The background of the cover is a dark, textured grey. In the upper center, a large, dark, blocky robot figure is shown from the waist up, with its arms raised. Two bright red laser beams originate from its chest area and converge on a small, black silhouette of a person running towards the viewer. The person is positioned in the center of a large, bright red, starburst-like explosion. Several military aircraft, including fighter jets and helicopters, are depicted in flight around the central scene. The overall color palette is dominated by dark greys, blacks, and a striking red for the laser and explosion effects.
