The Hunting and Killing of Rwandan Refugees in Zaire-Congo 1996-1997 Laurence Binet, 2014-04-01 The Hunting and killings of the Rwandan refugee in Zaire Congo case study is describing the constraints and dilemmas faced by Médecins Sans Frontières teams in 1996 and 1995 when trying to bring assistance to the Rwandan refugees in Eastern Zaire after their camps had been attacked by the rebel forces supported by the Rwandan army could MSF extrapolate from the little known conditions of these refugees and their health needs to speak out about their presumed current plight despite the fact that it had no access to them Conversely given lack of access should MSF refrain from making predictions Is it wise for a humanitarian organisation to predict the worst Given that MSF was being used to lure refugees from hiding should the organisation cease activities in the area or pursue them condemning manipulation in the hope of preventing massacres but at the risk of endangering its teams and other operations in the region Should MSF call for the refugees to remain in eastern Zaire with its deadly dangers or participate in their forced repatriation to Rwanda where their security was not guaranteed either

The Banyamulenge Soldier Christopher P. Davey, 2025-09-29 The Banyamulenge Soldier offers a critical analysis of combatant experiences from within the Rwandan Patriotic Front RPF and subsequent armed groups through the interpretation of Banyamulenge soldier narratives Banyamulenge young men joined the RPF and acted as foot soldiers in the RPF's fight against the genocidaire in 1994 and later conflicts becoming active agents of conflict in the region up to the present In examining the highly political discourse and stories around the Rwandan conflict and Congo wars this book examines RPF memory the evolution of its uses of violence and how these memories have shaped Banyamulenge combatants Challenging the preconceived perpetrator and victim categories with a forward thinking approach using the concept of genocide narrative identity meaning a narrative identity shaped by experiences of social destruction or uses of genocide as a concept Christopher P Davey reveals how the stories we tell about ourselves shapes who we are He shows that Banyamulenge experiences of genocide between Congo and Rwanda are layered around agencies of victimhood and perpetration of genocide Using soldier and other community narratives Davey examines the subjective nature of genocide in perception of an event strategic deployment of the label and in the re shaping of social worlds inhabited by this community and therefore impacting others in Congo and Rwanda The Banyamulenge Soldier offers an insider view of the historical dynamics of current conflicts in South Kivu while adding to our understanding of relational genocide theory

From Migrants to Refugees Jill Rosenthal, 2023-10-06 In From Migrants to Refugees Jill Rosenthal tells the history of how Rwandan migrants in a Tanzanian border district became considered either citizens or refugees as nation state boundaries solidified in the wake of decolonization Outlining the process by which people who have long lived and circulated across the Rwanda Tanzania border came to have a national identity Rosenthal reveals humanitarian aid's central role in the ideological processes of decolonization and nation building From precolonial histories to the first Rwandan refugee camps during decolonization in the 1960s to the massive refugee camps in the 1990s Rosenthal highlights the way that this area became a testing ground for novel forms of transnational aid to refugees that had global implications As local and national actors refugees and international officials all attempted to control the lives and futures of refugee groups they contested the authority of the nation state and the international refugee regime This history Rosenthal demonstrates illuminates how tensions between state and international actors divided people who share a common history culture and language across national borders

A History of Genocide in Africa Timothy J. Stapleton, 2017-04-17 Based on a series of detailed case studies this book presents the history of genocide in Africa within the specific context of African history examining conflicts in countries such as Burundi Democratic Republic of Congo Namibia Rwanda and Sudan Why has Africa been the subject of so many accusations related to genocide Indeed the number of such allegations related to Africa has increased dramatically over the past 15 years Popular racist mythology might suggest that Africans belong to tribes that are inherently antagonistic towards each other and therefore engage in tribal warfare which cannot be rationally explained This concept is wrong as Timothy J Stapleton explains in A History of Genocide in Africa the many conflicts that have plagued post colonial Africa have had very logical explanations and very few of these instances of African warring can be said to have resulted in genocide Authored by an expert historian of Africa this book examines the history of six African countries Namibia Rwanda Burundi Democratic Republic of Congo Sudan and Nigeria in which the language of genocide has been mobilized to describe episodes of tragic mass violence It seeks to place genocide within the context of African history acknowledging the few instances where the international legal term genocide has been applied appropriately to episodes of mass violence in African history and identifying the many other cases where it has not and instead the term has been used in a cynical manipulation to gain some political advantage Readers will come to understand how to a large extent genocide accusations related to post colonial Africa have often served to prolong wars and cause greater loss of life The book also clarifies how in areas of Africa where genocides have actually occurred there appears to have been a common history of the imposition of racial ideologies and hierarchies during the colonial era which when combined with other factors such as the local geography demography religion and or economics resulted in tragic and appalling outcomes

The Making of the Modern Refugee Peter Gatrell, 2013-09-12 The Making of the Modern Refugee proposes a new approach to a fundamental aspect of twentieth century history by bringing the causes consequences and meanings of global population displacement within a single frame Its broad chronological and geographical coverage extending from Europe and the Middle East to South Asia South East Asia and sub Saharan Africa makes it possible to compare crises and how they were addressed Wars revolutions and state formation are invoked as the main causal explanations of displacement and are considered alongside the emergence of a twentieth century refugee regime linking governmental practices professional expertise and humanitarian relief efforts How and for whom did refugees become a problem for organizations such as the League of Nations and UNHCR and for non governmental organizations NGOs What solutions were entertained and implemented and why What were the implications for refugees These questions invite us to consider how refugees engaged with the myriad ramifications of enforced migration and thus the significance that they attached to the places they left behind to their journeys and destinations in short how refugees helped interpreted and fashioned their own history The Making of the Modern Refugee rests upon scholarship from several disciplines and draws upon oral testimony eye witness accounts and cultural production as well as extensive unpublished source material

Accountability for International Humanitarian Law Violations: The Case of Rwanda and East Timor Mohamed Othman, 2005-12-10 The main objective of this book is to make available to an informed audience a legal and policy oriented study on accountability for serious human rights and international humanitarian law violations It is an attempt to share the lessons learnt in accountability for atrocity crimes as conducted by the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda ICTR and the United Nations Transitional Administration in East Timor UNTAET The former established subsequent to egregious atrocities that took place in 1994 and the latter following the massive outburst of violence in 1999 The book is based on two cases Rwanda and East Timor It is expected that it will serve as reference literature to both the legal community and policy makers on accountability for heinous international crimes As the international community and States following serious human rights and international humanitarian law violations have painfully come to terms with their obligations to bring to justice persons in high offices or leadership positions de jure or de facto alleged to have committed such crimes it has also become imperative that beginners mistakes be avoided When the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia ICTY was established in 1993 and the ICTR in 1994 and commenced their pioneering mandates there was no template on which the prosecution of individuals most responsible or with the greatest responsibility could be cast Accountability had to be experimental

 Robert Muggah,2013-04-04 Africa s refugee and IDP camps are a cause of major concern to the international community Millions of men women and children endure situations of protracted displacement in deplorable conditions In the absence of more durable solutions refugees and IDPs in many situations are exceptionally susceptible to militarization No Refuge describes how the phenomenon of refugee militarization threatens to undermine asylum and protection This edited volume is a timely and invaluable resource for governments UNHCR protection officers UN agencies and NGOs It is a must read for all concerned with improving the safety and rights of refugees and IDPs on the ground Ant nio Guterres United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees No Refuge provides a timely analysis by a group of Africa experts of the causes and consequences of refugee militarization in Africa It should prove invaluable for practitioners policy makers and academics in their quest to find practical and effective remedies for this growing humanitarian and security problem I highly recommend it Professor Gil Loescher Centre for International Studies University of Oxford The militarization of refugees and internally displaced persons IDPs is a persistent and tragic feature of protracted displacement situations especially in Africa The phenomenon threatens access to asylum and protection core pillars of refugee law and the mandates of aid agencies But while policy debates rage over how best to disarm refugees and prevent them from destabilizing neighbouring states there is surprisingly little evidence explaining why displaced people arm themselves or precisely how militarization affects hosting communities No Refuge analyses the experience of refugee and IDP militarization in several African countries affected by and emerging from civil war including Guinea Rwanda Uganda and Tanzania It provides a considered overview of the historical political and regional dimensions of refugee and IDP militarization in Africa as well as international and national efforts to contain it      Immigration and Asylum Matthew J. Gibney, Randall Hansen, 2005-06-21 A comprehensive and timely examination of the history and current status of immigrants and refugees their stories the events that led to their movement and the place of these movements in contemporary history and politics Immigration and Asylum From 1900 to the Present is an accessible and up to date introduction to the key concepts terms personalities and real world issues associated with the surge of immigration from the beginning of the 20th century to the present It focuses on the United States but is also the first encyclopedic work on the subject that reflects a truly global perspective With contributions from the world s foremost authorities on the subject Immigration and Asylum offers nearly 200 entries organized around four themes immigration and asylum the major migrating groups around the world expulsions and other forced population movements and the politics of migration In addition to basic entries the work includes in depth essays on important trends events and current conditions There is no better resource for exploring just how profoundly the voluntary and forced movement of asylum seekers and refugees has transformed the world and what that transformation means to us today      Report of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, 1997
