Contrastive Linguistics Wenguo Pan, Tham Wai Mun, 2007-07-10

Contrastive Linguistics is the first book written by a linguist from mainland China on the histories and principles of comparing and contrasting Chinese and Western languages specifically English. From Wilhelm von Humboldt's initial study in comparative linguistics to the present day, traditional scholarship in contrastive linguistics has taken a Western perspective and shown how foreign languages relate to the Indo-European language family. However, such a view has a limited scope and there is an alternative history to contrastive linguistics. This book is an attempt by Professor Wenguo Pan to redress the balance in contrastive linguistics, comparing Western languages to Chinese rather than vice versa. He provides a survey of contrastive linguistics in China throughout the past century and aims to open a window for the world to see what the new generations of Chinese linguists are doing in this exciting field and to start a dialogue between scholars of different backgrounds and linguistic traditions. Contrastive Linguistics looks at the history of this discipline both in Europe and in China. Professor Pan presents a survey of the historical philosophical and methodological foundations of the discipline but also examines its scope in relation to general comparative, anthropological and applied linguistics. This book will be of interest to academics interested in a new perspective on contrastive linguistics or Chinese linguistics.

Corpus-based Approaches to Contrastive Linguistics and Translation Studies, 2021-08-04

Corpus-based Approaches to Contrastive Linguistics and Translation Studies presents readers with up to date research in corpus-based contrastive linguistics and translation studies, showing the high degree of complementarity between the two fields in terms of research methodology, interests and objectives. Offering theoretical, descriptive and applied perspectives, the articles show how translation and contrastive approaches to grammar, lexis and discourse can be harmoniously combined through the use of monolingual, bilingual and multilingual corpora and how contrastive information needs to inform translation research and vice versa. The notion of contrastive linguistics adopted here is broad, thus alongside comparisons of Malay-English idioms and the French imparfait and its English equivalents there are articles comparing different varieties of French and sign language with spoken language This collection should be of interest to researchers in corpus linguistics contrastive linguistics and translation studies In addition the section on corpus based teaching applications will be of great value to teachers of translation and contrastive linguistics

Patterns in Contrast Jarle Ebeling, Signe Oksefjell Ebeling, 2013-09-17 Combining the fields of phraseology and contrastive analysis this book describes how patterns defined as recurrent word combinations with semantic unity behave cross linguistically As the contrastive approach adopted in the book relies on translations and a bidirectional corpus model the first part offers an in depth discussion of contrastive linguistics with special emphasis on using translations as tertium comparationis and a parallel corpus as the main source of material Central to the contrastive analysis is the use of corpus linguistic methods in the identification of patterns while a deeper understanding of the phraseological nature of the patterns is closely related to the concept of extended units of meaning The second part of the book presents five case studies using an easy to follow step by step method to illustrate the phraseological contrastive approach at work The studies show that patterns weave an intricate web of meanings across languages and demonstrate the potential of exploring patterns in contrast
