Handbook of Teacher Education Tony Townsend, Richard Bates, 2006-08-09 This book has its origins in conversations that started when the International Council on Education for Teaching ICET and the Australian Teacher Education Association ATEA jointly agreed to co sponsor a World Assembly of Teacher Educators in Melbourne in July 2003 hosted by Monash University The editors of this book were not only intimately involved in the management of the conference but had also been key figures in the Associations involved Tony Townsend had been secretary and on the national board of the South Pacific Association for Teacher Education SPATE which later became ATEA and had previously managed a SPATE conference in Frankston Australia in the 1980s He is currently the President of ICET and now works at Florida Atlantic University Richard Bates has been a long time board member of ATEA and is currently President of that organization He is also a Board member of ICET The International Council on Education for Teaching ICET was founded in 1953 for the purpose of emphasizing international cooperation in educational development in order to improve the quality of teacher education as well as to expand global educational opportunities for people in teacher education Since that time ICET has developed into an international association of practitioners of teacher education policy and decision makers in education government and business dedicated to global development through education ICET is a Non Governmental Organization NGO and participates in NGO meetings and other UNESCO sponsored conferences around the world

Pattern Making, Pattern Breaking Ann Alder, 2016-05-13 Rapid changes in technology the nature of organisations non traditional career progression globalisation and virtual worlds mean that we need to become ever more effective learners in order to keep pace with the demands placed upon us Our patterns of understanding the ways in which we make sense of our work and our world hardly become fixed before we are asked to change them and form new ones The ability to build patterns is fundamental to our ability to learn Ann Alder's Pattern Making Pattern Breaking explores the ways in which educators and facilitators can work to help students build those patterns that will be most useful to them These may be technical patterns of language number sequence or process They may be thinking patterns that support problem solving creativity logical analysis or empathy They may be patterns of behaviour that demonstrate trust influence or integrity in relationships Ann also illustrates how you can teach students to break patterns to help them move on in the learning process by recognising and rejecting long held patterns of behaviour or assumptions that are unhelpful or redundant Formal education and training do not necessarily produce learners who are well resourced to take advantage of opportunities that arise and to avoid some of the stresses that uncertainty ambiguity or imposed change place upon them So perhaps one of the most important patterns that we can explore and understand as we move forward in a changing world is our own pattern of learning Whether you are a parent teacher tutor trainer coach or manager you need to be an effective facilitator of learning and this book is the perfect starting place

Field Geology Education Steven J. Whitmeyer, David W. Mogk, Eric J. Pyle, 2009-01-01 Field instruction has traditionally been at the core of the geoscience curriculum The field experience has been integral to the professional development of future geoscientists and is particularly important as it applies to student understanding of spatial temporal and complex relations in the Earth system As important as field experiences have been to geosciences education and the training of geoscientists the current situation calls for discipline wide reflection of the role of field experiences in the geoscience curriculum in light of practical and logistical challenges evolution in employment opportunities for geoscientists and changing emphases in the geoscience curriculum This volume seeks to broaden participation in field instruction by showcasing diverse approaches to teaching in the field across the many geo disciplines encompassed by GSA books google
