Facial Expression Paul Ekman:

Darwin and Facial Expression Paul Ekman, 2006 In Darwin and Facial Expression Paul Ekman and a cast of other notable scholars and scientists reconsider the central concepts and key sources of information in Darwin's work on emotional expression First published in 1972 to celebrate the centennial of the publication of Darwin's The Expression of the Emotions in Man and Animals Darwin and Facial Expression is the first of three works edited by Dr Ekman and others on the subject This Major edition contains new and updated references Darwin claimed that we cannot understand human emotional expression without understanding the emotional expressions of animals as our emotional expressions are in large part determined by our evolution Not only are there similarities in the appearance of some emotional expressions between man and certain other animals but the principles that explain why a particular emotional expression occurs with a particular emotion also apply across species

Gesichtsausdruck und Gefühl Paul Ekman, 1988 Emotion in the Human Face Paul Ekman, Wallace V. Friesen, Phoebe Ellsworth, 2013-10-22 Emotion in the Human Face Guidelines for Research and an Integration of Findings reviews research findings about the link between the face and emotion and provides some guidelines for study of this complicated but intriguing phenomenon Some of the conceptual ambiguities that have hindered research and the methodological decisions that must be made in planning research on the face and emotion are discussed How past investigators handled these matters is presented critically and a set of standards is offered This book is comprised of 21 chapters and begins with an overview of questions about how the face provides information about emotion with emphasis on evidence based on scientific research largely in psychology The reader is then introduced to conceptual ambiguities and methodological decisions related to research on the face emotion connection including sampling along with some important research findings In particular emotion categories and dimensions that observers can judge on the basis of facial behavior are analyzed and whether such judgments can be accurate The similarities and differences in facial behavior across cultures are also considered along with the relative contribution of facial behavior and contextual information to the judgment of emotion This monograph is intended primarily for students of psychology anthropology ethology sociology and biology as well as those planning or already conducting research on the face Emotions Revealed Paul Ekman, 2003-04-07

Emotion in the Human Face Joseph C. Hager, Harriet Oster, 2013 The original edition of Emotion in the Human Face published in 1972 was the first volume to evaluate and integrate all the research on facial expression of emotion since Darwin's The Expression of Emotions in Man and Animals was published in 1872. It presented a detailed critical discussion of research involving the face and emotion focusing on the complex conceptual and methodological issues involved and settling many past controversies such as whether the face provides accurate information about emotion and whether some facial expressions are universal. This special Malor Books edition includes a new Preface three additional chapters and a new conclusion summarizing Ekman's final views on the field that he has played such a large part in creating. Contributors to this work include Paul Ekman Phoebe Ellsworth Wallace V Friesen Joseph C Hager Harriet Oster Maureen O Sullivan William K Redican and Silvan S Tomkins.
