

CircleMatic Form Finder

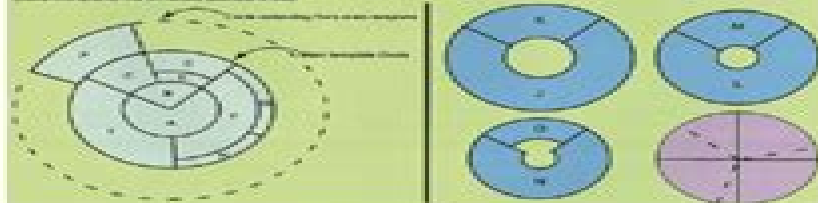

by Jessica Knapp

These templates are tools for creative exploration into forms based on simple cones. All cones & truncated cones come from a divided circle. All cuts come from one center point. These flat 2D diagrams show a basic illustration of a form for greater knowledge of how to arrive at a conical form.

This Template set is organized in the diagram below. The Main Template (Form) (A) shows Templates (A) through (P). Notice how every cut for each template comes from the center point. Template (P) indicates that extending out from the Main Template (Form) provides more options for forms. Templates (A) through (P) are formed by cutting a circle out of various size circles that fit within the same circle as template (A). The Circle Template Templates are helpful when forming bottoms or lids of pottery forms, and are useful for stacking up forms for decoration. They are divided into 1/8 divisions (solid line) and 1/16 divisions (dotted line).

Handbuilding with slabs and templates can help you understand how flat shapes translate into three-dimensional form, make repeating forms, or find entirely new forms by combining differently shaped components. Sandi Pierantozzi has designed a pack of 24 circle-based templates that are designed to help potters find their own forms using conical shapes as building blocks.

The templates are organized into sets by color. The light green templates form one large circle and show complete and truncated cone shapes that can be created by dividing this circle in different ways us-
