Knabb,2016-03-10 Faith Based ACT for Christian Clients balances empirical evidence with theology to give clinicians a deep understanding of not just the why but also the how of Acceptance and Commitment Therapy for Christian clients Chapters include a detailed exploration of the overlap between ACT and the Christian faith case studies and techniques that are explicitly designed to be accessible to non Christian as well as Christian including evangelical Christian counselors and therapists Chapters present the established research on mindfulness and ACT including a nuanced non dichotomous view of complex issues such as medication and lay a firm theological foundation through the use of engaging biblical stories and metaphors Summer Bird Blue Akemi Dawn Bowman,2020-03-10 A lyrical novel about grief love and finding oneself in the wake of a tragic loss Bustle Gorgeous prose and heartbreaking storytelling Paste Magazine Grabs your heart and won t let go Book Riot A Kirkus Reviews Best Book of the Year Three starred reviews for this stunning novel about a mixed race teen who struggles to find her way back to her love of music in the wake of her sister s death from the author of the William C Morris Award finalist Starfish Rumi Seto spends a lot of time worrying she doesn t have the answers to everything What to eat where to go whom to love But there is one thing she is absolutely sure of she wants to spend the rest of her life writing music with her younger sister Lea Then Lea dies in a car accident and her mother sends her away to live with her aunt in Hawaii while she deals with her own grief Now thousands of miles from home Rumi struggles to navigate the loss of her sister being abandoned by her mother and the absence of music in her life With the help of the boys next door a teenage surfer named Kai who smiles too much and doesn't take anything seriously and an eighty year old named George Watanabe who succumbed to his own grief years ago Rumi attempts to find her way back to her music to write the song she and Lea never had the chance to finish Aching powerful and unflinchingly honest Summer Bird Blue explores big truths about insurmountable grief unconditional love and how to forgive even when it feels impossible Sun at Midnight Andrew Harvey, 2002 As the motor's vibrations cradled me I tried to envision my life I saw the red lines of highways on the map stretched between cities like threads of torn cloth I imagined a book that could hold it all together plains and mountain ranges dust drab towns beyond interstates and somewhere on the far edges the valley in British Columbia and those nights in Virginia when I snuck out and stalked the highway trying to fathom where I belonged on this threadbare continent As a child growing up in rural British Columbia Deni B chard had no idea that his family was extraordinary With a father prone to racing trains and brawling and a mother with interest in health food and the otherworldly Deni finds pleasure in typical boyish activities fishing for salmon with his father and reading with his mother Assigned to complete a family tree in school Deni begins to wonder why he doesn't know more about his father's side of the family His mother is from Pittsburgh and there is a vague sense that his father is from Quebec but why the mystery When his mother leaves Deni's father and decamps with her three children to Virginia his curiosity only grows Who is this man why do the police seem so interested in him and why is his mother so afraid of him And when his mother begrudgingly tells Deni that his father was once a bank robber his imagination is set on fire Boyish rebelliousness soon gives way to fantasies of a life of crime and a deep drive for experience leads him to a number of adventures hitching to Memphis and stealing a motorcycle fighting classmates and kissing girls Before long young Deni is imagining himself as a character in one of his father's stories or in the novels he devours greedily At once attracted and repelled Deni can't escape the sense that his father's life holds the key to understanding himself and to making sense of his own passions aversions and motivations Eventually he moves back to British Columbia only to find himself snared in the controlling impulses of his mysterious father and increasingly obsessed by his father's own muted recollections of the Quebecois childhood he'd fled long ago At once an extraordinary family story and a highly unconventional portrait of the artist as a young man Cures for Hunger is a singular deeply affecting memoir by one of the most acclaimed young writers in the world today Pulp Classics John Gregory Betancourt, 2005-01-01 The Thrill Book is a legendary magazine one of the holy grails of pulp collecting Original copies sell for thousands of dollars if you can find them Running for sixteen issues in 1919 it was a magazine of strange bizarre occult mysterious tales but not quite a fantastic fiction magazine mixing various types of adventure stories with often outstanding fantasy horror and science fiction by Murray Leinster Seabury Quinn Francis Stevens Perley Moore Sheehan Tod Robbins Edward Lucas White Greye La Spina and other giants of the pulp era While sheer scarcity may have once added something to the lustre of The Thrill Book now that an issue is finally made available at an affordable price the reader may appreciate that this truly was a pioneering and supremely entertaining publication

The Silver Menace Murray Leinster, 2023-10-26 In The Silver Menace Murray Leinster crafts a compelling science fiction narrative that deftly intertwines adventure and technological musings against a backdrop of interstellar intrigue The story follows a gripping conflict between humanity and a mysterious resource driven alien force rendered with Leinster's signature blend of vivid prose and imaginative world building As the tension escalates the book raises profound questions about coexistence and the ethical dilemmas surrounding technological advancement situating it within the rich literary context of mid 20th century speculative fiction a period characterized by both optimism and anxiety regarding space exploration Murray Leinster a prolific author known for his pioneering contributions to the genre often explored themes of communication conflict and human resilience His extensive experiences in various fields including engineering and radio informed his storytelling enabling him to propose thought provoking scenarios and intricate technological possibilities Leinster's keen understanding of the societal implications of science fiction reflected his own observations of rapid technological change during his lifetime providing depth and relevance to his narratives I highly recommend The Silver Menace to avid science fiction enthusiasts and newcomers alike as it not only offers a captivating tale of alien encounters but also prompts readers to reflect on the complexities of progress and the ethical responsibilities it entails This novel stands as a testament to Leinster's enduring legacy in shaping the genre and continues to resonate with contemporary audiences

Seafaring in the Arabian Gulf and Oman Dionisius A. Agius, 2012-12-06 This book is a study of the seafaring communities of the Arabian Gulf and Oman in the past 150 years It analyses the significance of the dhow and how coastal communities interacted throughout their long tradition of seafaring In addition to archival material the work is based on extensive field research in which the voices of seamen were recorded in over 200 interviews The book provides an integrated study of dhow activity in the area concerned and examines the consciousness of belonging to the wider culture of the Indian ocean as it is expressed in boat building traditions navigational techniques crew organisation and port towns People of the Dhow brings together the different measures of time past the sea its people and their material culture The Arabian Gulf and Oman have traditionally shared a common destiny within the Western Indian Ocean The seasonal monsoonal winds were fundamental to the physical and human unities of the seafaring communities producing a way of life in harmony with the natural world a world which was abruptly changed with the discovery of oil What remains is memories of a seafaring past a history of traditions and customs recorded here in the recollections of a dying generation and in the rich artistic heritage of the region
