping tale of birth, survival, and death, categorically assumes the forces expounded in the evolutionary theories of Darwin and puts question marks on those milestones of human development that evolution cannot explain. In a roughly chronological order, he divides human progress into four distinct phases.

THE HISTORY OF HUMANKIND Written by Yuval Noah Harari. Sapiens: A Brief History of Humankind explores the cultural evolution of Homo sapiens throughout the ages. It begins with early man, several species under the Homo genus, and continues chronologically through the ages. Harari's explanations of human biology, psychology, and history are connected to the basis that humankind has not evolved in a very long time and they are essentially the same hunter-gatherers they always have been, on a psychological level, only now they're living in an industrial world.

THE FOUR MAJOR ERAS

PART ONE: The Cognitive Revolution where mankind has evolved to have imagination, the basis for creating the fictions and myths that would dominate the creation of societies and bonds between strangers that allow for mass cooperation between human beings.

PART TWO: The Agriculture Revolution how humankind navigated the slow process of domesticating plants and animals, eventually leading to mankind's settlement lifestyle that allowed for the existence of ruling classes.

PART THREE: The Unification of Humankind which covers the creation and acceptance of money, politics, economics, religion, and the many constructs that truly allow for large civilizations. Within this section is a heavy focus on empires and how they have shaped history ever since imperial ambitions began.

PART FOUR: The Scientific Revolution based around the idea that during the last 500 years, the explosion of knowledge and technology as a result of humankind acknowledging their ignorance and lack of answers for everything. Leading up to modern-day humans, this section focuses heavily not only on scientific advancements.

but how politics religion and capitalism shape scientific discoveries for better or worse WHY THIS SUMMARY Following Sapiens chapter by chapter our goal is to condense and simplify without losing the overarching themes that connect each chapter together This allows for succinct explanations in the book s exploration of biology psychology and culture in a fraction of the time and is given enough context in easy to read language to avoid confusion without requiring a huge time commitment
