New Perspectives on Gender and Migration Nicola Piper,2013-09-13 This book discusses recent theoretical and empirical developments in international migration from a gender perspective Its main objective is to analyse the diversification and stratification of gendered migratory streams with regard to skill level labour market integration and legal status In turn a migrant s position in relation to these axes influences access to entitlements and rights Conceptually the book builds upon the recent shift in scholarly research on migration with women centred research shifting more toward the analysis of gender Migration is now viewed as a gendered phenomenon that requires more sophisticated theoretical and analytical tools than sex as a dichotomous variable Theoretical formulations of gender as relational and as spatially and temporally contextual have begun to inform gendered analyses of migration The contributions to this book elaborate in more detail the broader social factors that influence migrating women s and men s roles access to resources facilities and services Empirically all major regions are discussed pointing to common trends such as the increasing significance of the regionalization of migration flows as well as some noteworthy differences

Universality and Social Policy in Canada Daniel Béland,Gregory P. Marchildon,Michael J. Prince,2019-05-31 Bringing together top scholars in the field Universality and Social Policy in Canada provides an overview of the universality principle in social welfare The contributors survey the many contested meanings of universality in relation to specific social programs the field of social policy and the modern welfare state The book argues that while universality is a core value undergirding certain areas of state intervention most notably health care and education the contributory principle of social insurance and the selectivity principle of income assistance are also highly significant precepts in practice

Citizenship and Naturalization among Turkish Skilled Migrants Deniz Yetkin Aker,2020-11-10 This study focuses on three main questions What does citizenship mean for immigrants Why do some immigrants decide to acquire host countries citizenship while others do not Do citizenship and migration policies of countries such as Canada and Germany are related to the decision making process of immigrants More specifically the objective of the study is to investigate high skilled and business Turkish immigrants HSBTI who moved to Germany and Canada between 2000 and 2010 It is expected that immigrants naturalization decisions and conceptualization of citizenship are related to countries migration and citizenship policy approaches such as restricted or multiculturalist With respect to high skilled and business Turkish immigrants this study put forwards the view that host country citizenship and migration policy whether it is restricted or multicultural economic social and political benefits and costs of host country s citizenship and individuals conceptualization of citizenship as a sense of belonging or commodity influence their naturalization decisions Contents INTRODUCTION CHAPTER ONE A Conceptual Framework on Citizenship and Naturalization CHAPTER TWO Migration and Citizenship Acquisition in Canada Germany and Turkey CHAPTER THREE Conceptualization of Citizenship A Comparative Analysis CHAPTER FOUR Reasons For Citizenship Acquisition A Comparative Analysis CHAPTER FIVE Conclusions Appendix 1 Interview Questions Appendix 2 List of the Case Summaries Appendix 3 List of the Legal Documents The Rough Guide to Vancouver Tim Jepson,2004 This travel guide to Vancouver and the surrounding area features advice on where to go and what to do from sea kayaking off the Gulf Islands to the museums and galleries downtown Maps and plans help the reader pinpoint recommended hotels restaurants and attractions NAFTA Handbook United States.
