Falling Leaves , Literary Fantasy in Contemporary Chinese Diasporic Women's Literature Fang Tang, 2019-12-03 This book explores the use of literary fantasy in the construction of identity and home in contemporary diasporic Chinese women's literature It argues that the use of fantasy acts as a way of undermining the power of patriarchy and unsettling fixed notions of home The idea of home explored in this book relates to complicated struggles to gain a sense of belonging as experienced by marginalized subjects in constructing their diasporic identities which can best be understood as unstable shifting and shaped by historical conditions and power relations Fantasy is seen to operate in the corpus of this book as a literary mode as defined by Rosemary Jackson Literary fantasy offers a way to rework ancient myths fairy tales ghost stories and legends it also subverts conventional narratives and challenges the power of patriarchy and other dominant ideologies Through a critical reading of four diasporic Chinese women authors namely Maxine Hong Kingston Adeline Yen Mah Ying Chen and Larissa Lai this book aims to offer critical insights into how their works re-imagine a home through literary fantasy which leads beyond nationalist and Orientalist stereotypes and how essentialist conceptions of diasporic culture are challenged by global geopolitics and cultural interactions Karen Read, Lindy Chamberlain, Joseph Kony, and the Complexity of Ellen G. White: the Falling Leaves of Seventh-day Adventism Richie Cooley, 2025-06-12 Ellen White presented a lot of intriguing material about judgement The questions regarding ultimate justice are often in the news from Joseph Kony in Africa to Karen Read in the United States This booklet considers such topics from a fundamental Christian perspective

Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora Amy Tak-ye Lai, 2009-03-26 The mention of Chinese women writers in diaspora immediately brings to mind Jung Chang b 1952 and her Wild Swans Three Daughters of China 1991 which won the 1992 NCR book award and the 1993 British Book of the Year Award and got officially banned in China Despite its popular reception and crucial acclaim Chang's work has invited a lot of attacks Among the most common is the contention that it merely focuses on the experience of the privileged and does not tell the reader what other memoirs have not already revealed Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora is a pioneering study that focuses on four Chinese women writers currently living in the United States and England whose works have been popularly received and are in many cases highly controversial but have received little scholarly attention Xinran b 1958 Hong Ying b 1962 Anchee Min b 1957 and Adeline Yen Mah b 1937 The chapters illuminate how Xinran constructs her identity and her fellow Chinese women in dialectics of self and other how Hong Ying evokes cycles of return that blend Western and Chinese philosophical concepts how Min employs images of theatre and theatrical conventions to depict the entrapment and transgression of her protagonists and how Mah transliterates and appropriates both Western and Chinese fairy tale motifs to fashion her Chinese feminist utopia While Jung Chang's memoir seems confining it has aroused interest in the genre of Chinese female autobiography and Chinese women writers who live and write between cultures Negotiating Identities Helen Grice, 2002-10-11 Negotiating Identities is a study of the development of writing by Asian American women in the 20th century with particular emphasis on the successful late 20th century writers such as Maxine Hong Kingston Amy Tan Joy Kogawa Bharati Mukherjee and Gish Jen It relates the development of Asian writing by women in America with a comparative element incorporating Britain to a series of theoretical preoccupations the mother daughter dyad biracialism ethnic histories citizenship genre and the idea of home

Spectrums and Spaces of Writing, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2013 The chapters in this book provide an overview of both global and interdisciplinary perspectives on Writing In an era when technology in general and social media in particular has appeared to overtake academic discussion in regard to how we communicate the thoughts research and praxes in this volume reveal that while the concept of writing has changed dramatically in the past decades the flow of words on a page or computer screen as a large flow of text still remains one of the key forms in which humans are able to crystallize thoughts Each chapter reveals a particular facet of this process revealing that it is only through the crafting process of producing words through the conduit of head to heart to hand that we can create and understand the external composite of internal creativity and reveal the power of human reflection The clearly demonstrates that writing is encapsulated humanity Asian American Fiction, History and Life Writing Helena

Grice,2012-11-12 The last ten years have witnessed an enormous growth in American interest in Asia and Asian American history In particular a set of key Asian historical moments have recently become the subject of intense American cultural scrutiny namely China s Cultural Revolution and its aftermath the Korean American war and its legacy the era of Japanese geisha culture and its subsequent decline and China s one child policy and the rise of transracial international adoption in its wake Grice examines and accounts for this cultural and literary preoccupation exploring the corresponding historical political situations that have both circumscribed and enabled greater cultural and political contact between Asia and America

China's Grandmothers Diana Lary,2022-04-21 Over the past century and a half China has experienced foreign invasion warfare political turmoil and revolution along with massive economic and technological change Through all this change there is one stable element grandmothers as child carers household managers religious devotees transmitters of culture and above all sources of love warmth and affection In this interdisciplinary and longitudinal study China s Grandmothers sheds light on the status and lives of grandmothers in China over the years from the late Qing Dynasty to the twenty first century

Combining a wide range of historical and biographical materials Diana Lary explores the changes and continuities in the lives of grandmothers through revolution wars and radical upheaval to the present phase of economic growth Informed by her own experience as a grandchild and grandmother Lary offers a fresh and compelling way of looking at gender family and aging in modern Chinese society

Dodds,2024-06-12 Jaguar Heart is the true story of one woman s spiritual journey as she went from feeling completely alone and different and less than those around her to finding a connection with the entire universe It is also a book about hope for those out there needing to find their true selves a sense of purpose and inner peace For Anna Dodds this journey involved coming to terms with the reality that her entire self view had been shaped through the mental physical and sexual abuse of a narcissistic mother and the dynamics of a family and traditional society that didn't allow her to be her true self Deciding to take matters into her own hands Anna courageously opens herself to both ancient wisdom and new ideas Her empathic nature leads her to seek healing and self knowledge through a variety of modalities These include energy healing meditation yoga astrology tarot reading A Course in Miracles and perhaps most importantly past life regression As Anna experiences visions from previous lives she learns from them including her lifetime as an Indigenous man of pre Columbian tropical America whose tragic fate is still impacting her soul Both intriguing and inspirational Jaguar Heart explores the importance of the mother daughter relationship reclaiming one's true self and being open to an existence beyond the physical world By sharing her experiences and hard earned wisdom Anna lets us know that no one needs to feel alone and that we can all be part of something greater if we open our minds and souls to it Write Your Own Autobiography Natalie M.

Rosinsky, 2008 Explains how to write an autobiography discussing such elements as setting character point of view and plot and contains examples from successful books and profiles of notable authors The Routledge Companion to Asian American Media Lori Lopez, Vincent Pham, 2017-02-24 The Routledge Companion to Asian American Media offers readers a comprehensive examination of the way that Asian Americans have engaged with media from the long history of Asian American actors and stories that have been featured in mainstream film and television to the birth and development of a distinctly Asian American cinema to the ever shifting frontiers of Asian American digital media Contributor essays focus on new approaches to the study of Asian American media including explorations of transnational and diasporic media studies of intersectional identities encompassed by queer or mixed race Asian Americans and examinations of new media practices that challenge notions of representation participation and community Expertly organized to represent work across disciplines this companion is an essential reference for the study of Asian American media and cultural studies Book Review Digest

, 2002 Journal of Asian American Studies, 2008 Trailing Clouds David G. Cowart, 2018-07-05 We stand to learn much about the durability of or changes in the American way of life from writers such as Bharati Mukherjee born in India Ursula Hegi born in Germany Jerzy Kosinski born in Poland Jamaica Kincaid born in Antigua Cristina Garcia born in Cuba Edwidge Danticat born in Haiti Wendy Law Yone born in Burma Mylène Dressler born in the Netherlands Lan Cao born in Vietnam and such Korean born authors as Chang-rae Lee Theresa Hak Kyung Cha and Nora Okja Keller writers who in recent years have come to this country and in their work contributed to its culture David Cowart In Trailing Clouds David Cowart offers fresh insights into contemporary American literature by exploring novels and short stories published since 1970 by immigrant writers Balancing historical and social context with close readings of selected works Cowart explores the major themes raised in immigrant writing the acquisition of language the dual identity of the immigrant the place of the homeland and the nature of citizenship Cowart suggests that the attention to first generation writers those whose parents immigrated has not prepared us to read the fresher stories of those more recent arrivals whose immigrant experience has been more direct and unmediated Highlighting the nuanced reflection in immigrant fiction of a nation that is ever more diverse and multicultural Cowart argues that readers can learn much about the changes in the American way of life from writers who have come to this country embraced its culture and penned substantial literary work in English British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy, Wai-chew Sim, 2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism Additionally the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration it is also the case that the diverse trans cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed Addressing difference commensurability and form related notions of truth content these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose Working as academics and critics from Singapore a useful vantage point Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia for example Japan Hong Kong and Malaysia This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s Salman Rushdie Timothy Mo Kazuo Ishiguro as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal Romesh Gunsekera Monica Ali Hari Kunzru Ooi Yang May and second a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo's Sour Sweet 1982 and Tariq Ali's A Sultan in Palermo 2005 the fourth volume in his Islam quintet
