The Metalanguage of Translation Yves Gambier, Luc van

Doorslaer, 2009-10-07 Let the meta discussion begin James Holmes urged in 1972 Coming almost forty years later years filled with fascinating and often unexpected developments in the interdiscipline of Translation Studies this volume offers the reader a multiplicity of meta perspectives while also moving the discussion forward Indeed the reproduction and re use of metalinguistic metaphors frame and partly determine our views on research so such a discussion is vital as it is in any scholarly discipline Among other questions the eleven contributors draw the reader's attention to the often puzzling variations of usage and conceptualization in both the theory and the practice of translation First published as a special issue of Target 19 2 2007 the volume runs the gamut of metalinguistic topics ranging from terminology localization and epistemological questions through the Chinese perspective to the conceptual mapping of the online Translation Studies

Bibliography Translation and Cultural Change Eva Hung, 2005-05-26 History tells us that translation plays a part in the development of all cultures Historical cases also show us repeatedly that translated works which had real social and cultural impact often bear little resemblance to the idealized concept of a good translation Since the perception and reception of translated works as well as the translation norms which are established through contest and or consensus reflect the concerns preferences and aspirations of their host cultures they are never static or homogenous even within a given culture This book is dedicated to exploring some of the factors in the interplay of culture and translation with an emphasis on translation activities outside the Anglo European tradition particularly in China and Japan Beyond Descriptive Translation Studies Anthony Pym, Miriam Shlesinger, Daniel Simeoni, 2008-03-13 To go beyond the work of a leading intellectual is rarely an unambiguous tribute However when Gideon Toury founded Descriptive Translation Studies as a research based discipline he laid down precisely that intellectual challenge not just to describe translation but to explain it through reference to wider relations That call offers at once a common base an open and multidirectional ambition and many good reasons for unambiguous tribute The authors brought together in this volume include key players in Translation Studies who have responded to Toury's challenge in one way or another Their diverse contributions address issues such as the sociology of translators contemporary changes in intercultural relations the fundamental problem of defining translations the nature of explanation and case studies including pseudotranslation in Renaissance Italy Sherlock Holmes in Turkey and the coffee and sugar economy in Brazil All acknowledge Translation Studies as a research based space for conceptual coherence and creativity all seek to explain as well as describe In this sense we believe that Toury's call has been answered beyond expectations Language, 1995 Einführung in das translationswissenschaftliche Arbeiten Susanne Hagemann, 2015-10-16 Wie schreibt man eigentlich eine translationswissenschaftliche Haus oder Abschlussarbeit Dieses Lehr- und Übungsbuch begleitet Studierende auf dem Weg von der Themenwahl bis zum Korrekturlesen des fertigen Textes Vom Inhalt über die Form und Sprache bis hin zum Layout werden die Merkmale einer translationswissenschaftlichen Arbeit ausführlich anhand zahlreicher konkreter Beispiele erklärt Übungsaufgaben und Tests mit online zugänglichen Lösungsvorschlägen bieten den Studierenden Gelegenheit ihre Lernfortschritte selbst zu überprüfen Das Buch ist aus dem Unterricht für Studierende mit Deutsch als Fremdsprache entstanden stellt jedoch auch für Studierende mit deutschem Bildungshintergrund eine zuverlässige Hilfe dar Durch ein detailliertes Inhaltsverzeichnis und Register sowie einen Kurzübersicht am Ende jedes Hauptkapitels ist es auch zum schnellen Nachschlagen geeignet Übersetzen mit doppeltem Skopos Ulf Norberg, 2003 Imagining India in Modern China Gal Gvili, 2022-10-11 Winner 2023 Harry Levin Prize American Comparative Literature Association Beginning in the late Qing era Chinese writers and intellectuals looked to India in search of new literary possibilities and anticolonial solidarity In their view India and China shared both an illustrious past of cultural and religious exchange and a present experience of colonial aggression These writers imagined India as an alternative to Western imperialism a Pan Asian ideal that could help chart an escape route from colonialism and its brutal grasp on body and mind by ushering in a new kind of modernity in Asian terms Gal Gvili examines how Chinese writers image of India shaped the making of a new literature and spurred efforts to achieve literary decolonization She argues that multifaceted visions of Sino Indian connections empowered Chinese literary figures to resist Western imperialism and its legacies through novel forms and genres However Gvili demonstrates the Global North and its authority mediated Chinese visions of Sino Indian pasts and futures Often reading Indian literature and thought through English translations Chinese writers struggled to break free from deeply ingrained imperialist knowledge structures Imagining India in Modern China traces one of the earliest South South literary imaginaries the hopes it inspired the literary rejuvenation it launched and the shadow of the North that inescapably haunted it By unearthing Chinese writers endeavors to decolonize literature and thought as well as the indelible marks that imperialism left on their minds it offers new perspective on the possibilities and limitations of anticolonial movements and South South solidarity

Children's Literature in Translation Jan Van Coillie, Jack McMartin, 2020-10-30 For many of us our earliest and most meaningful experiences with literature occur through the medium of a translated children's book This volume focuses on the complex interplay that happens between text and context when works of children's literature are translated what contexts of production and reception account for how translated children's books come to be made and read as they are How are translated children's books adapted to suit the context of a new culture Spanning the disciplines of Children's Literature Studies and Translation Studies this book brings together established and emerging voices to provide an overview of the analytical empirical and geographic richness of current research in this field and to identify and reflect on common insights analytical perspectives and trajectories for future interdisciplinary research This volume will appeal to an interdisciplinary audience of scholars and students in Translation Studies and Children's Literature Studies and related disciplines It has a broad geographic and cultural scope with contributions dealing with translated children's literature in the United Kingdom the United States Ireland Spain France Brazil Poland Slovenia Hungary China the former Yugoslavia Sweden Germany and Belgium

Teaching Translation and Interpreting 3 Cay Dollerup, Vibeke Appel, 1996-06-28 Selected papers from the Third Language International Conference on Translator and Interpreter Training Capping the series of conferences on this theme in Denmark the present volume brings together a choice selection of the papers read by scholars and teachers from five continents and within all specialities in Translation Studies In combination with the two previous volumes of the same title the book offers an up to date comprehensive representative overview focusing on main issues in teaching in the relatively new field of translation There are informed and incisive discussions of subtitling interpreting and translation spanning from its historical beginnings to presentations of machine translation and predictions of the future of translation work Contributions ranging from discussions on the interplay between theory and teaching teaching literary translation introducing students to central issues in translation practice and historical and social issues in teaching translation Eurocentrism in Translation Studies Luc van Doorslaer, Peter Flynn, 2013-10-10 In the wake of post colonial and post modernist thinking Eurocentrism has been criticized in a number of academic disciplines including Translation Studies First published as a special issue of Translation and Interpreting Studies 6 2 2011 this volume re examines and problematizes some of the arguments used in such criticism It is argued here that one should be wary in putting forward such arguments in order not to replace Eurocentrism by a confrontational geographical model characterized precisely by a continentalization of discourse thereby merely reinstituting under another guise The work also questions the relevance of continent based theories of translation as such along with their underlying beliefs and convictions But since the volume prefers to keep the debate open its concluding interview article also provides the opportunity to those criticized to respond and provide well balanced comments on such points of criticism

Giannozzo Manetti's New Testament Annet den Haan, 2016-09-12 In Giannozzo Manetti's New Testament Annet den Haan analyses the Latin translation of the Greek New Testament made by the fifteenth century humanist Giannozzo Manetti 1396 1459 The book includes the first edition of Manetti's text Manetti's translation was the first since Jerome's Vulgate and it predates Erasmus Novum Instrumentum by half a century Written at the Vatican court in the 1450s it is a unique example of humanist philology applied to the sacred text in the pre Reformation era Den Haan argues that Manetti's translation was influenced by Valla's Annotationes and compares Manetti's translation method with his treatise on correct translation Apologeticus 1458 The Fictions of Translation Judith Woodsworth, 2018-02-15 In The Fictions of Translation emerging and seasoned scholars from a range of cultures bring fresh perspectives to bear on the age old practice of translation The current movement of people knowledge and goods around the world has made intercultural communication both prevalent and indispensable Consequently the translator has become a more prominent figure and translation an increasingly present theme in works of literature Embedding translation in a fictional setting and considering its most extreme forms pseudotranslation or self translation for example are fruitful ways of conceptualizing the act of translating and extending the boundaries of translation studies Taken together the various translational fictions examined in this collection yield new insights into questions of displacement migration and hybridity all characteristic of the modern world The Fictions of Translation will thus be of interest to practising translators students and scholars of translation and literary studies as well as a more general readership
