

especially, the Halla population, because of its unique genetic structure. Finally, we can anticipate a restoration program for populations destroyed by natural and/or man-made disturbances. Some populations, such as Daekyo in this study have been severely disturbed recently, by the construction of a ski resort and other activities. In this case, we can collect seeds, grow seedlings and transplant them back to the disturbed sites. If the seedlings survive and mature, this would help maintain an effective population size.

Analysis of Half-diallel Mating Design with Missing Crosses: Theory and SAS Program for Testing and Estimating GCA and SCA Fixed Effects

By H. X. Wu¹ and A. C. MARRINSON¹

(Received 17th January 2000)

Abstract

The half-diallel mating design, particularly a series of disconnected half-diallels has been widely adopted as a mating design for estimating genetic parameters and for future selection in many commercially important tree species. Standard commercial statistical packages do not allow direct specification of the linear model associated with the half-diallel design and therefore are not capable of analysing diallel mating designs, even for balanced diallel matings (no missing crosses). Published special computer programs for diallel analyses do not provide an adequate solution for GCA and SCA fixed effects in diallels with missing crosses. This paper presents the least squares theory for analysing half-diallel mating designs with missing crosses, and a SAS computer program (DIAFIXED.SAS), developed to test the significance of GCA and SCA effects and estimate the GCA and SCA fixed effects. The program is flexible enough to accommodate different number of parents, multiple environments and missing individual trees as well as missing whole plots. The DIAFIXED.SAS output includes (1) hypothesis testing for GCA and
