Efficiency of Ethiopian Garment Factories. Evidence from Addis Ababa Tesfaye Fenta, 2017-03-20

Master's Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Economics Job market economics grade 1.0 course Development Economics language English abstract The study measures the level of technical efficiency and its determinants in Ethiopian garment factories The study employs both Data Envelopment Analysis DEA and Stochastic Frontier Analysis SFA to compute the technical efficiency of Ethiopian garment factories and Tobit model to examine the determinant of technical inefficiency of the garment factories based on a data set of ninety four garment factories over the period of 2014-2015 The study used Akaike Information Criteria AIC to opt for the best function between Cobb-Douglas and Translog functions The result reveals that Cobb-Douglas production functions better explain the production behavior of garment factories The DEA estimation shows that the mean technical efficiency of garment factories was around to be 0.43 while such figure in SFA goes as high as 0.89 and the research indicated that export do not promote technical efficiency Ethiopian garment factories The research indicated that DEA is more appropriate for small garment factors while SFA is more suitable to large and medium garment factories The result from DEA model indicates that educational level of production manager local fabric sourcing collaboration with similar factories and membership status with Ethiopian textile and garment institute have positive contribution to efficiency On the other hand wage rate of semi-skilled labour years of establishments number of production line educational level of the manager and size have a negative effect to efficiency While the result from SFA indicates that wage rate of semi unskilled year of establishment size and educational level of the manger have the positive contribution to technical efficiency On the other hand owners citizenship and collaboration work with similar factories are a negative contribution to SFA technical efficiency The research recommends that output can be increased by improving the technical efficiency of Ethiopian garment factories To do so for large and medium scale firms attention should be given to improve the wage rate of semi unskilled labour educational level of the managers and minimize collaboration with similar firms while educational level of the production manager local fabric sourcing collaboration with similar factories and membership status of textile and garment institute should be improved for small firms Fibre2Fashion - Textile Magazine - November

Ethiopia Paulos Milkias,2011-05-18 This book is the most complete accessible and up to date resource for Ethiopian geography history politics economics society culture and education with coverage from ancient times to the present Ethiopia is a comprehensive treatment of this ancient country s history coupled with an exploration of the nation today Arranged by broad topics the book provides an overview of Ethiopia s physical and human geography its history its system of government and the present economic situation But the book also presents a picture of contemporary society and culture and of the Ethiopian people It also discusses art music and cinema class gender ethnicity and education as well as the language food and etiquette of the country Readers will learn such fascinating details as the fact that coffee was first domesticated in Ethiopia more than 10 000 years ago and that modern Ethiopia comprises 77 different ethnic groups with their own distinct languages Industrialization in Ethiopia: Awakening - Crisis - Outlooks Reimer Gronemeyer,Michaela Fink,2023-11-23

Ethiopia though remaining one of the least urbanised countries in the world has taken impressive actions to transform the state into a more industrialized nation Several industrial parks have been built in recent years throughout the whole country The textile sector is one of these sectors The textile industry is expected to provide employment for hundreds of thousands and thus improve people s living conditions and contribute to the development of the country Major reason for asian investors to shift their focus to Ethiopia are extremely low wages and the lower production costs involved The Ethiopian textile industry has to deal with high rates of labor turnover and absenteeism From the perspective of the mostly international managers the reason for turnover and absenteeism is often attributed to the mindset of the predominantly female workforce A research project financed by the German Bundesministerium f r wirtschaftliche Zusammenarbeit und Entwicklung is looking at reasons and possible measures to solve this problem Results of this project conducted at the University of Giessen by Michaela Fink and Reimer Gronemeyer together with Ethiopian colleagues are presented in this book Experts from Ethiopia and Germany are presenting the history of the textile industry in Ethiopia and the coming development All this is framed by the discussion of present crisis Covid 19 the war in Ethiopia

The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy Fantu Cheru, Christopher Cramer, Arkebe Oqubay, 2019-01-10 From a war torn and famine plagued country at the beginning of the 1990s Ethiopia is today emerging as one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Growth in Ethiopia has surpassed that of every other sub Saharan country over the past decade and is forecast by the International Monetary Fund to exceed 8 percent over the next two years The government has set its eyes on transforming the country into a middle income country by 2025 and into a leading manufacturing hub in Africa The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy studies this country s unique model of development where the state plays a central role and where a successful industrialization drive has challenged the long held erroneous assumption that industrial policy will never work in poor African countries While much of the volume is focused on post 1991 economic development policy and strategy the analysis is set against the background of the long history of Ethiopia and more specifically on the Imperial period that ended in 1974 the socialist development experiment of the Derg regime between 1974 and 1991 and the policies and strategies of the current EPRDF government that assumed power in 1991 Including a range of contributions from both academic and professional standpoints this volume is a key reference work on the economy of Ethiopia

The Political Economy of Chinese FDI in Africa Ayalew Mamo,2024-12-27 This book provides unique insight into Chinese foreign direct investment FDI in Africa With a particular focus on Ethiopia it examines the impact of FDI on Africa's industrial and manufacturing sector and the potential for productive FDI to advance industrialisation and create jobs for a large and young labour market The creation of government policies and an institutional framework for the management of FDI is also examined alongside lessons that can be learnt from policies that were less successful This book offers a comparative perspective on FDI to highlight the forms of government intervention that maximise the economic benefits of FDI It will be relevant to students researchers and policymakers interested in development economics and the political economy Africa and Sustainable Global Value Chains Regina Frei, Sherwat Ibrahim, Temidayo Akenroye, 2022-02-07 This book contains a collection of studies on the interactions between businesses in Africa and Global Value Chains GVCs in terms of social environmental and economic sustainability This is particularly pertinent given the asymmetrical power distribution between the global buyer and the African supplier their governance relationships and the ongoing competitive pressures to reduce costs and increase flexibility to meet GVC demands Rather than focusing on the sustainability of a single organization GVCs address the sustainability of inter firm value chains and global industries as a whole With little differentiation between value chain creation and social environmental degradation extending to people and raw material extraction upstream and disposal or recycling downstream sustainability issues need to be at the forefront of African business research interests Nowadays sustainability is considered a competitive advantage for a firm looking to join a GVC Whether sustainability is approached from the viewpoint of an exporting firm motivated to join a GVC in its respective industry or whether a firm's continuing contractual or collaborative relationship with a buyer depends on its compliance with sustainability standards both approaches focus on the ability of firms in Africa to benefit from joining sustainable GVCs Fibre2Fashion - Textile Magazine - May 2018 Fibre2Fashion, 2018-05-01 Though technically not a textiles apparel congregation the scale and scope of the event makes FESPA Global Print Expo 2018 one of the must visits for the industry The May 2018 issue of Fibre2Fashion presents a curtain raiser for the event that showcases the latest in printing technologies and innovations The edition also takes a closer look at the transparency issue The latest in denims and the future of fashion in India are also discussed under Q A in addition to all regular features Fibre2Fashion magazine the print venture of Fibre2Fashion com since 2011 is circulated among a carefully chosen target audience globally and reaches the desks of top management and decision makers in the textiles apparel and fashion industry As one of India's leading industry magazines for the entire textile value chain Fibre2Fashion Magazine takes the reader beyond the mundane headlines and analyses issues in depth Everyday Practices of State Building in Ethiopia Davide Chinigò, 2022-07-28 Everyday practices of state building interrogates the question about how to reinstate movement to our conceptualisation of state formation in Africa at a time in which the continent witnesses profound social and political transformations inscribed in increasingly globalised and localised dynamics The book revisits key theories of the state adopting a detailed empirical approach that studies how state power operates in the everyday It locates the mutual constitution of state and society in the wide set of scalar processes that articulate how state power structures social life and simultaneously creates the conditions of possibility for new openings and social formations Drawing on five qualitative fieldworks in Ethiopia between 2006 and 2018 the book identifies some important challenges that the ruling Ethiopian Peoples Revolutionary Democratic Front EPRDF has encountered in institutionalising power through the developmental state an ambitious model of state mediated economic liberalisation intended to fulfil the broader re organisation of the Ethiopian state along Ethnic Federalism since 1991 The case studies discuss how policies of resettlement decentralisation agriculture commercialisation entrepreneurship and industrialisation inscribed dynamics of inclusion and exclusion in both rural and urban areas Against these profound transformations beneficiaries casted new meanings to land place and work along struggles to secure reproduction Interrogating the notions of scale and performativity the book revisits dominant approaches that in African studies read state formation along centre periphery relations and ascribe cultural interpretations to the work of state power in the everyday ultimately contributing to important discussions about authoritarianism and ethnonationalism in contemporary Ethiopia Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics democratization decentralization the political impact of natural resources the dynamics and consequences of conflict and the nature of the continent s engagement with the East and West Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The series focuses on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest Series Editors Nic Cheeseman Professor of Democracy and International Development University of Birmingham Ricardo Soares de Oliveira Professor of the International Politics of Africa University of Oxford Peace Medie Senior Lecturer School of Sociology Politics and International Studies University of Bristol

Identifying weak points of existing supply chain and their impact on competitiveness. A study of the Ethiopian apparel manufacturing eco-system Nigussie Godana, 2018-01-22 Master s Thesis from the year 2016 in the subject Business economics Trade and Distribution grade A 10 0 language English abstract This study focusses on reviewing apparel manufacturing eco systems of Ethiopia identifying missing inputs weak points of existing supply chain and assessing their impact on competitiveness of Ethiopian Apparel manufacturing firms Countries compete with each other to improve the standard of living and quality of life of their citizens grow economically attract foreign investments and tourists maintain political stability and build their own brand image by using competitive advantage of their nations Apart from favourable Macro environment GDP purchasing power Economic freedom easy of doing business and political stability low Production factors such as rawmaterials related and supplying industries electric cost and skilled and semiskilled manpower are the source of competitive advantage both to the countries and firms along the supply chain. The textile and clothing industry have been one of the most dynamic and geographically mobile industries globally. The industry is made up of complex global production networks and due to the possibilities of minimizing the costs of production many buying companies use suppliers located in developing countries and manufacturers of textile and clothing companies also relocate themselves in developing countries through foreign direct investment (FDI). Over recent years there has been an increasing amount of interest in Africa for investment as a continent with immense resources and potential. Ethiopia in particular has been singled out as a land of growth and investment opportunity. Ethiopia grows some of the world's finest cotton and has a rich textile spinning and weaving history yet its importance on a global scale remains insignificant. Having experienced average annual growth rate of 10.7% GDP growth consistently since 2006 and a stable political framework since 1995 it still remains largely not yet used or taken advantage of. Although favourable business environment is set by the government there are missing inputs weak points in existing supply chain which should be addressed. For example in the case of garment manufacturing trimming and accessories packaging certification bodies spare part technology and machine maintenance companies and Ecommerce are missed along the supply chain.

Dye Pollution from Textile Industry

Pardeep Singh, 2024-08-22. This book provides a comprehensive overview of the challenges associated with dye pollution and highlights opportunities for sustainable development in the textile industry. It discusses the environmental and health impacts of textile dyeing, the regulations and standards related to dye pollution and the available technologies and strategies for reducing dye pollution. One of the significant challenges associated with dye pollution is the contamination of water resources. The book further discusses the available technologies and strategies for reducing water consumption and improving water treatment in the textile industry. The book also highlights the importance of adopting sustainable production processes and waste management strategies to minimize toxic waste products and eco friendly textile production. This book is a valuable resource for researchers, industry professionals, policymakers and anyone interested in the environmental impact of textile production.

Attracting Investment in Bangladesh—Sectoral Analyses Sanjay Kathuria, Mariem Mezghenni

Malouche, 2016-10-17. This is volume 3 of a three volume publication on Bangladesh's trade prospects. Bangladesh's ambition is to build on its very solid growth and poverty reduction achievements and accelerate growth to become a middle income country by 2021 and share prosperity more widely amongst its citizens. This includes one of its greatest development challenges to provide gainful employment to the over 2 million people that will join the labor force each year over the next decade. Moreover only 54.1 million of its 94 million working age people are employed. Bangladesh needs to use its labor endowment even more intensively to increase growth and in turn to absorb the incoming labor. The Diagnostic Trade Integration Study identifies the following actions centered around four pillars to sustain and accelerate export growth: 1. breaking into new markets through a better trade logistics to reduce delivery lags as world markets become more competitive and newer products demand shorter lead times to generate new sources of competitiveness and thereby enable market diversification and b better exploitation of regional trading opportunities in nearby growing and dynamic markets especially East and South Asia 2 breaking into new products through a more neutral and rational trade policy and taxation and bonded warehouse schemes b concerted efforts to spur domestic investment and attract foreign direct investment to contribute to export promotion and diversification including by easing the energy and land constraints and c strategic development and promotion of services trade 3 improving worker and consumer welfare by a improving skills and literacy b implementing labor and work safety guidelines and c making safety nets more effective in dealing with trade shocks and 4 building a supportive environment including a sustaining sound macroeconomic fundamentals and b strengthening the institutional capacity for strategic policy making aimed at the objective of international competitiveness to help bring focus and coherence to the government s reform efforts This third volume provides in depth analysis of eight different manufacturing and services sectors of the Bangladeshi economy which help to illustrate the thematic analysis of volume 2 and ground it in sector experiences Besides pointing to cross cutting themes the analysis also highlights some specific issues and actions that could help relieve constraints to faster export growth in these sectors
