Control in Generative Grammar Idan Landau, 2013-02-21 This is the first comprehensive survey of control theory covering the results of five decades of research in generative grammar Among the issues discussed are the distinction between raising and control syntactic interactions with case lexical determination of the controller and phenomena like partial and implicit control      Pronouns in Embedded Contexts at the Syntax-Semantics Interface Pritty Patel-Grosz, Patrick Georg

Grosz, Sarah Zobel, 2017-10-18 This volume presents studies on pronouns in embedded contexts and offers fundamental insights into this central area of research Much of the recent research on pronouns has shown that embedded environments such as clausal complements of attitude predicates provide a window into the nature of pronouns Pronouns in such environments not only exhibit familiar distinctions such as that between bound and referential pronouns if they refer to the attitude holder they also participate in a broader range of phenomena e g distinguishing between a de se reading involving a conscious self directed belief and a de re reading involving an accidental belief about oneself Topics covered include the semantics of attitude reports that contain pronominal elements the semantics of pronominal features and their connection to indexicality new insights in the connection of pronominal typology and logophoricity or anti logophoricity and finally the localization of embedded pronouns within a bigger picture involving the nature of perspective and the analysis of quasi pronominal phenomena such as sequence of tense      Linguistic Variation: Structure and Interpretation Ludovico

Franco, Paolo Lorusso, 2019-12-16 In this volume scholars honor M Rita Manzini for her contributions to the field of Generative Morphosyntax The essays in this book celebrate her career by continuing to explore inter area research in linguistics and by pursuing a broad comparative approach investigating and comparing different languages and dialects

The Oxford Handbook of Ellipsis Jeroen van Craenenbroeck, Tanja Temmerman, 2018-12-13 This Handbook is the first volume to provide a comprehensive in depth and balanced discussion of ellipsis phenomena whereby the meaning of an utterance is richer than would be expected based solely on its linguistic form Natural language abounds in these apparently incomplete expressions such as I laughed but Ed didn't in which the final portion of the sentence the verb laugh remains unpronounced but is still understood The range of phenomena involved raise general and fundamental questions about the workings of grammar but also constitute a treasure trove of fine grained points of inter and intralinguistic variation The volume is divided into four parts In the first authors examine the role that ellipsis plays and how it is analysed in different theoretical frameworks and linguistic subdisciplines such as HPSG construction grammar inquisitive semantics and computational linguistics Chapters in the second part highlight the usefulness of ellipsis as a diagnostic tool for other linguistic phenomena including movement and islands and codeswitching while part III focuses instead on the types of elliptical constructions found in natural language such as sluicing gapping and null complement anaphora Finally the last part of the book contains case studies that investigate elliptical phenomena in a wide variety of languages including Dutch Japanese Persian and Finnish Sign Language

Deconstructing Language Structure and Meaning Mihaela Tănase-Dogaru, Alina Tigău, Mihaela Zamfirescu, 2021-07-01 This volume brings together a number of researchers working on generative syntax and semantics language acquisition and phonology to explore various theoretical frameworks ranging from generative grammar and formal semantics to more descriptive approaches The contributions gathered here investigate various aspects in the syntax semantics phonology and acquisition of Romanian in comparison with other mainly Romance languages The book will be of interest to linguists who are keen on keeping up with the latest advances in the field of Romance studies as well as those whose research bears on languages such as Hungarian German and Maltese among others

Perspectives on Complementation M. Höglund, P. Rickman, J. Rudanko, J. Havu, 2015-04-07 This book presents the latest work in the field of complementation studies Leading scholars and upcoming researchers in the area approach complementation from various perspectives and different frameworks such as Cognitive Grammar and construction grammars to offer a broad survey of the field and provide thought provoking reading

ACAL in SoCAL Yaqian Huang, Jun Jie Lim, Sharon Rose, Anthony Struthers-Young, Nina Hagen Kaldhol, 2024-05-23 This volume contains a selection of papers that were presented at the 53rd Annual Conference on African Linguistics which was held virtually at the University of California San Diego There are 21 papers covering phonology morphology syntax lexical semantics sociolinguistics typology and historical linguistics The volume features a keynote paper that proposes a novel community based approach to language documentation African languages investigated in detail include Wolof Mende Dangme Kusaal Nzema Anii Nigerian Pidgin Tunen Nyokon Vale Lokoya Lopit Otuho Kalenjin Tiriki Oromo Tigrinya Asa Qwadza and Ikalanga

Voices Past and Present - Studies of Involved, Speech-related and Spoken Texts Ewa Jonsson, Tove Larsson, 2020-10-15 This volume provides a diachronic and synchronic overview of linguistic variability and change in involved speech related and spoken texts in English While previous works on the topic have focused on more limited time periods this book covers data from the 16th century up to the present day The studies offer new insights into historical and present day corpus pragmatics by identifying and exploring features of orality in a variety of registers For readers who are new to the field the range of approaches will provide a helpful overview for readers who are already familiar with the field the volume will shed light on the complexity of factors such as register sociolinguistic variability and language attitude thus making it a useful resource and stepping stone for further exploration The volume celebrates the groundbreaking contributions of Professor Merja Kyt in making accessible speech related corpus material and leading the way in its exploration

The Morphosyntax of Albanian and Aromanian Varieties M. Rita Manzini, Leonardo Savoia, 2018-10-08 This book deals with Albanian including the dialects spoken in Southern Italy and with the Aromanian spoken in Southern Albania These languages are set in the context of current generative research on syntax morphology language variation and contact yielding insights into key morphosyntactic notions of case agreement complementation and into phenomena such as Differential Object Marking the Person Case Constraint linkers and control

L1 Acquisition and L2 Learning Larisa Avram, Anca Sevcenco, Veronica Tomescu, 2021-11-15 This volume includes fourteen papers on the acquisition of Romance languages eleven of which were presented at the Romance Turn 9 held in Bucharest in September 2018 The studies offer new insights into central issues in the literature such as syntactic complexity in both typical and impaired language settings intervention effects the acquisition of phenomena which involve both syntactic parameters and an external interface as well as cross linguistic interference effects They present novel longitudinal and experimental data on the first language acquisition and second language learning of French Italian European and Brazilian Portuguese Romanian and Spanish A unique feature of this volume is the focus on the interaction of language specific properties and of factors which are not specific to the faculty of language in the narrow sense such as data processing the nature of the input discourse structure computational load sociolinguistic properties and the development of Theory of Mind

African linguistics across the disciplines Samuel Gyasi Obeng, 2019-11-12 Since the hiring of its first Africanist linguist Carleton Hodge in 1964 Indiana University's Department of Linguistics has had a strong and continuing presence in the study of African languages and linguistics through the work of its faculty and of its graduates on the faculties of many other universities Research on African linguistics at IU has covered some of the major language groups spoken on the African continent Carleton Hodge's work on Ancient Egyptian and Hausa Paul Newman's work on Hausa and Chadic languages and Roxanna Ma Newman's work on Hausa language structure and pedagogy have been some of the most important studies on Afro Asiatic linguistics With respect to Niger Congo languages the work of Charles Bird on Bambara and the Mande languages Robert Botne's work on Bantu structure especially tense and aspect Samuel Obeng and Colin Painter's work on Ghanaian Languages phonetics phonology and pragmatics Robert Port's studies on Swahili and Erhard Voeltz's studies on Bantu linguistics are considered some of the most influential studies in the sub field On Nilo Saharan languages the work of Tim Shopen on Songhay stands out IU Linguistics has also forwarded theoretical work on African languages such as John Goldsmith's seminal research on tone in African languages The African linguistics faculty at IU have either founded or edited important journals in African Studies African languages and African linguistics including Africa Today Studies in African Linguistics and Journal of African Languages and Linguistics In 1972 the Indiana University Department of Linguistics hosted the Third Annual Conference of African Linguistics Proceedings of that conference were published by Indiana University Publications African Series vol 7 In 1986 IU hosted the Seventeenth Annual Conference of African Linguistics with Paul Newman and Robert Botne editing the proceedings in a volume entitled Current Approaches to African Linguistics vol 5 In 2016 Indiana University hosted the 48th Annual Conference on African Linguistics with the theme

African Linguistics Across the Disciplines Proceedings of that meeting are published in this volume The papers presented in this volume reflect the diversity of opportunities for language study in Africa This collection of descriptive and theoretical work is the fruit of data gathering both in country and abroad by researchers of languages spoken across the continent from Sereer in the west to Somali in the northeast to Ikalanga in the south The range of topics in this volume is also broad representative of the varied field work in country and abroad that inspires research in African linguistics This collection of papers spans the disciplines of phonology both segmental and suprasegmental morphology both morphophonological and morphosyntactic syntax semantics and language policy The data and analyses presented in this volume offer a cross disciplinary view of linguistic topics from the many under resourced languages of Africa Syntax on the Edge Diego

Gabriel Krivochen, 2023-08-21 What is the most descriptively and explanatorily adequate format for syntactic structures and how are they constrained Different theories of syntax have provided various answers sets feature structures tree diagrams Building on formal and empirical insights from a wide variety of approaches spanning more than 70 years including Transformational Grammar Relational Grammar Lexical Functional Grammar and Tree Adjoining Grammar this monograph develops a new mathematically grounded framework in which objects known as graphs and the constraints that follow from them are argued to provide the best characterisation of the system of expressions and relations that make up natural language grammars This new approach is motivated and exemplified via detailed and formally explicit analyses of major syntactic phenomena in English and Spanish Language Patterns in Spanish and Beyond Juan J.

Colomina-Almiñana, Sandro Sessarego, 2020-10-25 The scholarly articles included in this volume represent significant contributions to the fields of formal and descriptive syntax conversational analysis and speech act theory as well as language development and bilingualism Taken together these studies adopt a variety of methodological techniques ranging from grammaticality judgments to corpus based analysis to experimental approaches to offer rich insights into different aspects of Ibero Romance grammar The volume consists of three parts organized in accordance with the topics treated in the chapters they comprise Part I focuses on structural patterns Part II analyzes pragmatic ones and Part III investigates the acquisition of linguistic aspects found in the speech of L1 L2 and heritage speakers The authors address these issues by relying on empirically rooted linguistic approaches to data collection which are coupled with current theoretical assumptions on the nature of sentence structure discourse dynamics and language acquisition The volume will be of interest to anyone researching or studying Hispanic and Ibero Romance linguistics Corpus-Based Studies on Non-Finite Complements

in Recent English Paul Rickman, Juhani Rudanko, 2018-02-19 This book showcases fresh research into the underexplored territory of complementation through a detailed analysis of gerunds and to infinitives involving control in English Drawing on large electronic corpora of recent English it examines subject control in adjectival predicate constructions with scared terrified and afraid moving on to a study of object control with the verbal predicate warn In each chapter a case study is presented of a matrix adjective that selects both infinitival and gerundial complements and a central theme is the application of the Choice Principle as a novel factor bearing on complement selection The authors argue that it is helpful to view the patterns in question as constructions as combinations of form and meaning within the system of English predicate complementation and convincingly demonstrate how a new gerundial pattern has emerged and spread in the course of the last two centuries This book will appeal to scholars of semantics corpus linguistics and historical linguistics as well as those with an interest in variation and change in recent English more generally Advances in formal Slavic linguistics 2017

Franc Marušič, Petra Mišmaš, Rok Žaucer, 2019 Advances in Formal Slavic Linguistics 2017 is a collection of fifteen articles that were prepared on the basis of talks given at the conference Formal Description of Slavic Languages 12 5 which was held on December 7 9 2017 at the University of Nova Gorica The volume covers a wide array of topics such as control verbs instrumental arguments and perduratives in Russian comparatives negation n words negative polarity items and complementizer ellipsis in Czech impersonal se constructions and complementizer doubling in Slovenian prosody and the morphology of multi purpose suffixes in Serbo Croatian and indefinite numerals and the binding properties of dative arguments in Polish Importantly by exploring these phenomena in individual Slavic languages the collection of articles in this volume makes a significant contribution to both Slavic linguistics and to linguistics in general Niuean Diane

Massam, 2020-04-09 This volume explores the grammar of Niuean an endangered Polynesian language spoken on the island of Niue and in New Zealand with a focus on the issue of predication Since Aristotle it has been claimed that a sentence consists of a subject and a predicate Niuean constitutes the perfect testing ground for this claim it displays verb subject object word order in which the subject interrupts the predicate and has an ergative case system in which subjects are not clearly distinguished from objects in their marking for grammatical case Diane Massam uses the framework of generative grammar to carry out a detailed analysis of the internal structure of Niuean predicates and arguments as well as the relations between them touching on many other topics including the nature of displacement word formation determiners and thematic roles The proposal is that Niuean complex predicates are formed via successive inversion prior to the merge of all arguments high argument merge and that the predicate undergoes fronting to initial position across the arguments with the same structure found also in nominal clauses The conclusion is that Niuean does not have a subject in the usual sense and this is related to the fact that the language has isolating morphology lacking all tense and agreement inflection and nominative case Instead the language exhibits low absolutive predication applicative ergative agents and predicate fronting in lieu of subject extraction The book extends our understanding of cross linguistic sentence structure and grammatical case and will be of interest to scholars in the fields of Austronesian linguistics typology and theoretical linguistics Infinitival

vs Gerundial Complementation with Afraid, Accustomed, and Prone Juho Ruohonen, Juhani Rudanko, 2020-11-25 This book explores the concept of complementation in the adjectival domain of English grammar Alternation between non finite complements especially to infinitives and gerundial complements has been investigated intensively on the basis of large corpora in the last few years. With very few exceptions however, such work has hitherto been based on univariate analysis methods. Using multivariate analysis, the authors present methodologically innovative case studies examining a large array of explanatory factors potentially impacting complement choice in cases of alternation. This approach yields more precise information on the impact of each factor on complement choice as well as on interactions between different explanatory factors. The book thus presents a methodologically new perspective on the study of the system of non-finite complementation in recent English and variation within that system and will be relevant to academics and students with an interest in English grammar, predicate complementation and statistical approaches to language.

The Oxford Handbook of English Grammar
Bas Aarts, Jill Bowie, Gergana Popova, 2020. This handbook provides an authoritative critical survey of current research and knowledge in the grammar of the English language. The volume's expert contributors explore a range of core topics in English grammar covering a range of theoretical approaches and including the relationship between core grammar and other areas of language.
