Humanism Betrayed Graham Good, 2001 In Humanism Betrayed Graham Good offers a defence of liberal humanism against the illiberal trends political and intellectual that dominate today s university He uses the McEwen Report episode at the University of British Columbia to illustrate the current political climate in universities showing how due process was neglected in favour of ideological inquisition The intellectual trends Good discusses include what he calls the New Sectarianism which rejects individuality in favour of collective identities based on race gender and sexual preference Presentism which rejects the notion of history as a continuous narrative in favour of seeing the past as interpretable in any way that suits the political interests of the present and a Ahermeneutic of suspicion in which literary texts are seen as masks for discreditable political motives Good demonstrates that these trends culminate in the prison like Acarceral vision of Michel Foucault and his followers the view that culture is ideology and that culture does not free humans but incarcerates them Good contrasts this view with the liberal vision of culture and society represented by Northrop Frye concluding with an analysis of the relationship between anti humanist theory among academics and the managerial practices of university administrations which he argues neglect or reject basic humanistic values such as free individuality aesthetic greatness and autonomous inquiry

Pearl Harbor Betrayed Michael Gannon, 2014-04-15 A naval historian draws on newly revealed primary documents to shed light on the tragic errors that led to the devastating attack Washington's role and the man who took the fall for the Japanese tactical victory Michael Gannon begins his authoritative account of the impossible to forget attack with the essential background story of Japan's imperialist mission and the United States uncertain responses especially two lost chances of delaying the inevitable attack until the military was prepared to defend Pearl Harbor Gannon disproves two Pearl Harbor legends first that there was a conspiracy to withhold intelligence from the Pacific Commander in order to force a Pacific war and second that Admiral Kimmel was informed but failed to act Instead Gannon points to two critical factors ignored by others that information about the attack gleaned from the Magic code intercepts was not sent to Admiral Kimmel and that there was no possibility that Kimmel could have defended Pearl Harbor because the Japanese were militarily far superior to the American forces in December of 1941 Gannon has divided the story into three parts the background eyewitness accounts of the stunning Japanese tactical victory and the aftermath which focuses on the Commander who was blamed for the biggest military disaster in American history
