Rural Development Policy And Strategic Framework Uganda:

Rural Development Policies and Sustainable Land Use in the Hillside Areas of Honduras: A Quantitative Livelihoods Approach Jansen, Hans G. P., Pender, John L., Damon, Amy, Schipper, Robert A., 2006 Poverty is deep and widespread in Honduras. This is especially the case in the hillside areas home to one third of the country's population, the majority of whom earn their living through agriculture. While both policymakers and donors are under strong pressure to provide adequate interventions, they require guidance on what drives sustainable rural productivity growth, how to prioritize expenditures, and how to formulate effective development strategies. In this report, the authors develop an integrated econometric framework based on the livelihoods concept and demonstrate how it can be used as a policy targeting tool. Using this framework, the authors provide policymakers and stakeholders with empirical information on the livelihood strategies currently employed in the hillside areas of Honduras, existing opportunities for alleviating poverty, and potential priorities for policy and investments.

Nucleated Villages A Strategy for Rural Development in Northern Uganda Silver Jubilee Ocitti, 2011-08-01 Detailed exploration of this methodology and potential for rural development from its ashes after protracted military conflict into a model agricultural economy is the mandate of this book. Drawing from examples from developed economies as well as the emerging and developing regions, this compelling and comprehensive essay on the reorganization of Uganda sets out to demonstrate the importance of nucleation of large agrarian communities as a means of achieving sustainable rural development in present-day Africa. The practical ideas presented by the author make this book an important read for all those committed to rural African development. Working with local government structures, Ocitti plans what will no doubt become the backbone of the much-needed Northern Uganda and indeed Uganda and Africa's agricultural, economical, social, and cultural reform.

AIDS and Rural Livelihoods Anke Niehof, Gabriel Rugalema, 2019-01-15 AIDS epidemics continue to threaten the livelihoods of millions of people in sub-Saharan Africa. Three decades after the disease was first recognized, the annual death toll from AIDS exceeds that from wars, famine, and floods combined. Yet despite millions of dollars of aid and research, there has previously been little detailed on-the-ground analysis of the multifaceted impacts on rural people. Filling that gap, this book brings together recent evidence of AIDS impacts on rural households, livelihoods, and agricultural practice in sub-Saharan Africa. There is particular emphasis on the role of women in affected households and on the situation of children. The book is unique in presenting micro-level information collected by original empirical research in a range of African countries and showing how well-grounded conclusions on trends, impacts, and local responses can be applied to the design of HIV-responsive policies and programmes. AIDS impacts are more diverse than we previously thought, and local responses more varied, sometimes innovative, sometimes desperate. The book represents a major contribution to our understanding of the impacts of AIDS in the epidemic's heartland and how these can be managed at different levels.

Rural

Development Adam Pain, Kjell Hansen, 2019-06-17 Rural Development is a textbook that critically examines economic social and cultural aspects of rural development efforts both in the global north and in the global south By consistently using examples from the north and the south the book highlights similarities of processes as well as differences in contexts The authors knowledge of Afghanistan and Sweden respectively creates a core for the discussions which are complemented with a wide range of other empirical examples Rural Development is divided into nine chapters each with a thematic focus ranging from concepts and theories through rural livelihoods and natural resources to discussions on policy and processes of change The book sees rural development as a multi level multi actor and multi faceted subject area that needs multidisciplinary perspectives both to support it and to analyse it Throughout the book examples of rural development interventions are discussed using analytical concepts such as power discourse consequences and context to grasp rural development as practices that are more than what is presented in policy documents The book is written in a way that makes it accessible for undergraduates while at the same time caters for the kind of deeper reading used by master students and Ph D s Every chapter is linked to discussion questions as well as suggested further readings and useful websites

Policy guide to improve water productivity in small-scale agriculture Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2020-05-01 In developing countries further progress of irrigation is essential for increasing food security and farmers income However developing small scale schemes remains a challenge due to multiple factors that must be taken into consideration such as diversity of small scale schemes a large number of water users social disharmony over the water use varying water demands of multi cropping systems heterogeneity of equipment over the scheme Furthermore on farm irrigation development has a major role in enhancing Agricultural Water Management AWM The previous development methods considered the improvement of single factor productivity but agriculture is undergoing a global shift from the single objective of outputs such as yield or net income to multiple objectives of increasing outputs while conserving natural resources Many pathways towards enhancement of Water Productivity WP are directly related to improving overall farm agronomic management irrigation fertilization plant density plant protection etc while external measures must be applied to ensure sustainability of introduced good practices lack of input markets scarce knowledge poor infrastructures water regulations etc Thus introducing irrigation practices to farmers must undergo a step wise process to ensure that costs do not outweigh achievable benefits and both institutional and technical environment are capable to sustain results This is the case in smallholders schemes where farmers are poorly resourced In order to address these issues the current policy guide presents a combined methodology which involves practical experiences drawn from FAO work in the three countries as well as researchers results to line up a set of feasible measures to improving WP
