Unfinished plywood		Placed in the middle of a substrate, plywood is always protected by a surface finish. For good-looking interior design, it is more appropriate to use grade 1 plywood, characterized by fewer defects, such as knots. This gives you greater freedom when choosing the decoration. Plywood is available in many colours, such as the combinations:
White stained		White gives positive connotations and is recommended for:
Smoked stained		Smoking the sheets and maintaining them for months and even years for smoking.
Walnut stain		Walnut stain gives a pleasant appearance and with proper maintenance is recommended for long-term use, with positive effects.
Red		Red stain adds brightness to a room and provides pleasant lighting for people.
Black staining		Black is a neutral color and is also suitable for interior design, giving a sophisticated appearance.
