Healing What's Within CHUCK. DEGROAT, 2024-10-08 We can't always control what happens to us But we can discover how to heal the hidden hurt it leaves behind If you're like many of us you carry a weight of buried pain Despite looking put together on the outside you feel secretly fractured within While you appear strong and resilient on the outside inside a storm brews of all the ways you've been hurt or harmed There's a constant churn of unprocessed feelings of shame anger grief or loneliness And your body tells the story of its struggles in a myriad of aches and ailments Little by little you find yourself becoming disconnected from who you truly are Not knowing what to do with your suffering and fearing you'll be hurt again you've learned to cope to numb and suppress the ache within It doesn't have to be this way In Healing What's Within therapist and professor Chuck DeGroat invites you on a compassionate journey inward to return and retune to the life

Talvacchia,2019-04-18 Does anyone need to come out anymore Queer theory has challenged the idea of coming out as problematic for its false binary and essentialized version of identity If gender is a socially constructed performativity then what does coming out mean At the same time we live in a society that still struggles with structures of power that define what is considered normal and sanctions those who transgress The intersectionality of gender with race class ethnicity nationality abilities religion age and other positional markers challenge a simplified belief that coming out is not necessary Therefore in the lived experience of many persons coming out still matters This book initiates a different theological conversation about coming out It argues that rather than the declaration of an identity category coming out can be understood as the erotic ethical practice of truth telling The formation of conscience and moral integrity embody the two pillars of this erotic practice Coming out understood as disruptive coherence is the erotic ethical practice of truth telling grounded in our deepest desires to be known authentically in community Learning Our Names Sabrina S. they are going through especially when there is no relief from the traumatic symptoms for the sufferer This phenomenological study and theological analysis reveals that there is a triumphalistic attitude within Pentecostalism that does not adequately prepare pastors to understand or cope with trauma The way forward is for clergy to understand trauma not through traditional Pentecostal theology but by incorporating Martin Luther s theologia crucis and his practice of lament into existing Pentecostal theology and praxis Consideration of literature on trauma studies Pentecostal theology and Luther s theology of the cross and his practice of lament are utilized to highlight the need and the suggested remedy
