of the globalization of French thought from the point of view of scholars working in the UK While the dominating discourse would attribute the US as the source of that globalization particularly through the 1966 conference on the Languages of Criticism and the Sciences of Man at Johns Hopkins University this volume of essays serves as a reminder that the UK has also been a principal motor of that globalization The essays take into account how French thought and literary theory have institutionally taken shape in the UK from the 70s to today highlight aspects of French thought that have been of particular pertinence or importance for scholars there and outline how researchers in the UK today are bringing French thought further in terms of teaching and research in this twenty first century In short this volume traces how the country has been behind the reception and development of French thought in Anglophone worlds from the late 70s to the present Biblical

Advancing Through History 5 - The Romantic Period Petru Golban, 2024-11-26 It appears that literary work possesses eternal temporal validity due to its autonomous aesthetic value whereas criticism provides points of view having temporary and transitory significance Despite such claims the vector of methodology in our series of books dealing with the history of English literature relies on Viktor Shklovsky T S Eliot Mikhail Bakhtin and especially Yuri Tynyanov whose main reasoning would be that literature is a system of dominant central and peripheral marginalized elements to us tradition centre versus innovation margin engaged in a battle for supremacy demarginalization and the right to form a new literary system and the development or historical advancement of literature is the substitution of systems Roman Jakobson and French structuralism on the whole later Linda Hutcheon with her system and constant and Bran Nicol with the dominant to say nothing about Itamar Even Zohar and his theory of polysystem to a certain extent Julia Kristeva and even Homi Bhabha as well as our humble contribution we would like to believe maintain Tynyanov's line of thinking and concepts alive which have developed and emerged nowadays more like a kind of neo formalism Focusing on literary practice applying critical theory and emerging from within our own teaching experience the books in the present series are theoretical and surveyistic like a monograph whereas their more practical and text oriented aspect should appeal as a student handbook for didactic purposes in which certain literary works belonging to various writers of different trends movements and periods are analysed and compared with regard to their source form thematic arrangements ideas motifs character representation strategies intertextual perspectives structural or narrative techniques and other aspects Key Concepts in Crime Fiction Heather

Worthington, 2011-08-31 An insight into a popular yet complex genre that has developed over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The volume explores the contemporary anxieties to which crime fiction responds along with society's changing conceptions of crime and criminality The book covers texts contexts and criticism in an accessible and user friendly format have the potential to become texts of torture or texts of liberation History through Trauma explores the symbolic function of religious political and national symbols that aid in the construction of historical narratives and the psychological effects of trauma on their creation and dissolution The Deuteronomic Covenant paramount in the construction of a biblical history of Israel is analyzed with regard to Israel's history of exile What is proffered is the book of Job as a symbolic history of Israel that stands as a counter history beside the dominant history constructed in the canon's historical books a counter history whose function works to re-enliven the symbol of covenant History through Trauma brings consciousness to the effects of exile on the dominant historical narratives in the Hebrew canon and to the eradicated affective experiences of trauma that surface in counter texts such as the book of Job This work offers a valuable new understanding of the impact of trauma on history making in general an understanding that brings light to biblical studies practical theology pastoral psychology and psychoanalysis Nominalism and Literary Discourse, 2021-11-01 Influential accounts of European cultural history variously suggest that the rise of nominalism and its ultimate victory over realist orientations were highly implemental factors in the formation of Modern Europe since the later Middle Ages but particularly the Reformation Quite probably this is a simplification of a state of affairs that is in fact more complex indeed ambiguous However if there is any truth in such propositions which have after all been made by many prominent commentators such as Panofsky Heer Blumenberg Foucault Eco Kristeva we may no doubt assume that literary texts will have responded and in turn contributed in a variety of ways to these processes of cultural transformation It seems of considerable interest therefore to take a close look at the complex precarious position which literature as basically a symbolic mode of signification held in the perennial struggles and discursive negotiations between the semiotic twin paradigms of nominalism and realism This collection of essays many of them by leading scholars in the field is a first comprehensive attempt to tackle such issues by analyzing representative literary texts in terms of their underlying semiotic orientations specifically of nominalism but also by studying pertinent historical theoretical and discursive contexts of such developments in their relation to literary discourse At the same time since literary nominalism and realism are conceived as fundamentally aesthetic phenomena instantiating a genuinely literary debate over universals consistent emphasis is placed on the discursive dimension of the texts scrutinized in an endeavour to re orient and consolidate an emergent research paradigm which promises to open up entirely new perspectives for the study of literary semiotics as well as of aesthetics in general Historical focus is provided by concentrating on the English situation in the era of transition from late medieval to early modern c 1350 1650 but readers will also find contributions on Chr tien de Troyes and Rabelais as well as on the aftermath of the earlier debates as exemplified in studies of Locke and post modern critical altercations respectively which serve to point up the continuing relevance of the issues involved A substantial introductory essay seeks to develop an overarching theoretical framework for the study of nominalism and literary discourse in addition to offering an in depth exploration of the nominalism realism complex in its relation to literature An extensive bibliography and index are further features of interest to both specialists and general readers
