Dagostino, 1973 Student Workbook for Estimating in Building Construction MBA, PE, Steven Peterson, Frank Dagostino, 2014-01-01 Construction Estimating and Bidding: Training Manual to Acquire Fundamental Knowledge in Estimating Building Construction Costs Yvon Chabot, 2019-03-05 The purpose of this manual is to enable students to gain fundamental knowledge of estimating the cost of building construction projects The procedures used for estimating vary from company to company On the other hand the construction industry has become over the years more competitive which has made construction companies to do their best in order to offer the best possible service at the least price To overcome this constraint it is necessary to know precisely the cost of services And it would be the role of an Estimator Unfortunately there are no specific rules as it accounts for obtaining a good estimate even among individuals within a company Because of contracting method currently employed like fast track or PPP construction companies need precision in their estimates in addition as estimators are increasingly consulted at conceptual design stage we will talk about conceptual estimate in chapter one and then focus on detailed estimations and its process in upcoming chapters We all know that a good estimator needs to have a good knowledge about construction techniques and factors that influence the realization of a project We also know that an individual who possesses a high level of experience in his her field but also could be a poor estimator in the absence of reliable method So in this manual we will focus more on estimations method rather than techniques of construction A detailed estimate Bid Estimate can be analyzed in terms of the SIX principal stages of the process 1 Quantity Takeoff 2 Recap Quantities 3 Pricing the Recap 4 Pricing Subcontractor s work 5 Pricing General Expenses 6 Summary and Bid To decode these six steps into an effective and accurate estimation method the manual is divided into three modules Each module is divided into chapters The first module addresses the preparation of an estimate for construction and describes the entire submission process The second module deals with the methods of measurement of the constructive systems then in the third module establish the prices of the elements the expenses of the general conditions and finally close the submission

The New Building Estimator William Arthur,1913 Estimating for Building & Civil Engineering Work John Williams,Spence geddes,2013-02-01 It deals in a practical and reasonable way with many of the estimating problems which can arise where building and civil engineering works are carried out and to include comprehensive estimating data within the guidelines of good practice The early part of the book has been completely rewritten to contain chapters useful to students and practitioners alike for the development of the estimating process resulting in the presentation of a tender for construction works The second and major part of the book contains estimating data fully updated for the major elements in building and civil engineering work including a new chapter on piling and a wealth of constants for practical use in estimating The estimating examples are based on the current edition of the Standard Method of Measurement for Building Works SMM7 The comprehensive information on basic principles of estimating found in Spence Geddes are still as valid today as the first edition In this edition the prevailing rates of labour and costs of materials are taken whenever possible as a round figure Readers will appreciate in the construction industry that prices are continually changing rise and fall and that worked examples should therefore be used as a guide to method of calculation substituting in any specific case the current rates applicable to it In the case of plant output dramatic increases have been experienced in productivity over recent years and again estimators with their own records should substitute values appropriate to their work
