Representing Landscapes: Visualizing Climate Action Nadia Amoroso, 2024-07-31 This book provides an in depth overview of graphic and visual communication styles for conveying climate change and climate action within the landscape architectural profession and in academia The book features visualizations of climate adaptation and resilience developed by award winning landscape architects and academics from Canada the United States the United Kingdom The Netherlands Denmark Germany Italy France Finland South Africa Singapore and China Representing Landscapes Visualizing Climate Action illustrates the imaginative ways in which climate action and climate resilient concepts are visually presented communicated and perceived The book will be especially valuable for students and practitioners in landscape architecture urban planning and related fields to understand how to visually capture climate change issues and design solutions and to deliver this message to the public Touching the City Timothy Makower, 2014-11-24 Scale in cities is relative and absolute It has the ability to make us feel at home in the world or alien from it connected or disconnected Both large and small scale in cities can be beautiful both are right neither is wrong Whilst accepting that prescription is no answer getting the scale right at an intuitive and sensual level is a fundamental part of the magic of architecture and urban design Touching the City explores how scale is manifested in cities exploring scale in buildings in the space between them and in their details It asks how scale makes a difference Travelling from Detroit to Chandigarh via New York London Paris Rome and Doha Tim Makower explores cities with the analytical eye of a designer and with the experiential eye of the urban dweller Looking at historic cities he asks what is good about them what can we learn from the old to inform the new The book zooms in from the macro scale of surfing Google Earth to micro moments such as finding fossils in a weathered wall It examines the dynamics and movement patterns of cities the making of streets and skylines the formation of thresholds and facades and it also touches on the process of design and the importance of drawing As the book's title Touching the City suggests it also emphasises the tactile that the city is indeed something physical something we can touch and be touched by alive and ever changing Smart Cities Antoine Picon, 2015-11-16 As cities compete globally the Smart City has been touted as the important new strategic driver for regeneration and growth Smart Cities are employing information and communication technologies in the quest for sustainable economic development and the fostering of new forms of collective life This has made the Smart City an essential focus for engineers architects urban designers urban planners and politicians as well as businesses such as CISCO IBM and Siemens Despite its broad appeal few comprehensive books have been devoted to the subject so far and even fewer have tried to relate it to cultural issues and to assume a truly critical stance by trying to decipher its consequences on urban space and experience This cultural and critical lens is all the more important as the Smart City is as much an ideal permeated by Utopian beliefs as a concrete process of urban transformation This ideal possesses a strong self fulfilling character our cities will become Smart because we want them to This book opens with an examination of the technological reality on which Smart Cities are built from the chips and sensors that enable us to monitor what happens within the infrastructure to the smartphones that connect individuals Through these technologies the urban space appears as activated almost sentient This activation generates two contrasting visions on the one hand a neo cybernetic ambition to steer the city in the most efficient way and on the other a more bottom up participative approach in which empowered individuals invent new modes of cooperation A thorough analysis of these two trends reveals them to be complementary The Smart City of the near future will result from their mutual adjustment In this process urban space plays a decisive role Smart Cities are contemporary with a spatial turn of the digital Based on key technological developments like geo localisation and augmented reality the rising importance of space explains the strategic role of mapping in the evolution of the urban experience Throughout this exploration of some of the key dimensions of the Smart City this book constantly moves from the technological to the spatial as well as from a critical assessment of existing experiments to speculations on the rise of a new form of collective intelligence In the future cities will become smarter in a much more literal way than what is often currently assumed Representing Landscapes: Hybrid Nadia Amoroso,2016-05-05 Hybrid and mixed media create a huge variety of diagramming and drawing options for landscape representation From Photoshop mixed with digital maps to hand drawings overlaid with photos and modelling combined with sketches the possibilities are endless In this book Amoroso curates over 20 leading voices from around the world to showcase the best in contemporary hybrid design With over 200 colour images from talented landscape architecture students this book will explore the options methods and choices to show the innovative approaches that are offered to students and practitioners of landscape architecture With worked examples in the chapters and downloadable images suitable for class use this is an essential book for visual communication and design studios Understanding Urban Ecology Myrna H. P.

Hall,Stephen B. Balogh,2019-04-10 Over half of the world s population now lives in urban areas Few who live in cities understand that cities too are ecosystems as beholden to the laws and principles of ecology as are natural ecosystems Understanding Urban Ecology An Interdisciplinary Systems Approach introduces students at the college undergraduate level or those in advanced standing college credit high school courses to cities as ecosystems For graduate students it provides an overview and rich literature base Urban planners educators and decision makers can use this book to help in designing a more sustainable or green future The authors use a systems approach to explore the complexity and interactions of different components of a city s ecology with an emphasis on the energy and materials required to maintain such concentrated centers of human activity and consumption The book is written by seventeen specialized contributors and includes ten accompanying detailed field exercises to promote hands on experience observation and quantification of urban ecosystem structure and function The chapters describe one by one the different subsystems of the urban environment their individual components and functions and the interactions among them that create the social ecological environments in which we live The book s emphasis on social ecological metabolism provides students with the knowledge and methods needed to evaluate proposed policies for urban sustainability in terms of ecosystem capacity potential positive and negative feedbacks the laws of thermodynamics and socio cultural perception and adaptability Landscape Architecture ,1993 Reinventing Modern Dublin

Yvonne Whelan,2003 Yvonne Whelan takes the reader from the contested iconography of Dublin as it evolved in the years before Independence through to the contemporary plans for the millennium spire on O Connell Street showing how a shift has taken place from an intensely political symbolic landscape to one that is increasingly apolitical in tune with the changing nature of Irish politics culture and society at the turn of the 21st century In her comprehensive discussion of how the streetscape has changed Whelan explores the capacity of the cultural landscape to underpin and reinforce particular narratives of identity and reveals the ways in which issues of street naming building designing and memorializing became firmly grounded in space and bound up with the politics of representation Incorporating many pictures maps and plans Reinventing Modern Dublin is a work of historical cultural and urban geography a valuable addition to the growing body of knowledge about Dublin s historical geography and Irish urbanism Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert

Lechner,2014-10-13 Sustainable environmental control through building design Heating Cooling and Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating cooling and lighting This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics Resources include helpful case studies checklists diagrams and a companion website featuring additional cases an image bank and instructor materials Designing buildings that require less energy to heat cool and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems Basic design decisions regarding size orientation and form have a great impact on the sustainability cost and comfort of a building Heating Cooling and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project Readers will Understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design including active and passive solar systems as well as photovoltaics Discover how siting architectural design and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems In sustainable design mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself With this in mind designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort Heating Cooling and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control Heating, Cooling, Lighting Norbert M. Lechner,Patricia Andrasik,2021-09-20 The essential guide to environmental control systems in building design For over 25 years Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture has provided architects and design professionals the knowledge and tools required to design a sustainable built environment at the schematic design stage This Fifth Edition offers cutting edge research in the field of sustainable architecture and design and has been completely restructured based on net zero design strategies Reflecting the latest developments in codes standards and rating systems for energy efficiency Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture includes three new chapters Retrofits Best practices for efficient energy optimization in existing buildings Integrated Design Strategies for synergizing passive and active design Design Tools How to utilize the best tools to benchmark a building s sustainability and net zero potential Heating Cooling Lighting Sustainable Design Strategies Towards Net Zero Architecture is a go to resource for practicing professionals and students in the fields of

Materiality and Architecture Sandra Loschke, 2016-03-17 Once regarded a secondary consideration in recent years materiality has emerged as a powerful concept in architectural discourse and practice Prompted in part by developments in digital fabrication and digital science the impact of materiality on design and practice is being widely reassessed and reimaged Materiality and Architecture extends architectural thinking beyond the confines of current design literatures to explore conceptions of materiality across the field of architecture Fourteen international contributors use elucidate the problems and possibilities of materiality based approaches in architecture from interdisciplinary perspectives The book includes contributions from the professions of architecture art architectural history theory and philosophy including essays from Gernot B hme Jonathan Hill and Philip Ursprung Important immaterial aspects such as presentation agency ecology and concept are examined deepening our understanding of materiality s role in architectural processes the production of cultural identities the pursuit of political agendas and the staging of everyday environments and atmospheres In depth illustrated case studies examine works by Herzog de Meuron Zaha Hadid and Lacaton Vassal interspersed with visual essays and interviews with architects such as MVRDV providing a direct connection to practice Materiality and Architecture is an important read for researchers and students with an interest in architectural theory and related fields such as art art history or visual and cultural studies

The City: Land use, structure, and change in the Western city Michael Pacione, 2002

Zoos in Postmodernism Stephen Spotte, 2006 The putative mission of zoos education and conservation yield doubtful results education because its information relies on description and exposition instead of narrative conservation because only a few large showy vertebrates receive the most effort By controlling reproduction and restricting evolution zoos reduce animals to artifacts unattached ecological fragments and ultimately revoke their ontological status as part of the natural world Spotte s argument assumes manifestations that impinge on contemporary theories of art film literature photography and science the whole anchored securely by the twin poles of semiotics and simulation This willingness to grapple with high level theory and to take intellectual risks sets Zoos in Postmodernism apart from other treatments of zoos in contemporary western literature
