Chemical Elements in Plants and Soil: Parameters Controlling Essentiality Stefan Fränzle, 2009-12-18 Earlier works on plant essential elements have revealed a series of complicated counter intuitive relationships among various chemical elements in different plant species due to both unlike usage of certain elements in plants and to different carriers effecting resorption and transport In an attempt to provide a more coherent theory behind plant mineral nutrition this groundbreaking book adopts a very different approach from the existing literature presenting an explanation of the essentiality of chemical elements in biological systems and the application of stoichiometric network analysis SNA to the biological system of elements Starting with data from biochemical environmental analysis and a discussion of the phenomena involved in metal ion partition and autocatalytic behaviour conditions and criteria controlling the partition of metals into biomass are investigated Several rules are derived and investigated in terms of their interaction both in comparisons among contemporary organisms and in terms of evolution This allows the construction for example of a map which directly traces the biological feature of essentiality to parameters of coordination chemistry The book will have worldwide appeal for researchers interested in fields such as soil plant interactions bioinorganic chemistry plant nutrition phytomining bioremediation biogeochemistry nutrient cycling soil chemistry and cellular physiology Journal American Chemical Society, 2003 The Blue Compendium Jane Lubchenco, Peter M. Haugan, 2023-05-24 Home to over 80 percent of all life on Earth the ocean is the world's largest carbon sink and a key source of food and economic security for billions of people The relevance of the ocean for humanity's future is undisputed However the ocean's great potential to drive economic growth and equitable job creation sustain healthy ecosystems and mitigate climate change is not yet fully recognised Lack of awareness of this potential as well as management and governance challenges pose impediments Until these impediments are removed ocean ecosystems will continue to be degraded and opportunities for people lost A transition and a clear path to a thriving and vibrant relationship between humans and the ocean are urgently needed This open access collection of papers and reports identifies a path that is inspired by science energised by engaged people and emboldened by visionary leaders These assessments of knowledge are commissioned by the High Level Panel for a Sustainable Ocean Economy Ocean Panel which was established in September 2018 as a unique initiative led by heads of state and government from around the world to
