Reading Strategies Worksheet

Sometimes when you are reading you must "read between the lines," or infer what the meaning of an unfamiliar word is. This process is called making an inference.

Directions: Read the following paragraph and try to infer the meaning of the italicized words as you read.

Sometimes in life, things can get really hectic and complicated, and it's normal for us to falter or lose our calm. But it's in these moments that our resilience gets tested, so it's important to have a good strategy in place. People who are good at dealing with stressful situations work points when relative acclaim and admiration. On the other hand, there are some people who are cynical, who don't believe in positive outcomes. They might think any success is just a vestige of being over-confident, without acknowledging the effort and dedication put into it. In our complex world, Lily-Susan's strategy follow a straight path, and sometimes remembers, which can lead to even higher energy. How we handle these situations often determines whether we succeed or fail.
