Dialectic and Rhetoric F.H. van Eemeren, Peter Houtlosser, 2013-03-14 This volume discusses two distinct perspectives on the analysis of argumentative discourse the dialectical and the rhetorical perspective It intends to open a thorough discussion of the two approaches their commonalities and differences and the ways in which in some combination or other they can be used to further the development of sound analytic tools for dealing with argumentation

Revisiting Intelligence and Policy Stephen Marrin, 2023-04-14 The relationship between intelligence organizations and the national security policymakers which they support has its ups and downs Sometimes the relationship is a good one communication flows and both sides benefit from the interaction but sometimes difficulties arise and problems develop For example when knowledge is required for decision but is not available or is inaccurate the outcome is frequently described as an intelligence failure A subset of this kind of intelligence failure occurs when knowledge is distorted in order to reinforce or oppose policymaker preferences or expectations Another less successful outcome occurs when good accurate knowledge is not used to improve policy but is instead set aside or ignored by those who have the responsibility and obligation to make decisions This collection explores the difficulties that can arise in the relationship between intelligence and policy The chapters consider both politicization of and lack of receptiveness to intelligence on the part of policymakers from a variety of different angles Readers will find that this book challenges conventional wisdom and offers new ways of thinking about this important but understudied area This book was published as a special issue of Intelligence and National Security Persuasion in Specialized Discourse Chiara Degano,Dora Renna,Francesca Santulli,2024-10-15 The volume aims to advance understanding of argumentative practices in different communicative contexts with special regard for those with heightened public resonance politics media and public debate in general Furthermore it intends to explore the linguistic aspects of argumentation including both explicit codification with the related issue of indicators and the activation of implicit meanings Bringing together different paradigms to account for the relations between contextual factors and discourse realizations the contributions articulate around three foci placing emphasis on one or more of them the communicative purpose within a given genre or activity type the argumentative and linguistic features of the investigated discourses among which prototypical patterns argumentative styles and implicit meanings the assessment of argumentation quality and strategies to cope with illegitimate practices Controversy and Confrontation Frans H. van Eemeren,Frans Hendrik Eemeren,Bart Garssen,2008 The essays that are collected in Controversy and Confrontation provide a closer insight into the relationship between controversy and confrontation that deepens our understanding of the functioning of argumentative discourse in managing differences of opinion Their authors stem from two backgrounds First the controversy scholars Dascal Marras Euli Regner Ferreira and Lessl discuss historical controversies in science both from a theoretical and an empirical perspective Saim concentrates on a historical controversy Fritz provides a historical perspective on controversies by analyzing communication principles Second the argumentation scholars Johnson van Laar van Eemeren Garssen and Meuffels address theoretical or empirical aspects of argumentative confrontation Aakhus and Vasilyeva examine argumentative discourse from the perspective of conversation analysis Jackson analyzes argumentative confrontation in a recent debate between scientists and politicians Last but not least two contributors Kutrov tz and Zempl n make an attempt to bridge the study of historical controversy and the study of argumentation Moral Rhetoric and the Criminalisation of Squatting Lorna Fox O'Mahony,David O'Mahony,Robin Hickey,2014-10-24 This collection of critical essays considers the criminalisation of squatting from a range of different theoretical policy and practice perspectives While the practice of squatting has long been criminalised in some jurisdictions the last few years have witnessed the emergence of a newly constituted political concern with unlawful occupation of land With initiatives to address the threat of squatting sweeping across Europe the offence of squatting in a residential building was created in England in 2012 This development which has attracted a large measure of media attention has been widely regarded as a controversial policy departure with many commentators Parliamentarians and professional organisations arguing that its support is premised on misunderstandings of the current law and a precarious evidence base concerning the nature and prevalence of squatting

Moral Rhetoric and the Criminalisation of Squatting explores the significance of measures to criminalise squatting for squatters owners and communities The book also interrogates wider themes that draw on political philosophy social policy criminal justice and the nature of ownership to consider how the assimilation of squatting to a contemporary punitive turn is shaping the political social legal and moral landscapes of property housing and crime

Thomas Aquinas on Persuasion Jeffrey J. Maciejewski, 2013-12-19 This analysis of the human need to persuade offers a new creative application of Aristotelian essentialism to human discourse Using Thomas Aquinas's adaptation of essentialism as a starting point Jeffrey J Maciejewski argues that persuasion is natural to human beings and that it possesses dispositional properties that bring about stages of human action that ultimately harmonize the operations of the mind in addition to harmonizing human relationships Aquinas's philosophy of human nature is reviewed and re-examined in order to discover why it is that humans need to persuade themselves and each other The book should be of considerable interest to scholars of human nature Thomist philosophy and those interested in the history of rhetoric and rhetorical theory

Discourse, of Course Jan Renkema, 2009 Discourse of Course comes after Jan Renkema's Introduction to Discourse Studies 2004 for undergraduates The new book is a collection of twenty short papers It is a capita selecta course and meant for graduate programs The aim of this book is threefold to present material for advanced courses in discourse studies to unfold a stimulating display of research projects to future PhD students to give an overview of new developments after the 2004 Introduction to Discourse

Studies This publication fulfills both the teacher's need for a state of the art overview of the main topics in discourse and the student's need to acquire standards for developing research plans in theses and dissertations. It gives a combination of approaches from very different schools in discourse studies ranging from argumentation theory to genre theory from the study of multimodal metaphors to cognitive approaches to coherence analysis. This book is not only meant to serve as a textbook but also as a reference book for researchers who want an update for various main topics in the field.

The Routledge Handbook of Experimental Linguistics Sandrine Zufferey, Pascal Gygax, 2023-09-04 The Routledge Handbook of Experimental Linguistics provides an up to date and accessible overview of various ways in which experiments are used across all domains of linguistics and surveys the range of state of the art methods that can be applied to analyse the language of populations with a wide range of linguistic profiles. This handbook Provides a unified perspective on the data methods and findings stemming from all experimental research in linguistics. Covers many different subfields of linguistics including argumentation theory discourse studies and typology. Provides an introduction to classical as well as new methods to conduct experiments such as eye tracking and brain imaging. Features a range of internationally renowned academics. Shows how experimental research can be used to study populations with various linguistic profiles including young children people with linguistic impairments older adults language learners and bilingual speakers. Providing readers with a wealth of theoretical and practical information in order to guide them in designing methodologically sound linguistic experiments this handbook is essential reading for scholars and students researching in all areas of linguistics.

The Psychology of Influence Joop Pligt, Michael Vliek, 2016-10-04 Whether it's our choice of a new car or what we think about our neighbours our opinions and attitudes are a way of negotiating the world around us. The Psychology of Influence explores how these preferences and behaviours are influenced and affected by the messages we receive in daily life. From consumer choices to political lifestyle and financial decisions the book examines how and why we may be influenced by a range of sources from written text and television to social media and interpersonal communication. In a field that has fascinated scholars since Plato the book addresses the key questions across cognitive social and emotional domains. When do arguments become persuasive? What influence do role models have? What role do simple rules of thumb social norms or emotions play? Which behaviours are difficult to influence and why? Covering topics from attraction prejudice and discrimination to reward punishment and unconscious bias The Psychology of Influence will be invaluable reading for students and researchers across a range of areas within applied and social psychology as well as those in political science communications marketing and business and management.

Examining Argumentation in Context Frans H. van Eemeren, Frans Hendrik Eemeren, 2009 Examining Argumentation in Context Fifteen studies on strategic maneuvering contains a selection of papers on strategic maneuvering in argumentative discourse. Starting point of all of these contributions is that a satisfactory analysis and evaluation of strategic maneuvering is possible only if the argumentative discourse is first situated in the communicative and interactional context in which it occurs While some of the contributions present general views with regard to strategic maneuvering other contributions report on the results of empirical studies examine strategic maneuvering in a particular legal or political context or highlight the presentational design of strategic maneuvering Examining Argumentation in Context therefore provides an insightful view of recent developments in the research on strategic maneuvering which is currently prominent in the study of argumentation

Pondering on Problems of Argumentation Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2009-02-11 Pondering on Problems of Argumentation is a collection of twenty essays brought together for anyone who is interested in theoretical issues in the study of argumentation This collection of papers gives the reader an insightful and balanced view of the kind of theoretical issues argumentation theorists are currently concerned with Because most of the perspectives on argumentation that are en vogue are represented this volume provides a multidisciplinary and even interdisciplinary outlook on the current state of affairs in argumentation theory Some of the contributions in Pondering on Problems of Argumentation deal with problems of argumentation that have been recognized as theoretical issues for a considerable time like the problems of fallaciousness and identifying argumentation structures Other contributions discuss issues that have become a focus of attention only recently or regained their prominence such as the relationship between dialectic and rhetoric and the strategic use of the argumentative technique of dissociation In five separate sections papers are included dealing with argumentative strategies problems of norms of reasonableness and fallaciousness types of argument and argument schemes the structure of argumentation and rules for advocacy and discussion

Paul's Argumentation in Galatians Mika Hietanen, 2007-07-26 Galatians is a polemical letter which contains a substantial amount of argumentative passages Paul evidently wanted to persuade by using the best arguments possible to convince his addressees Using a state of the art method from the discipline of argumentation analysis Paul's argumentation can be analysed with a precision that standard exegetical methods cannot provide The pragma dialectical method developed in Amsterdam facilitates an analysis which is both descriptive and normative On the one hand Paul's argumentation can be described such as the relationship between premisses and conclusions the structure of the arguments and features relating to rhetorical strategy On the other hand the method makes it possible to evaluate Paul's argumentation against a set of rules for sound reasoning Fallacies and problematic arguments can be described accurately The spiritual nature of Paul's matters do not relieve him of rationality and Paul himself does not argue as if it did Paul's argumentation is found problematic in several respects There is a tension in the text Paul works a great deal to argue his claims while at the same time giving the impression that he merely wants to declare his standpoints and does not want to carry out an argumentation at all Many of the conclusions are presented as self evident even when they are not Paul's style is far from an ideal model of the resolution of a dispute Paul relies heavily on an argumentative strategy with maximal use of rhetorical devices The analysis shows that a contemporary method of argumentation analysis provides tools necessary to adequately describe and understand both individual arguments and the overarching strategy of the argumentation in a Pauline text Essential Issues in Symbolic Interaction Shing-Ling S. Chen,2024-10-30 Seeking a concise and substantial vision of symbolic interactionism this volume manifests the crucial research endeavors and key elements that contribute to the vitality of the interactionist theoretical framework Argumentation, Communication, and Fallacies Frans H. van Eemeren,Rob Grootendorst,2016-07-22 This volume gives a theoretical account of the problem of analyzing and evaluating argumentative discourse After placing argumentation in a communicative perspective and then discussing the fallacies that occur when certain rules of communication are violated the authors offer an alternative to both the linguistically inspired descriptive and logically inspired normative approaches to argumentation The authors characterize argumentation as a complex speech act in a critical discussion aimed at resolving a difference of opinion The various stages of a critical discussion are outlined and the communicative and interactional aspects of the speech acts performed in resolving a simple or complex dispute are discussed After dealing with crucial aspects of analysis and linking the evaluation of argumentative discourse to the analysis the authors identify the fallacies that can occur at various stages of discussion Their general aim is to elucidate their own pragma dialectical perspective on the analysis and evaluation of argumentative discourse bringing together pragmatic insight concerning speech acts and dialectical insight concerning critical discussion

The Language of Argumentation Ronny Boogaart,Henrike Jansen,Maarten van Leeuwen,2021-01-20 Bringing together scholars from a broad range of theoretical perspectives The Language of Argumentation offers a unique overview of research at the crossroads of linguistics and theories of argumentation In addition to theoretical and methodological reflections by leading scholars in their fields the book contains studies of the relationship between language and argumentation from two different viewpoints While some chapters take a specific argumentative move as their point of departure and investigate the ways in which it is linguistically manifested in discourse other chapters start off from a linguistic construction trying to determine its argumentative function and rhetorical potential The Language of Argumentation documents the currently prominent research on stylistic aspects of argumentation and illustrates how the study of argumentation benefits from insights from linguistic models ranging from theoretical pragmatics politeness theory and metaphor studies to models of discourse coherence and construction grammar *Applied Psycholinguistics.
