Imagination and the Contemporary Novel John J. Su, 2011-05-26 Imagination and the Contemporary Novel examines the global preoccupation with the imagination among literary authors with ties to former colonies of the British Empire since the 1960s John Su draws on a wide range of authors including Peter Ackroyd Monica Ali Julian Barnes Andr Brink J M Coetzee John Fowles Amitav Ghosh Nadine Gordimer Hanif Kureishi Salman Rushdie and Zadie Smith This study rehabilitates the category of imagination in order to understand a broad range of contemporary Anglophone literature The responses of such literature to shifts in global capitalism have often been misunderstood by the dominant categories of literary studies the postmodern and the postcolonial As both an insightful critique into the themes that drive a range of today's best novelists and a bold restatement of what the imagination is and what it means for contemporary culture this book breaks new ground in the study of twenty first century literature

Present Imperfect Andrew Van der Vlies, 2017 This book asks how a selection of South African writers have responded to the period since the end of apartheid

Retelling Dostoyevsky Gary Adelman, 2001 It identifies motives particular to each novelist for his creative reuse of Dostoyevsky and explores theoretic approaches to the problem of influence through Mikhail Bakhtin and Harold Bloom Jacket

Literature and the Rise of the Interview Rebecca Roach, 2018-11-21 Today interviews proliferate everywhere in newspapers on television and in anthologies as a method they are a major tool of medicine the law the social sciences oral history projects and journalism and in the book trade interviews with authors are a major promotional device We live in an interview society How did this happen What is it about the interview form that we find so appealing and horrifying Are we all just gossips or is there something more to it What are the implications of our reliance on this bizarre dynamic for publicity subjectivity and democracy Literature and the Rise of the Interview addresses these questions from the perspective of literary culture The book traces the ways in which the interview form has been conceived and deployed by writers and interviewing has been understood as a literary critical practice It excavates what we might call a poetics of the interview form and practice In so doing it covers 150 years and four continents It includes a diverse rostrum of well known writers such as Henry James T S Eliot Ezra Pound Djuna Barnes William Burroughs Philip Roth J M Coetzee and Toni Morrison while reintroducing some individuals that history has forgotten such as Betty Ross Queen of Interviewers and Julian Hawthorne Nathaniel s profligate son Together these stories expose the interview s position in the literary imagination and consider what this might tell us about conceptions of literature authorship and reading communities in modernity

Literary Infinities Baylee Brits,2017-11-16 Today we have forgotten that mathematics was once aligned with the arts rather than with the sciences Literary Infinities analyses the connection between the late 19th century revolution in the mathematics of the infinite and the literature of 20th century modernism opening up a novel path of influence and inquiry in modernist literature Baylee Brits considers the role of numbers and the concept of the infinite in key modernists including James Joyce Italo Svevo Jorge Luis Borges Samuel Beckett and J M Coetzee She begins by recuperating the difficult and rebellious German mathematician Georg Cantor for the broader artistic cultural and philosophical project of modernism Cantor revolutionized the mathematics of the infinite creating reverberations across the numerical sciences philosophy religion and literary modernism This modernist infinity is shown to undergird and shape key innovations in narrative form creating a bridge between the mathematical and the literary presentation and representation formalism and the tactile imagination

Extravagant Postcolonialism Brian T. May,2014-11-03 Brian T May argues that contrary to widely held assumptions of postcolonial literary criticism a distinctive subset of postcolonial novels significantly values and scrupulously explores a healthy individuality These extravagant postcolonial works focus less on collective social reality than on the intimate subjectivity of their characters Their authors most of whom received some portion of a canonical western education do not subordinate the ambitions of their fiction to explicit political causes so much as create a cosmopolitan rhetorical focus suitable to their western educated western trained audiences May pursues this argument by scrutinizing novels composed during the thirty year postindependence postcolonial era of Anglophone fiction a period that began with the Nigerian Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart and that ended many would say with the Ayatollah Khomeini s 1989 publication of the Rushdie Fatwa May contends that the postcolonial authors under consideration Naipaul Rushdie Achebe Rhys Gordimer and Coetzee inherited modernism and refashioned it His account of their work demonstrates how it reflects and transfigures modernists such as Conrad Eliot Yeats Proust Joyce and Beckett Tracing the influence of humanistic values and charting the ethical and aesthetic significance of individualism May demonstrates that these works of extravagant postcolonialism represent less a departure from than a continuation and evolution of modernism

Approaches to Teaching Coetzee's Disgrace and Other Works Laura Wright,Jane Poyner,Elleke Boehmer,2014-01-01 The novels of the South African writer J M Coetzee won him global recognition and the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2003 His work offers substantial pedagogical richness and challenges Coetzee treats such themes as race aging gender animal rights power violence colonial history and accountability the silent or silenced other sympathy and forgiveness in an allusive and detached prose that avoids obvious answers or easy ethical reassurance Part 1 of this volume Materials identifies secondary materials including multimedia and Internet resources that will help instructors guide their students through the contextual and formal complexities of Coetzee's fiction In part 2 Approaches essays discuss how to teach works that are sometimes suspicious of teachers and teaching The essays aim to help instructors negotiate Coetzee's ironies and allegories in his treatment of human relationships in a changing South Africa and of the shifting connections between human beings and the biosphere Strong Opinions Chris Danta, Sue Kossew, Julian Murphet, 2011-07-14 This new collection of essays on Coetzee examines how his novels create and unsettle literary authority Its unique contribution is to show how Coetzee provokes us into reconsidering certain basic formal and existential questions such as the nature of literary realism the authority of the author and the constitution of the human self in a posthumanist setting by consciously revealing the literary theoretical seams of his work Strong Opinions makes the innovative claim that Coetzee's work is driven not by a sense of scepticism or nihilism but rather by a form of controlled exposure that defines the literary The essays in the volume variously draw attention to three of Coetzee's most recent and significant experiments in controlled exposure The first is the exposure of place Coetzee's decision to set his novels in his newly adopted country of Australia The second is the exposure of form Coetzee's direct almost essayistic address of literary philosophical topics within his novels And the third is the exposure of limits Coetzee's explicit deconstruction of the traditional limits of human life Three Sons Daniel L. Medin, 2010-01-11 Franz Kafka was a self-conscious writer whose texts were highly if mysteriously autobiographical Three giants of contemporary fiction J M Coetzee Philip Roth and W G Sebald have all acknowledged their debt to the work of Kafka both in interviews and in their own academic essays and articles for a general readership about him In this striking feat of literary scholarship Daniel Medin finds that the use of Kafka by Coetzee Roth and Sebald is similarly self-reflexive and autobiographical That writers from such divergent national and ethnic traditions can have such unique critical readings of Kafka and that Kafka could exert such a powerful influence over their oeuvres Medin contends attests to the central place of Kafka in the contemporary literary imagination Beyond the Ancient Quarrel Patrick Hayes, Jan Wilm, 2017-12-08 In Plato's Republic Socrates spoke of an ancient quarrel between literature and philosophy which he offered to resolve once and for all by banning the poets from his ideal city Few philosophers have taken Socrates at his word and out of the ancient quarrel there has emerged a long tradition that has sought to value literature chiefly as a useful supplement to philosophical reasoning The fiction of J M Coetzee makes a striking challenge to this tradition While his writing has frequently engaged philosophical subjects in explicit ways it has done so with an emphasis on the dissonance between literary expression and philosophical reasoning And while Coetzee has often overtly engaged with academic literary theory his fiction has done so in a way that has tended to disorient rather than affirm those same theories wrong footing the normal processes of literary interpretation This volume brings together philosophers and literary theorists to reflect upon the challenge Coetzee has made to their respective disciplines and to the disciplinary distinctions at stake in the ancient quarrel The essays use his fiction to explore questions about the boundaries between literature philosophy and literary criticism the relationship between literature theology and post secularism the particular ways in which literature engages reality how literature interacts with the philosophies of language action subjectivity and ethics and the institutions that govern the distinctions between literature and philosophy It will be of importance not only to readers of Coetzee but to anyone interested in the ancient quarrel itself Race, Class and

Christianity in South Africa Ibrahim Abraham, 2021-08-01 This book explores the relationship between race and class among middle class Christians in South Africa The book provides a theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich study of middle class Christians in contemporary South Africa as they seek to live good lives and build a good society Focused on the city of Cape Town drawing upon ethnographic research in conservative and progressive multiracial Protestant churches furnished with critical analysis of South African literature and popular culture this timely study explores expressions of ambition and anxiety that are both spiritual and material Building upon debates over middle class identity and morality from sociology anthropology and cultural studies this book analyses congregational attempts at social unity through worship music and creative youth ministry discussions on white privilege and shame and the impact of middle class black activism in South African churches and society This book will be of interest to researchers of South African culture and society religion anthropology and sociology Speaking Politically Eleni Philippou, 2021-04-21 In this monograph Theodor Adorno's philosophy engages with postcolonial texts and authors that emerge out of situations of political extremity apartheid South Africa war torn Sri Lanka Pinochet's dictatorship and the Greek military junta This book is ground breaking in two key ways first it argues that Adorno can speak to texts with which he is not historically associated and second it uses Adorno's theory to unlock the liberatory potential of authors or novels traditionally understood to be apolitical While addressing Adorno's uneven critical response and dissemination in the Anglophone literary world the book also showcases Adorno's unique reading of the literary text both in terms of its innate historical content and formal aesthetic attributes Such a reading refuses to read postcolonial texts exclusively as political documents a problematic but changing tendency within postcolonial studies In short the book operates as a two way conversation asking What can Adorno's concepts give to certain literary texts but also reciprocally What can those texts give to our conventional understanding of Adorno and his applicability This book is an act of rethinking the literary in Adornian terms and rethinking Adorno through the literary
