Pioneer Science and the Great Plagues Norman F. Cheville, 2021-03-15 Pioneer Science and the Great Plagues covers the century when infectious plagues anthrax tuberculosis tetanus plague smallpox and polio were conquered and details the important role that veterinary scientists played The narrative is driven by astonishing events that centered on animal disease the influenza pandemic of 1872 discovery of the causes of anthrax and tuberculosis in the 1880s conquest of Texas cattle fever and then yellow fever German anthrax attacks on the United States during World War I the tuberculin war of 1931 Japanese biological warfare in the 1940s and today's bioterror dangers Veterinary science in the rural Midwest arose from agriculture but in urban Philadelphia it came from medicine similar differences occurred in Canada between Toronto and Montreal As land grant colleges were established after the American Civil War individual states followed divergent pathways in supporting veterinary science

Some employed a trade school curriculum that taught agriculturalists to empirically treat animal diseases and others emphasized a curriculum tied to science This pattern continued for a century but today some institutions have moved back to the trade school philosophy Avoiding lessons of the 1910 Flexner Report on medical education reform university associated veterinary schools are being approved that do not have control of their own veterinary hospitals diagnostic laboratories and research institutes components that are critical for training students in science Underlying this change were twin idiosyncrasies of culture disbelief in science and distrust of government that spawned scientology creationism anti vaccination movements and other anti science scams As new infectious plagues continue to arise Pioneer Science and the Great Plagues details the strategies we learned defeating plagues from 1860 to 1960 and the essential role veterinary science played To defeat the plagues of today it is essential we avoid the digital cocoon of disbelief in science and cultural stasis now threatening progress

Regulating Global Climate Change B.H. Desai,2023-08-15 For some years now growing scientific warnings have continued to strengthen the belief that an unprecedented global warming is underway and that only an urgent system wide transformation can avoid climate disaster In his June 2 2022 address to the Stockholm 50 Conference the UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres construed climate emergency as one of the key drivers of the triple planetary crisis Despite this the overriding impression left by COP27 held in Sharm el Sheikh in November 2022 was of a divided institution floundering and nowhere close to realizing its stated aim of stabilizing greenhouse gas concentrations at a level that would prevent dangerous interference with the climate system While prognoses and projections set the stage for a climate change emergency the legally ordained platform for institutionalized cooperation to deal with the problem seems always to be achieving too little too late This book Regulating Global Climate Change presents articles from the special climate change issue of the journal Environmental Policy and Law vol 52 5 6 2022 published to mark the 30th year of the UNFCCC The book provides a sequel to two previously published IOS Press books Our Earth Matters 2021 and Envisioning Our Environmental Future 2022 and the contributions included here seek to make sense of the marathon climate change regulatory process The book is organized into 5 parts climate normativity regime at the crossroads climate justice factoring gender and the Paris conundrum Urging scholars and decision makers to consider the approach process tools and techniques used to address the primary objective of the UNFCCC as well as strongly calling for a decisive new normative push from common concern to planetary concern the book will be of interest to all those involved in the process of tackling and dealing with the adverse effects of global climate change Bharat H Desai is Professor of International Law Jawaharlal Nehru Chair in International Environmental Law and Chairperson of the Centre for International Legal Studies at School of International Studies of Jawaharlal Nehru University New Delhi Editor in Chief of the global journal Environmental Policy and Law Amsterdam IOS Press
