Essential Works Of Foucault 1954 1984 Volume 3 Power Michel:

Power Michel Foucault, 2019-11-14 Who since Weber or perhaps even Hobbes has done as much to show why power is such a profound elusive and treacherous presence throughout our experience The Times Higher Education The third and final volume of the Essential Works of Foucault series Power brings together his writings on the issues that he helped make the core agenda of Western political culture medicine prisons psychiatry government and sexuality in particular showing his concerns with human rights discrimination and exclusion It also includes articles and open letters published directly in response to the issues of the time calling for reform in abortion asylum and the death penalty All the pieces here bring a new sense of Foucault's huge influence on the politics of personal freedom Edited by James D Faubion Translated by Robert Hurley and Others

Organization in Open Source Communities Evangelia Berdou, 2010-10-04 This book contributes new insights into the organization of free open source F OS software communities by examining the links between learning division of labour and commercialization demonstrating the need for a synthesis of work on both community organization and cooperation to understand F OS community dynamics These aspects are examined in the light of detailed case studies of the GNOME and KDE projects This book offers an innovative theoretical framework a critical assessment of various methodologies for examining the organisation of F OS communities and a typology of commercial involvement in F OS The analysis reveals the diversity and evolution of F OS communities and their connections with other socio economic networks and institutional practices The insights afforded by the book have implications for future research and the design and implementation of open source efforts

The Late Foucault Marta Faustino, Gianfranco Ferraro, 2020-12-10 Michel Foucault is one of the most important and controversial thinkers of the twentieth century and one of the leading figures in contemporary Western intellectual life and debate The recent publication of his last lecture courses at the Collège de France 1981 1984 together with the short texts essays and interviews from the same period have sparked new interest in his work allowing for a new understanding of his philosophical trajectory and challenging several interpretations produced over the last few decades In this later phase of his thinking Foucault deepens and expands the course of his preceding works on the genealogy of subjectivity while at the same time adding a significant ethical and political dimension to it His focus on the ancient ethics of care of the self and technologies of self constitution during this period adds important nuances to his previous positions on power truth and subjectivity shedding new light on his philosophical endeavour as a whole and situating his reflections at the centre of current moral debates Focusing on the last stage of Foucault's thought this book brings together international scholars to relaunch the critical debate on the significance of Foucault's so called ethical turn and to discuss the ways in which the perspectives offered by Foucault in this period might help us to unravel modernity giving us the tools to understand and transform our present ethically and politically

On the Genealogy of Critique Diana Stypinska, 2020-01-23 On the Genealogy of Critique intervenes into both contemporary academic debates on critique and today's mainstream criticism by reflecting upon the relationship between criticality and social change in the age of post politics. What does it mean to be critical? When we are told that civilisation is facing extinction, does the idea of critique still hold any value? Today more than ever we seem to be critical of everything. Yet paradoxically, our criticism exerts very little political influence. Taking this problematique as its starting point, this book reclaims the transformative potential of critique, challenging the common assumptions about criticality. It presents a counter history of criticism demonstrating how the modern notion of critical subjectivity embodies an imperative to the securitisation of the status quo. In elaborating on a range of contemporary critical dis positions, the book advocates new ways of thinking about critique and social change. Through this, it equips the reader with analytical tools useful for thinking the way out of our post political predicament. This book is of relevance to anyone concerned with social change. Particularly, it will be of use to academics, postgraduates and advanced undergraduate students working in the areas of sociology, politics, philosophy and cultural studies.

Resisting Biopolitics S.E. Wilmer, Audronė Žukauskaitė, 2015-09-16 The topic of biopolitics is a timely one and it has become increasingly important for scholars to reconsider how life is objectified, mobilized and otherwise bound up in politics. This cutting edge volume discusses the philosophical, social and political notions of biopolitics, as well as the ways in which biopower affects all aspects of our lives, including the relationships between the human and nonhuman, the concept of political subjectivity and the connection between art, science, philosophy and politics. In addition to tracing the evolving philosophical discourse around biopolitics, this collection researches and explores certain modes of resistance against biopolitical control. Written by leading experts in the field, the book's chapters investigate resistance across a wide range of areas: politics and biophilosophy, technology and vitalism, creativity and bioethics, and performance. Resisting Biopolitics is an important intervention in contemporary biopolitical theory, looking towards the future of this interdisciplinary field.

Foucault on the Politics of Parrhesia T. Dyrberg, 2014-03-10 Foucault saw the notion of parrhesia (truth telling) as the most important factor for how governments could and should communicate with their people and vice versa. This important collection compiles and analyses Foucault's views on parrhesia to shed new light on his ideas on the importance of truth telling in democracies.

Women and Children as Victims and Offenders: Background, Prevention, Reintegration Helmut Kury, Sławomir Redo, Evelyn Shea, 2016-06-20 This work compiles experiences and lessons learned in meeting the unique needs of women and children regarding crime prevention and criminal justice, in particular the treatment and social reintegration of offenders, and serves as a cross disciplinary work for academic and policy making analyses and follow up in developing and developed countries. Furthermore, it argues for a more humane and effective approach to countering delinquency and crime among future generations. In a world where development positively depends on the rule of law and the related investment security, two global trends may chart the course of development: urbanization and education. Urbanization will globalize the concepts of justice and fairness; education will be dominated by the urban mindset and digital service economy, just as a culture of lawfulness will This work looks at crime prevention education as an investment in the sustainable quality of life of succeeding generations and at those who pursue such crime prevention as the providers of much needed skills in the educational portfolio Adopting a reformist approach this work collects articles with findings and recommendations that may be relevant to domestic and international policymaking including the United Nations Studies and their educational value for the welfare of coming generations The books address the relevant United Nations ideas by combining them with academic approaches Guided by the Editors respective fields of expertise and in full recognition of academic freedom and organized scepticism it includes contributions by lawyers criminologists sociologists and other eminent experts seeking to bridge the gap between academic and policy perspectives as appropriate against the international background including the United Nations developments The second volume opens with Part IV which presents articles on different kinds of crime prevention The effectiveness of punishment and in particular imprisonment is examined by contrasting it with alternative sanctions and the following questions are raised Does harsh punishment have a crime preventive effect What are the side effects of imprisonment on the offenders and their families Are alternatives such as restorative justice or mediation more effective and cheaper Part V outlines proactive strategies of crime prevention e g for potential sex offenders or in the domain of internet crime Part VI envisions a more peaceful and inclusive society which would be realized by improving the protection of women and children in their everyday life and easing the reintegration of those who have become offenders The importance of the role played by the UN in formulating these goals is underlined The volume concludes with an epilogue of the 70th President of the United Nations Economic and Social Council Martin Sajdik and a post scriptum of the editors p

Governing the Global Polity Iver B. Neumann, Ole Jacob Sending, 2010-07 Governmentality offers an explanation for the 21st century global web of power relations

Gender and Political Analysis Johanna Kantola, Emanuela Lombardo, 2017-03-15 A major new text on gender and politics by two leading authorities which introduces the main issues and debates about the politics of gender and its role in both domestic and international politics and feminist approaches to political analysis

Poststructuralism and Critical Theory's Second Generation Alan D. Schrift, 2014-09-11 Poststructuralism and Critical Theory's Second Generation analyses the major themes and developments in a period that brought continental philosophy to the forefront of scholarship in a variety of humanities and social science disciplines and that set the agenda for philosophical thought on the continent and elsewhere from the 1960s to the present Focusing on the years 1960-1984 the volume examines the major figures associated with poststructuralism and the second generation of critical theory the two dominant movements that emerged in the 1960s Althusser Foucault Deleuze Derrida Lyotard Irigaray and Habermas Influential thinkers such as Serres Bourdieu and Rorty who are not easily placed in standard histories of the period are also covered Beyond this thematic essays engage with issues as diverse as the Nietzschean legacy the linguistic turn in continental thinking the phenomenological inheritance of Gadamer and Ricoeur the influence of psychoanalysis the emergence of feminist thought and a philosophy of sexual difference the renewal of the critical theory tradition and the importation of continental philosophy into literary theory      A Normative Foucauldian Mark Olssen, 2021-09-27 Inspired by the writings of Michel Foucault Olssen's writings traverse philosophy politics education and epistemology This book comprises a selection of his papers published in academic journals and books over twenty five years Taken as a whole the papers represent a redirection of the core axioms and directions of western ontology and philosophy in relation to how history the subject and education are theorised within the western philosophical tradition Olssen's writings not only contain a powerful critique and revision of western liberalism from a poststructuralist perspective they both explicate and extend Michel Foucault's challenge to the core axioms and assumptions underpinning western thought As Stephen Ball suggests in his Foreword to this volume Olssen uses Foucault to explore issues Olssen's Foucault is not a lonely nihilist but a troubled provocateur who encourages in us toward the political project of self formation our relation to ourselves and always to others      The Bio-Politics of the Danube Delta Constantin Iordachi, Kristof Van Assche, 2014-12-11 In this volume Constantin Iordachi and Kristof Van Assche take an interdisciplinary look at the history policy and culture of the development and politics of the Danube Delta      Postanarchism and Critical Art Practices Saul Newman, Tihomir Topuzovski, 2024-04-18 Engaging with contemporary debates about the political role of art in an era of total market subsumption this book shows how artists respond to the challenges of political authoritarianism police violence right wing populism post truth discourse economic inequality pandemics and the environmental crisis transforming the public sphere in new and unexpected ways Going beyond sterile debates about identity politics diversity and representation that beset the mainstream media university campuses and other cultural domains the volume illustrates the ways in which artists are opening up alternative sites of contestation occupation and autonomous political thought and action Newman and Topuzovski examine here the artistic practices of multiple collectives and individuals deeply engaged with social and political activities such as Grupo de Arte Callejero GAC and Voina arguing that the best way to understand these new critical discourses and practices is through an updated political theory of anarchism or what we call postanarchism where the insurrection against power and the politics of singularity are central Featuring for instance an examination of significant movements such as Black Lives Matter as well as its use of artistic tactics such as graffiti graphic design and movement art the book launches itself into a vibrant discussion of the extent to which art can produce a multiplicity of practices through the deconstruction of existing legal political and cultural identities By developing an alternative way of exploring the nexus between art and politics through the idea of postanarchism this book bridges the gap between the two promoting an understanding of the political role that art can play today and introduces a theory of postanarchism to a non specialist audience of artists activists and those generally interested in new sites and directions for radical politics      Racial Imperatives Nadine Ehlers, 2012-05-18 An examination of the constructs of race in contemporary American society Nadine Ehlers examines the constructions of blackness and whiteness cultivated in the US imaginary and asks how do individuals become racial subjects She analyzes anti miscegenation law statutory definitions of race and the rhetoric surrounding the phenomenon of racial passing to provide critical accounts of racial categorization and norms the policing of racial behavior and the regulation of racial bodies as they are underpinned by demarcations of sexuality gender and class Ehlers places the work of Michel Foucault Judith Butler s account of performativity and theories of race into conversation to show how race is a form of discipline that race is performative and that all racial identity can be seen as performative racial passing She tests these claims through an excavation of the 1925 racial fraud case of Rhineland v Rhineland and concludes by considering the possibilities for racial agency extending Foucault s later work on ethics and technologies of the self to explore the potential for racial transformation In Racial Imperatives Nadine Ehlers explores the idea that racial identity is a construct both performed by individuals and maintained by the law Raises interesting ideas particularly that all identity is a form of passing and that all subjects must continually enact their racial identities Journal of American History June 2015 T his project fills a major gap in both Critical Race and Foucault studies It will undoubtedly be cited and engaged for years to come Critical Philosophy of Race Racial Imperatives is a strong tome with a great deal of value across disciplines Building on her previous scholarly investigations and relying on a robust scholarship to push intellectual boundaries Ehlers s work is insightful and thought provoking Scholars that study race in any academic discipline would benefit from the ideas and analysis in this book Spectrum Writing the Self and Transforming Knowledge in International Relations Erzsebet Strausz, 2018-03-19 This book emerges from within the everyday knowledge practices of International Relations IR scholarship and explores the potential of experimental writing as an alternative source of knowledge and political imagination within the modern university and the contemporary structures of neoliberal government It unlocks and foregrounds the power of writing as a site of resistance and a vehicle of transformation that is fundamentally grounded in reflexivity self crafting and an ethos of care In an attempt to cultivate new sensibilities to habitual academic practice the project re appropriates the skill of writing for envisioning and enacting what it might mean to be working in the discipline of IR and inhabiting the usual spaces and scenes of academic life differently The practice of experimental writing that intuitively unfolds and develops in the book makes an important methodological intervention into conventional social scientific inquiry both regarding the politics of writing and knowledge production as well as the role and position of the researcher The formal innovations of the book include the actualization and creative remaking of the Foucaultian genre of the experience book which seeks to challenge scholarly routine and offers new experiences and modes of perception as to what it might mean to know and to be a knowing subject in our times The book will be of interest to researchers engaged in critical and creative research methods particularly narrative writing autobiography storytelling experimental and transformational research Foucault studies and philosophy as well as critical approaches to contemporary government and studies of resistance On the Greek Origins of Biopolitics Mika Ojakangas, 2016-04-28 This book explores the origins of western biopolitics in ancient Greek political thought Ojakangas s argues that the conception of politics as the regulation of the quantity and quality of population in the name of the security and happiness of the state and its inhabitants is as old as the western political thought itself the politico philosophical categories of classical thought particularly those of Plato and Aristotle were already biopolitical categories In their books on politics Plato and Aristotle do not only deal with all the central topics of biopolitics from the political point of view but for them these topics are the very keystone of politics and the art of government Yet although the Western understanding of politics was already biopolitical in classical Greece the book does not argue that the history of biopolitics would constitute a continuum from antiquity to the twentieth century Instead Ojakangas argues that the birth of Christianity entailed a crisis of the classical biopolitical rationality as the majority of classical biopolitical themes concerning the government of men and populations faded away or were outright rejected It was not until the renaissance of the classical culture and literature including the translation of Plato s and Aristotles political works into Latin that biopolitics became topical again in the West The book will be of great interest to scholars and students in the field of social and political studies social and political theory moral and political philosophy IR theory intellectual history classical studies

Professional Practice Discourse Marginalia Joy Higgs, Franziska Trede, 2016-07-23 This is a book for practitioners university educators workplace learning educators researchers and the professions It draws together two key elements of the lives of these people professional practice what people do and practice discourse what they write and say about what they do And it focuses these discussions around two spaces the core and the margins of practice and discourse Writing in the margins of texts has a very long history People have always left part of themselves their ideas personality and reflections in the margins of texts In this book we have taken up the idea of such written marginalia and we have expanded it into writing into the texts of practice discourse as well as speaking and acting in the margins of professional practice Such deliberate practice changes in marginal practice spaces and in written practice discourse provides ways of shaping and critically appraising current and future professional practice This book provides a dialogue between two fascinating phenomena professional practice and discourse In the 21st century these two are facing challenges as they negotiate their contested spaces in a rapidly changing global society They draw on strong established traditions and expectations but they cannot be complacent in these illusory stabilities Rather they must be awake to the imperatives of their own re invention and re claimed relevance to today s society and today s professional class in the workforce Across the chapters we explore the core spaces of professional practice discourse from the vantage point of the margins of this space and the margin spaces as they interact with the core Marginalia serves as an architect of destabilisation challenge revolution reflection or sometimes affirmation of the central discourse space There are five sections in the book Section One Professional practice discourse Section Two Leading the practice discourse Section Three Writing from inside practice Section Four Writing onto and into practice and Section Five Marking trails and stimulating insights Readers are invited to contribute to our exploration of the phenomenon and practice of professional practice discourse marginalia      Citizenship for the Learning Society Naomi Hodgson,2016-03-02 Within Citizenship for the Learning Society the governance of the learning citizen is mapped in relation to European educational and cultural policy Prevalent notions of voice and narrative in policy and in educational research are analysed in relation to Europe s history The text is concerned with the way in which European citizenship is understood in current policy the way in which the term citizenship operates and how learning is central to this Analysis combines educational philosophy and theory with anthropological sociological and classic philosophical literature Draws on both Continental European Foucault Deleuze Heidegger Levinas and American Cavell Emerson Thoreau philosophy Material is organised in two parts Part One discusses the discourses and practices of citizenship in the European learning society in both educational and cultural policy and educational research from the perspective of governmentality Part Two provides analysis of particular aspects of this discourse      History in the World Kalle Pihlainen,2019-03-04 Questions about the relationship between historical research and contemporary social and practical problems have posed a challenge to generations of historians as well as to philosophers and theorists of history In recent years views regarding the isolation of academic history from real world issues and affairs have come under increasing criticism The contributions to this volume all focus on history s role in the world today and on the possibilities for and limits to engagement resulting from disciplinary practices and conventions The authors undertake their assessment of history s relevance in different ways combining case studies of political clashes public debates and practices of commemoration with sophisticated theoretical discussions of identity construction the material manifestations of power and the relationship between historicizing and expectations concerning future actions These studies highlight the difficulty of distinguishing between history and politics and between disciplinary accounts and activism and contribute significantly towards an improved understanding of our relationship with the past This book was originally published as a special issue of Rethinking History      Re-Imagining a Politics of Life Leonie Ansems de Vries,2014-10-30 The prominence and variety of global movements of resistance indicates that the idea of politics as governance is contested However the political canon continues to reinforce a narrow definition of politics according to liberal principles and practices This book develops a new theory of political life that includes and highlights the interconnectedness of forces of order disorder governance resistance violence and difference Using the concept of the milieu both a mechanism of governance and a force of difference and transformation this book stages an encounter between the modern political and international thought of Thomas Hobbes and Immanuel Kant and the contemporary philosophy of Michel Foucault and Gilles Deleuze The writings of Foucault and Deleuze will serve to explore and contextualize the milieu and will function to highlight the complex mobility and relationality of notions of politics life governance and resistance
