an economy of exchange that perpetuates the transmission of HIV AIDS This sobering ethnography challenges conventional understandings of HIV AIDS in South Africa Women Leadership in Emerging Markets Shireen Chengadu, Caren Scheepers, 2017-07-06 This book focuses on the increase in female leadership over the last fifty years and the concrete benefits and challenges this leads to in organizations It moves beyond the typical focus on developed Western contexts and answers the call for research on how women in emerging markets rise above the proverbial glass ceiling The authors integrate two underdeveloped topics that are highly relevant to modern business women in leadership roles and women in emerging markets They examine how women leaders in a range of professional services including accounting consulting law engineering and medicine have managed to navigate their careers while considering the role emerging markets play in their work Based on cutting edge research the topics are brought to life through examples and profiles of leading women across Africa the Middle East and the Far East These narratives told in the leaders own words are key to understanding women s achievements and the barriers they face Students of leadership diversity gender studies and human resource management will learn much from this insightful book The Palgrave Handbook of African Education and Indigenous Knowledge Jamaine M. Abidogun, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-02 This handbook explores the evolution of African education in historical perspectives as well as the development within its three systems Indigenous Islamic and Western education models and how African societies have maintained and changed their approaches to education within and across these systems African education continues to find itself at once preserving its knowledge while integrating Islamic and Western aspects in order to compete within this global reality Contributors take up issues and themes of the positioning resistance accommodation and transformations of indigenous education in relationship to the introduction of Islamic and later Western education Issues and themes raised acknowledge the contemporary development and positioning of indigenous education within African societies and provide understanding of how indigenous education works within individual societies and national frameworks as an essential part of African contemporary society The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing, Volume III: Wellbeing Rachel Heydon, Daisy Fancourt, Annabel J. Cohen, 2020-05-19 The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing Volume III Wellbeing explores the connections between singing and health promoting the power of singing in public policy and in practice in confronting health challenges across the lifespan These chapters shape an interdisciplinary research agenda that advances singing s theoretical empirical and applied contributions providing methodologies that reflect individual and cultural diversities Contributors assess the current state of knowledge and present opportunities for discovery in three parts Singing and Health Singing and Cultural Understanding Singing and Intergenerational Understanding In 2009 the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada funded a seven year major collaborative research initiative known as Advancing Interdisciplinary Research in Singing AIRS Together global researchers from a broad range of disciplines addressed three challenging questions How does singing develop in every human being How should singing be taught and used to teach How does singing impact wellbeing Across three volumes The Routledge Companion to Interdisciplinary Studies in Singing consolidates the findings of each of these three questions defining the current state of theory and research in the field Volume III Wellbeing focuses on this third question and the health benefits of singing singing praises for its effects on wellbeing From History to Herstory Paul Leshota, Maxwell Musingafi, Itumeleng Mokhele, Makhulu Makumane, 2024-11-15 This book seeks to contribute to reflections done on the gender equality agenda by combing through oral and written resources to unearth and document heroic displays of leadership by women of Africa in general and of Southern Africa in particular that remain hidden under the rubble of Eurocentric colonial and African patriarchal archive and hegemony It seeks to open the archive of Southern Africa to unearth the names of women who have played an important role in shaping the course of Southern Africa history in every way While acknowledging the systematic marginalisation of women s voices and identities by scribal patriarchy the aim is to bring to life women s experiences and voices through critical engagement of sources of knowledge available to Africa in general and southern Africa in particular The chapters of this book will contribute to the debate on gender equality and women empowerment by women themselves within the framework of Sustainable Development Goals especially SDG 5 The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike Family Planning Zouhair Amarin, 2018-06-13 Women with unmet need for family planning are those who are fecund but are not using any method of contraception not wanting any more children or wanting to delay the next pregnancy This notion points to the gap between women's reproductive intentions and their contraceptive behavior. The need for contraception remains too high. This circumstance is made worse by both a growing population and a shortage of family planning services. It is important that family planning is widely available and easily accessible. This book is intended as an aid to substance that all health workers interested in becoming more effective practitioners will consult on many occasions during their clinical practice. It provides views that the readers can test their experiences against. It presents sound and clear advice on some of the most practical guidance applicable to family planning.

HIV and Young People Gary Jones, 2015-11-30. Revisiting the thinking on vulnerability to HIV and risk of infection, this book provides better understanding by considering the risk of HIV infection alongside notions of personal and collective resilience, dignity and humiliation. The work shows that young people in the urban slum dignify their world and in doing so establish priorities and draw on a set of references oftentimes intelligible to them alone. Moreover, humiliation as an interpersonal event adds to a sense of vulnerability and lies closely behind choices directly affecting personal health and livelihood. Thus, dignity and humiliation are shown for the first time to have a critical role in health seeking and risky behavior related to HIV, and this is an area in great need of further research. The crucial focus of this work is further emphasized by the rapid growth of urban slums and high rates of HIV among both slum dwellers and young people who continue to bear the brunt of the AIDS epidemic thirty years on. This comprehensive literature review provides a compelling argument that the time is right to further explore the nexus of risk and resilience from a people-centered perspective. Fresh insight is critical to reach the goal of ending AIDS by 2030.

Religion, Women's Health Rights, and Sustainable Development in Zimbabwe: Volume 2 Sophia Chirongoma, Molly Manyonganise, Ezra Chitando, 2022-08-26. This volume brings to the fore the interface of religion, women's sexual reproductive health and rights (SRHR) and the sustainable development goals (SDGs) in Zimbabwe. It emphasizes that empowering African women is a pivotal pillar for attaining sustainable development. Contributors discuss the need for implementing structural changes as a prerequisite for social progress and development to occur in Southern Africa. They interrogate the extent to which religious beliefs and practices either promote or impede women's SRHR. The contributors also proffer several ways in which addressing the themes of health for all and equality for all women and girls can make a meaningful contribution towards the fulfillment of the goals set for Agenda 2030.

Childlessness in Bangladesh Papreen Nahar, 2021-09-21. This book examines the intersectionality and stratified lived experience of rural poor and urban middle class childless women in Bangladesh. Childless women in Bangladesh, an overpopulated country where fertility control is the primary focus of health policy, are all but nonexistent. Papreen Nahar offers an alarming account of stigma, abuse, ostracism and violence against these women sharing their experiences of marginalisation in a culture that idealises motherhood. In such a reality, the experience of childlessness, particularly for women, can be much more severe than what is defined as infertility in the biomedical sense. As childlessness is a complex interaction between biology, society and culture, the book illustrates the ways in which infertility transforms a health problem into social suffering Although Bangladeshi childless women are systematically excluded by various structural forces it appears they do not succumb to their circumstances rather they develop resilience and agency to become survivors of their new albeit bleak lives The volume will be of interest to scholars working in anthropology reproductive and women s health global health gender studies development studies and Asian studies Thrive Sumita Singha,2023-11-15 Architecture needs women How can the built environment be designed without the expert input of half the population In spite of the significant number of women choosing to study architecture as undergraduates once qualified women remain in the minority As professionals their expertise is often overlooked their work devalued and their contribution to the canon forgotten Yet women s work is critical to the sustainability of a profession that must aspire to design high quality buildings for the whole of society How can architecture attract recruit and retain women And how can women find ways to thrive within it Underpinned by inclusion internationalism and intersectionality this practical guide looks back as well as forward exploring the history of women working in architecture as well as interrogating the contemporary landscape It provides guidance tips and examples for navigating key points in an architect s career including education practice projects and promotion Inspiring case studies of women and women led practices consider what success means and how to negotiate a route to a fruitful career and a balanced life as an architect The book covers women architects from all walks of life all sizes of practice and from all over the world including Jeanne Gang Yasmeen Lari and Anupama Kundoo as well as many other historical and contemporary women architects and emerging practices Featuring guidance on Understanding the barriers and history of women in architecture Expanding the opportunities and visibility of women in leading roles The importance of role models and mentoring With a foreword by Jane Duncan OBE PPRIBA Sankofa: Appreciating the Past in Planning the Future of Early Childhood Education, Care and Development in Africa UNESCO,2023-04-01
