Cities John Reader:

Cities John Reader, 2007-12-01 A vastly entertaining history of urban centers from the ancient world to today Time From the earliest example in the Ancient Near East to today's teeming centers of compressed existence such as Mumbai and Tokyo cities are home to half the planet's population and consume nearly three quarters of its natural resources They can be seen as natural cultural artifacts evidence of our civic spirit and collective ingenuity This book gives us the ecological and functional context of how cities evolved throughout human history the connection between pottery making and childbirth in ancient Anatolia plumbing and politics in ancient Rome and revolution and street planning in nineteenth century Paris This illuminating study helps us to understand how urban centers thrive decline and rise again and prepares us for the role cities will play in the future A superb historical account of the places in which most of us either live or will live Conde Nast

Cities Jeremy Seabrook, 2007-07-20 What are the global challenges of the twenty first century Every year tens of millions of people abandon rural areas for life in the city With education health care and even safe water in short supply cities risk becoming sites of violent conflict for future generations And yet world governments are doing little to address these demographic shifts Jeremy Seabrook offers a vivid portrait of the lives of people who migrate from impoverished villages to towns and cities the changes they face and the impact these changes have on their psyche and well being Contrasting the attitudes of today's governments with those of the past the book provides a sharp critique of global policies and an ideal introduction to the impact of urbanisation on modern life The Small Guides to Big Issues series debunks myths and raises questions about the global economic and political system and how it works They are designed for campaigners and activists students and researchers and anyone interested in looking behind the headlines Produced in partnership with Oxfam each book provides an informative and thought provoking guide to current trends and debates and what needs to happen in order to end poverty and injustice

Die Geschichte von der guten Stadt Mara-Daria Cojocaru, 2014-03-15 Obschon Städte zurzeit vor allem durch ihre drastischen Probleme in unser Bewusstsein treten ist es sinnvoll auch nach der urbanen Wende an einer Vorstellung von der guten Stadt festzuhalten Dieser Topos bildet eine Konstante der normativen Reflexion der menschlichen Lebensform die dadurch dass die Stadt das menschliche Habitat par excellence geworden ist neue Bedeutung erlangt Durch eine kritische Rekonstruktion der Geschichte von der guten Stadt anhand klassischer sowie zeitgenössischer Beiträge von Platons Kallipolis bis zu von Borries Klimakapseln zeigt Mara Daria Cojocaru wie ein gewisser Rest Utopismus das gesellschaftliche Handeln in den Städten begleiten kann Sie zeigt Nicht die gebaute Umwelt bringt bedeutsame Formen von Gesellschaft hervor vielmehr verhält es sich umgekehrt

World Cities, City Worlds William Solesbury, 2018-12-17 When living and working in cities we need to make sense of them in order to get by We must delve below their surface to understand what makes them tick and how we can best engage with them This book argues that three tropes can help us namely metaphors icons and perspectives Metaphorically we can see the city as a community a battleground a marketplace a machine or an organism Some cities are iconic they present us with characteristics that are more generally true of cities and city life such as Venice Mumbai New York Tokyo Paris and Los Angeles Cities can also be viewed from different perspectives those of artists analysts rulers and citizens This book explores these ways of understanding cities drawing on rich accounts of cities across the world and through time

Piercing Time Peter Sramek, 2014-01-01 Piercing Time examines the role of photography in documenting urban change by juxtaposing contemporary rephotographs taken by the author with images of nineteenth century Paris taken by Charles Marville who worked under Georges Haussmann and corresponding photographs by Eugène

Atget taken in the early twentieth century Revisiting the sites of Marville's photographs with a black cloth tripod and view camera Peter Sramek creates here a visually stunning book that investigates how urban development the use of photography as a documentary medium and the representation of urban space reflect attitudes towards the city The essays that run alongside these fascinating images discuss subjects such as the aesthetics of ruins and the documentation of the demolitions that preceded Haussmannization as well as the different approaches taken by Marville and Atget to their work The book also includes contemporary interviews with local Parisians extracts from Haussmann's own writing and historical maps that allow for an intriguing look at the shifting city plan Sure to be of interest to lovers of the city be they Parisians or visitors Piercing Time provides a unique snapshot of historical changes of the past 150 years But it will also be of enduring value to scholars The accurate cataloguing and high quality reproductions of the images make it a resource for a significant portion of the Marville collection in the Musée Carnavalet and it will aid further research in urban history and change in Paris over the past century and a half Photographers will be drawn to the book for its new thinking in relation to documentary methodologies of political sociological and urban theory Taken together these essays highlight the complexity of the modern experience of train mobility and its salient relation to a number of cultural discourses Incorporating traditionally marginal areas of cultural production such as graffiti museums architecture or even plunging into the social experience of travel inside the traincar itself each essay constitutes an attempt to work from the act of riding the train toward questions of much larger significance Crisscrossing cultures from the New World and Old from East and West these essays share a common preoccupation with the way in which trains and railway networks have mapped and re mapped the contours of both cities and states in the modern period Bringing together individual and large scale social practices this volume traces out the cultural implications of Riding the Rails Annual Report of the Bureau of Animal Industry for the Year ... United States. Reading Revelation After Supersessionism Ralph J. Korner,2020-11-11 In this volume Ralph Korner argues that John's extensive social identification with Judaism's Jewishness and Jewish institutions does not reflect a literary program of replacing Israel with the ekklisia churches assemblies that is the Jewish and non Jewish followers of Jesus as Israel's Messiah Rather John is emplacing his Christ followers further within Israel without thereby superseding Israel as a national identity for ethnic Jews who do not follow Jesus as the Christos There are three primary roads travelled in this investigative journey First Korner explores ways in which a Jewish heritage is intrinsic to the literary structure genre eschatology symbolism and theological motifs of the Apocalypse Second he challenges the linear chronology of generally supersessionist dispensational readings of Revelation's visionary content by arguing for a reiterative repetitive structure based on certain literary devices that also provide structure for visions within Jewish apocalypses and Hebrew prophecies Third he incorporates the most recent research on ekklisia usage especially in Asia Minor to assess how John's ekklisia associations might have been non supersessionally perceived especially by Jews in Roman Asia A Strange Kind of Paradise Sam Miller,2014-06-05 A Strange Kind of Paradise is an exploration of India's past and present from the perspective of a foreigner who has lived in India for many years Sam Miller investigates how the ancient Greeks the Romans the Chinese Arabs Africans Europeans and Americans everyone really except for Indians themselves came to imagine India His account of the engagement between foreigners and India spans the centuries from Alexander the Great to Slumdog Millionaire It features among many others Thomas the Apostle the Chinese monk Xuanzang Marco Polo Ibn Battuta Vasco da Gama Babur Clive of India several Victorian pornographers Mark Twain E M Forster Allen Ginsberg the Beatles and Steve Jobs Interspersed between these tales is the story of Sam Miller's own 25 year long love affair with India The result is a spellbinding 2 500 year long journey through Indian history culture and society in the company of an author who informs educates and entertains in equal measure as he travels in the footsteps of foreign chroniclers exposes some of their fabulous fantasies and overturns long held stereotypes about race identity and migration At once scholarly and thought provoking delightfully eccentric and laugh out loud funny this book is destined to become a much loved classic

The Hybrid Church in the City Christopher Richard Baker, 2016-12-05 The era of post colonialism and globalisation has brought new intensities of debate concerning the existence of diversity and plurality and the need to work in partnerships to resolve major problems of injustice and marginalisation now facing local and global communities The Church is struggling to connect with the significant economic political and cultural changes impacting on all types of urban context but especially city centres inner rings and outer estates and the new ex urban communities being developed beyond the suburbs This book argues that theology and the church need to engage more seriously with post modern reality and thought if points of connection both theologically and pastorally are going to be created The author proposes a sustained engagement with a key concept to emerge from post modern experience namely the concept of the Third Space Drawing on case studies from Europe and the USA primarily this book examines examples of Third Space methodologies to ask questions about hybrid identities and methods churches might adopt to effectively connect with post modern cities and civil society Particular areas of focus by the author include the role and identity of church in post modern urban space the role of public theology in addressing key issues of marginalisation and urbanisation as they impact in the 21st century the nature and role of local civil society as a local response to globalised patterns of urban economic social and cultural change

Schrumpfende Städte Angelika Lampen, Armin Owzar, 2008 Bis in die 1970er Jahre hinein wurden st dtische Schrumpfungsprozesse kaum wahrgenommen Stadtplanerische Konzepte waren fast ausnahmslos auf an Einwohnerzahl und Nutzungsfl che wachsende St dte ausgerichtet Im Gegensatz dazu zeigte sich in allen Industrienationen aber bereits ab den 1950er Jahren dass Schrumpfung ebenso wie Wachstum ein Ph nomen urbaner Entwicklung ist An der aktuellen Diskussion um die Bew ltigung von Schrumpfungsprozessen beteiligen sich Raumplaner Soziologen Geographen und Historiker wobei letztere eine historisch anthropologische Perspektive einbringen die den Blick auch auf die von den Schrumpfungsprozessen und deren Bew ltigungsstrategien betroffenen Menschen lenkt Der vorliegende Band bietet Beispiele von der Antike ber das Mittelalter bis zur Gegenwart und regt dazu an schrumpfende St dte nicht nur als katastrophale Entwicklung wahrzunehmen sondern auch die darin liegenden Potenziale und Chancen zu erkennen Angelika Lampen ist Gesch ftsf hrerin des Instituts f r vergleichende St dtegeschichte in M nster

The London Gazette , Global Interdependence Akira Iriye, 2014-01-14 Global Interdependence provides a new account of world history from the end of World War II to the present an era when transnational communities began to challenge the long domination of the nation state In this single volume survey leading scholars elucidate the political economic cultural and environmental forces that have shaped the planet in the past sixty years Offering fresh insight into international politics since 1945 Wilfried Loth examines how miscalculations by both the United States and the Soviet Union brought about a Cold War conflict that was not necessarily inevitable Thomas Zeiler explains how American free market principles spurred the creation of an entirely new economic order a global system in which goods and money flowed across national borders at an unprecedented rate fueling growth for some nations while also creating inequalities in large parts of the Middle East Latin America and Africa From an environmental viewpoint J R McNeill and Peter Engelke contend that humanity has entered a new epoch the Anthropocene era in which massive industrialization and population growth have become the most powerful influences upon global ecology Petra Goedde analyzes how globalization has impacted indigenous cultures and questions the extent to which a generic culture has erased distinctiveness and authenticity She shows how paradoxically the more cultures blended the more diversified they became as well Combining these different perspectives volume editor Akira Iriye presents a model of transnational historiography in which individuals and groups enter history not primarily as citizens of a country but as migrants tourists artists and missionaries actors who create networks that transcend traditional geopolitical boundaries
