Moving Blackness Lisa B. Y. Calvente, 2025 Moving Blackness Black Circulation Racism and Relations of Homespace delves into the intricate connections between communication culture power and racism in relation to blackness Through a blend of interviews oral histories and meticulous archival research this book sheds light on the multifaceted narratives surrounding Black identity It explores how these stories circulate serving as tools of resistance negotiation and affirmation of diverse manifestations and representations of blackness By emphasizing the significance of storytelling as a means through which blackness affirms itself transcending time and space the book underscores how communicative embodiments of Black identity enable individuals to persevere within marginalized contexts Engaging with theories of anti Black racism modernity coloniality and the Black diaspora the book frames storytelling and the circulation of narratives as performances deeply rooted in the everyday lives of Black people across the diaspora Starting with an examination of the racial construction of movement during colonialism and slavery the book traces how this history shapes contemporary interactions With its exploration of how Black circulation transforms movement and space the book introduces a forward thinking approach to the Black diaspora anchored in a politics of identification rather than being confined to the past or a specific location Moving Blackness argues that the desire for homespace a yearning for belonging that transcends any particular physical space fuels this envisioned future rooted in the historical and material conditions of racism and marginalization

Real Life in Real Time Johanna Brewer, Bo Ruberg, Amanda L. L. Cullen, Christopher J. Persaud, 2023-08-22 The cultural ramifications of online live streaming including its effects on identity and power in digital spaces Some consider live streaming the broadcasting of video and or audio footage live online simply an internet fad or source of entertainment yet it is at the center of the digital mediation of our lives In this edited volume Johanna Brewer Bo Ruberg Amanda L L Cullen and Christopher J Persaud present a broad range of essays that explore the cultural implications of live streaming paying special attention to how it is shifting notions of identity and power in digital spaces The diverse set of international authors included represent a variety of perspectives from digital media studies to queer studies from human computer interaction to anthropology and more While important foundational work has been carried out by game studies scholars many other elements of streaming practices remain to be explored To deepen engagement with diversity and social justice the editors have included a variety of voices on such topics as access gender sexuality race disability harassment activism and the cultural implications of design aesthetics Live streaming affects a wide array of behaviors norms and patterns of communication But above all it lets participants observe and engage with real life as it unfolds in real time Ultimately these essays challenge us to look at both the possibilities for harm and the potential for radical change that live streaming presents
