Vanden Eykel, 2016-12-01 This study of the Protevangelium of James explores the interrelationship of authors readers texts and meaning Its central aim is to better understand how the process of repetition gave rise to the narratives of the early Christian movement and how that process continued to fuel the creativity and imagination of future generations Divided into three parts Vanden Eykel addresses first specific episodes in the life of the Virgin consisting of Mary's childhood in the Jerusalem temple PJ 7-9 her spinning thread for the temple veil PJ 10-12 and Jesus' birth in a cave outside Bethlehem PJ 17-20 The three episodes present a uniform picture of how the reader's discernment of intertexts can generate new layers of meaning and that these layers may reveal new aspects of the author's meaning some of which the author may not have anticipated

Empires of Vision Martin Jay, Sumathi Ramaswamy, 2014-03-14 Empires of Vision brings together pieces by some of the most influential scholars working at the intersection of visual culture studies and the history of European imperialism The essays and excerpts focus on the paintings maps geographical surveys postcards photographs and other media that comprise the visual milieu of colonization struggles for decolonization and the lingering effects of empire Taken together they demonstrate that an appreciation of the role of visual experience is necessary for understanding the functioning of hegemonic imperial power and the ways that the colonized subjects spoke and looked back at their imperial rulers Empires of Vision also makes a vital point about the complexity of image culture in the modern world We must comprehend how regimes of visuality emerged globally not only in the metropole but also in relation to the putative margins of a world that increasingly came to question the very distinction between center and periphery Contributors Jordanna Bailkin Roger Benjamin Daniela Bleichmar Zeynep elik David Ciarlo Natasha Eaton Simon Gikandi Serge Gruzinski James L Hevia Martin Jay Brian Larkin Olu Oguibe Ricardo Padr n Christopher Pinney Sumathi Ramaswamy Benjamin Schmidt Terry Smith Robert Stam Eric A Stein Nicholas Thomas Krista A Thompson

A Social History of Books and Libraries from Cuneiform to Bytes Patrick M. Valentine, 2012-09-27 While the importance of writing has often been recognized the role of books and especially that of libraries has just as often been slighted Knowledge once generated has to be communicated preserved and accessible Books in their varying formats from clay tablets to scrolls and manuscripts to pixels have been instrumental in spreading knowledge although relatively little attention has been given to the story of books themselves A Social History of Books and Libraries from Cuneiform to Bytes traces the roles of books and libraries throughout recorded history and explores their social and cultural importance within differing societies and changing times It presents the history of books from clay tablets to e-books and the history of libraries whether built of bricks or bytes Following an introduction that sets the theoretical basis for the historical importance of books and libraries chapters alternate between the history of the book and the history of libraries Included within the chapters are short excursions on some particular development such as book emblems or cataloging Case studies are given as thematic illustrations of libraries everywhere Patrick M Valentine argues that social and cultural forces have been more influential in determining the nature and status of information books and libraries than has technology But A Social History of Books and Libraries is far from a jeremiad against technology rather it presents history within the subtle yet shifting context of time and place Although written primarily for librarians and library students it will also be of interest to a wider audience of scholars and those interested in books libraries and cultural history
