Rethinking Global Security Media Popular Culture And The War On Terror New Directions In International Studies:

Rethinking Global Security Andrew Martin, Patrice Petro, 2006 In Rethinking Global Security Andrew Martin and Patrice Petro bring together ten path breaking essays that explore the ways that our notions of fear insecurity and danger are fostered by intermediary sources such as television radio film satellite imaging and the Internet The contributors who represent a wide variety of disciplines including communications art history media studies women s studies and literature show how both fictional and fact based threats to global security have helped to create and sustain a culture that is deeply distrustful of images stories reports and policy decisions Topics range from the Patriot Act to the censorship of media personalities such as Howard Stern to the role that Buffy the Vampire Slayer and other television programming play as an interpretative frame for current events

Down to Earth Lisa Parks, James Schwoch, 2012-06-13 Down to Earth presents the first comprehensive overview of the geopolitical maneuvers financial investments technological innovations and ideological struggles that take place behind the scenes of the satellite industry Satellite projects that have not received extensive coverage microsatellites in China WorldSpace in South Africa SiriusXM the failures of USA 193 and Cosmos 954 and Iridium are explored This collection takes readers on a voyage through a truly global industry from the sites where satellites are launched to the corporate clean rooms where they are designed and along the orbits and paths that satellites traverse Combining a practical introduction to the mechanics of the satellite industry a history of how its practices and technologies have evolved and a sophisticated theoretical analysis of satellite cultures Down to Earth opens up a new space for global media studies

Beyond Globalization A. Aneesh, Lane Hall, Patrice Petro, 2011-11-17 Does living in a globally networked society mean that we are moving toward a single homogenous world culture Or are we headed for clashes between center and periphery imperial and subaltern Western and non Western First and Third World The interdisciplinary essays in Beyond Globalization present us with another possibility that new media will lead to new kinds of worldmaking This provocative volume brings together the best new work of scholars within such diverse fields as history sociology anthropology film media studies and art Whether examining the inauguration of a virtual community on the website Second Life or investigating the appropriation of biotechnology for transgenic art this collection highlights how mediated practices have become integral to global culture how social practices have emerged out of computer related industries how contemporary apocalyptic narratives reflect the anxieties of a U S culture facing global challenges and how design play and technology help us understand the histories and ideals behind the digital architectures that mediate our everyday actions

Digital Dilemmas Cristina Venegas, 2010-01-19 The contentious debate in Cuba over Internet use and digital media primarily focuses on three issues maximizing the potential for economic and cultural development establishing stronger ties to the outside world and changing the hierarchy of control A growing number of users decry censorship and insist on personal freedom in accessing the web while the centrally managed system benefits the government in circumventing U S sanctions against the country and in controlling what limited capacity exists Digital Dilemmas views Cuba from the Soviet Union s demise to the present to assess how conflicts over media access play out in their both liberating and repressive potential Drawing on extensive scholarship and interviews Cristina Venegas questions myths of how Internet use necessarily fosters global democracy and reveals the impact of new technologies on the country s governance and culture She includes film in the context of broader media history as well as artistic practices such as digital art and networks of diasporic communities connected by the Web This book is a model for understanding the geopolitic location of power relations in the age of digital information sharing

War Culture and the Contest of Images Dora Apel, 2012-10-19 War Culture and the Contest of Images analyzes the relationships among contemporary war documentary practices and democratic ideals Dora Apel examines a wide variety of images and cultural representations of war in the United States and the Middle East including photography performance art video games reenactment and social media images Simultaneously she explores the merging of photojournalism and artistic practices the effects of visual framing and the construction of both sanctioned and counter hegemonic narratives in a global contest of images As a result of the global visual culture in which anyone may produce as well as consume public imagery the wide variety of visual and documentary practices present realities that would otherwise be invisible or officially off limits In our digital era the prohibition and control of images has become nearly impossible to maintain Using carefully chosen case studies such as Krzysztof Wodiczko s video projections and public works in response to 9 11 and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan the performance works of Coco Fusco and Regina Galindo and the practices of Israeli and Palestinian artists Apel posits that contemporary war images serve as mediating agents in social relations and as a source of protection or refuge for those robbed of formal or state sanctioned citizenship While never suggesting that documentary practices are objective translations of reality Apel shows that they are powerful polemical tools both for legitimizing war and for making its devastating effects visible In modern warfare and in the accompanying culture of war that capitalism produces as a permanent feature of modern society she asserts that the contest of images is as critical as the war on the ground

Hollywood Exiles in Europe Rebecca Prime, 2014-01-14 Rebecca Prime documents the untold story of the American directors screenwriters and actors who exiled themselves to Europe as a result of the Hollywood blacklist During the 1950s and 1960s these Hollywood migr s directed wrote or starred in almost one hundred European productions their contributions ranging from crime film masterpieces like Du rififi chez les hommes 1955 Jules Dassin director to international blockbusters like The Bridge on the River Kwai 1957 Carl Foreman and Michael Wilson screenwriters and acclaimed art films like The Servant 1963 Joseph Losey director At once a lively portrait of a lesser known American lost generation and an examination of an important transitional moment in European cinema the book offers a compelling argument for the significance of the blacklisted migr s to our understanding of postwar American and European cinema and Cold War relations Prime provides detailed accounts of the production and reception of their European films that clarify the ambivalence with which Hollywood was regarded within postwar European culture Drawing upon extensive archival research including previously classified material Hollywood Exiles in Europe suggests the need to rethink our understanding of the Hollywood blacklist as a purely domestic phenomenon By shedding new light on European cinema s changing relationship with Hollywood the book illuminates the postwar shift from national to transnational cinema

Indianizing Film Freya Schiwy, 2009-04-22 Latin American indigenous media production has recently experienced a noticeable boom specifically in Bolivia Ecuador and Colombia Indianizing Film zooms in on a selection of award winning and widely influential fiction and docudrama shorts analyzing them in the wider context of indigenous media practices and debates over decolonizing knowledge Within this framework Freya Schiwy approaches questions of gender power and representation Schiwy argues that instead of solely creating entertainment through their work indigenous media activists are building communication networks that encourage interaction between diverse cultures As a result mainstream images are retooled permitting communities to strengthen their cultures and express their own visions of development and modernization Indianizing Film encourages readers to consider how indigenous media contributes to a wider understanding of decolonization and anticolonial study against the universal backdrop of the twenty first century Aftermaths Marcus Paul Bullock, Peter Yoonsuk Paik, 2009 Aftermaths is a collection of essays offering compelling new ideas on exile migration and diaspora that have emerged in the global age In seeking fresh perspectives on the movement of people and ideas the essays included here look to the power of the aesthetic experience especially in literature and film to unsettle existing theoretical paradigms and enable the rethinking of conventionalized approaches Narrative Landmines Daniel Leonard Bernardi, Pauline Hope Cheong, Chris Lundry, Scott W. Ruston, 2012-03-12 Islamic extremism is the dominant security concern of many contemporary governments spanning the industrialized West to the developing world Narrative Landmines explores how rumors fit into and extend narrative systems and ideologies particularly in the context of terrorism counter terrorism and extremist insurgencies Its concern is to foster a more sophisticated understanding of how oral and digital cultures work alongside economic diplomatic and cultural factors that influence the struggles between states and non state actors in the proverbial battle of hearts and minds Beyond face to face communication the authors also address the role of new and social media in the creation and spread of rumors As narrative forms rumors are suitable to a wide range of political expression from citizens insurgents and governments alike and in places as distinct as Singapore Iraq and Indonesia the case studies presented for analysis The authors make a compelling argument for understanding rumors in these contexts as narrative IEDs low cost low tech weapons that can successfully counter such elaborate and expansive government initiatives as outreach campaigns or strategic communication efforts While not exactly the same as the advanced technological systems or Improvised Explosive Devices to which they are metaphorically related narrative IEDs nevertheless operate as weapons that can aid the extremist cause Sustaining Cities Linda Krause,2012-12-14 What has happened to cities after the global economic recession Sustaining Cities answers this question by explaining how failed governmental policies contributed to urban problems and offering best practices for solving them From social scientists and urban planners to architects and literary and film critics the authors of this unique collection suggest real responses to this crisis Could the drastic declines in housing markets have been avoided Yes if we reframe our housing values Do you want to attract corporate investment to your town You might want to think twice about doing so The extinction of the Celtic Tiger may be charted in statistics but the response in popular Irish mystery novels is much more compelling China while not immune to market vicissitudes still booms but at a considerable cost to its urban identities Whether constructing a sustainable social framework for Mexican mega cities or a neighborhood in London these nine essays consider some strikingly similar strategies And perhaps as the contributors suggest it s time to look beyond the usual boundaries of urban suburban and exurban to forge new links among these communities that will benefit all citizens Accessible to anyone with an interest in how cities cope today Sustaining Cities presents a cautionary tale with a hopeful ending Side Dishes Melissa A Fitch,2009-06-25 Moving beyond the main dishes of traditional literary works Side Dishes offers a provocative and delicious new understanding of Latin American women s authorship and activism The book illuminates a wealth of creative and intellectual work by Latin American women editors directors cartoonists academics performance artists and comedians and explores them in light of their treatment of women s sexuality Side Dishes considers feminist pornography and literary representations of masturbation bisexuality lesbianism and sexual fantasies the treatment of lust in stand up comedy and science fiction critical issues in leading feminist journals and portrayals of sexuality in four contemporary Latin American films Melissa A Fitch concludes with a look at the rise of women s and gender studies programs in Latin America Popular Geopolitics and Nation Branding in the Post-Soviet Realm Robert A. Saunders,2016-07-07 This seminal book explores the complex relationship between popular geopolitics and nation branding among the Newly Independent States of Eurasia and their combined role in shaping contemporary national image and statecraft within and beyond the region It provides critical perspectives on international relations nationalism and national identity through the use of innovative approaches focusing on popular culture new media public diplomacy and alternative narrators of the nation By positing popular geopolitics and nation branding as contentious forces and complementary flows the study explores the tensions and elisions between national self image and external perceptions of the nation and how this complex interplay has become integral to contemporary global affairs Istanbul Nora Fisher,Nora Fisher-Onar,Susan C. Battlefield David Grondin,2013-09-13 In an effort to make sense of war beyond the battlefield in studying the wars that were captured under the rubric of the War on Terror this special issue book seeks to explore the complex spatial relationships between war and the spaces that one is not used to thinking of as the battlefield It focuses on the conflicts that still animate the spaces and places where violence has been launched and that the war has not left untouched In focusing on war beyond the battlefield it is not that the battlefield as the place where war is waged has gone in smoke or has borne out of importance it is rather the case that the battlefield has been dis placed re designed re shaped and rethought through new spatializing practices of warfare These new spaces of war new in the sense that they are not traditionally thought of as spaces where war takes place or is brought to are television screens cellular phones and bandwidth George W Bush s ranch in Crawford Texas videogames popular culture sites news media blogs and so on These spaces of war beyond the battlefield are crucial to understanding what goes on the battlefield in Iraq Afghanistan or in other fronts of the War on Terror such as the homeland to understand how terror has globally been waged beyond the battlefield This book was originally published as a special issue of Geopolitics Bibliographie Internationale de Sociologie Compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science,2007-10-31 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics political science and sociology is well established as a major bibliographic reference for students researchers
