RE: Application for the (insert name) Scholarship

Dear (insert name) Selection Committee,

This letter acts as a request for the (insert name of scholarship) and with this document I submit the rest of the application. I am currently a (insert subject name) student at (insert university name) and will be starting my (enter year of study) this fall/next month/in October.

I am applying for this scholarship due to financial difficulties/a keen interest in the subject/to be able to support my studies. (give more details on the reason for the application). I came to hear about the (enter name) scholarship through a friend/a professor/an advertisement on campus.

Throughout my educational career I have always been hard-working and determined, always putting in 100% effort with any task I must complete. I hope you will be able to consider my application and take into account my circumstances to see what arrangement will be best.

If there are any doubts or questions about my application, please contact me at any time. I will make a visit to the (insert name) department next week to confirm you have received my application.

Thank you for your time.

Convergence Analysis of Proximal-like Methods for Variational Inequalities and Fixed Point Problems Nils Langenberg, 2011 Several regularization methods for variational inequalities and fixed point problems are studied. Known convergence results especially require some kind of monotonicity of the problem data as well as especially for Bregman function based algorithms some additional assumption known as the cutting plane property. Unfortunately these assumptions may be considered as rather restrictive e.g. in the framework of Nash equilibrium problems. This motivates the development of convergence results under weaker hypotheses which constitute the major subject of the present book. Studied methods include the Bregman function based Proximal Point Algorithm (BPPA), Cohen's Auxiliary Problem Principle and an extragradient algorithm. Moreover, this work also contains the first numerical comparison of stopping criteria in the framework of the BPPA. Although such conditions are the subject of theoretical investigations, frequently their numerical effectiveness and a deducible preference were still unknown. This gives rise to the necessity of the presented numerical experiments.

Recent Advances in Environmental Science from the Euro-Mediterranean and Surrounding Regions Amjad Kallel, Mohamed Ksibi, Hamed Ben Dhia, Nabil Khélifi, 2017-12-12 This volume includes the papers presented during the 1st Euro Mediterranean Conference for Environmental Integration (EMCEI) which was held in Sousse, Tunisia, in November 2017. This conference was jointly organized by the editorial office of the Euro Mediterranean Journal for Environmental Integration in Sfax, Tunisia, and Springer MENA Publishing Program in Germany. It aimed to give a more concrete expression to the Euro Mediterranean integration process by supplementing existing North-South programs and agreements with a new multilateral scientific forum that emphasizes in particular the vulnerability and proactive remediation of the Euro Mediterranean region from an environmental point of view. This volume gives a general and brief overview on current research focusing on emerging environmental issues and challenges and its applications to a variety of problems in the Euro Mediterranean zone and surrounding regions. It contains over five hundred and eighty carefully refereed short contributions to the conference. Topics covered include: 1 innovative approaches and methods for environmental sustainability; 2 environmental risk assessment, bioremediation, ecotoxicology and environmental safety; 3 water resources assessment, planning, protection and management; 4 environmental engineering and management; 5 natural resources characterization, assessment, management and valorization; 6 intelligent techniques in renewable energy, biomass, wind, waste, solar; 7 sustainable management of marine environment and coastal areas; 8 remote sensing and GIS for geo-environmental investigations; 9 environmental impacts of geo-natural hazards, earthquakes, landslides, volcanic and marine hazards; and 10 the environmental health science, natural and social impacts on human health. Presenting a wide range of topics and new results, this edited volume will appeal to anyone working in the subject area, including researchers and students interested to learn more about new advances in environmental research initiatives in view of the ever-growing environmental degradation in the Euro Mediterranean region.
