Artisan Pamela H. Smith,2024-05-31 Since the time of Aristotle the making of knowledge and the making of objects have generally been considered separate enterprises Yet during the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries the two became linked through a new philosophy known as science In The Body of the Artisan Pamela H Smith demonstrates how much early modern science owed to an unlikely source artists and artisans From goldsmiths to locksmiths and from carpenters to painters artists and artisans were much sought after by the new scientists for their intimate hands on knowledge of natural materials and the ability to manipulate them Drawing on a fascinating array of new evidence from northern Europe including artisans objects and their writings Smith shows how artisans saw all knowledge as rooted in matter and nature With nearly two hundred images The Body of the Artisan provides astonishingly vivid examples of this Renaissance synergy among art craft and science and recovers a forgotten episode of the Scientific Revolution an episode that forever altered the way we see the natural world Renaissance Art & Science @ Florence

Susan B. Puett,J. David Puett,2016-09-01 The creativity of the human mind was brilliantly displayed during the Florentine Renaissance when artists mathematicians astronomers apothecaries architects and others embraced the interconnectedness of their disciplines Artists used mathematical perspective in painting and scientific techniques to create new materials hospitals used art to invigorate the soul apothecaries prepared and dispensed often from the same plants both medicinals for patients and pigments for painters utilitarian glassware and maps became objects to be admired for their beauty art enhanced depictions of scientific observations and innovations in construction made buildings canvases for artistic grandeur An exploration of these and other intersections of art and science deepens our appreciation of the magnificent contributions of the extraordinary Florentines

Byzantine Art and Italian Panel Painting Jaroslav Folda, 2015-07-28 Jaroslav Folda traces the appropriation of the Byzantine Virgin and Child Hodegetria icon by thirteenth century Crusader and central Italian painters and explores its transformation by the introduction of chrysography on the figure of the Virgin in the Crusader Levant and in Italy Painted Alchemists Elisabeth Berry Drago, 2019-02-01 Thomas Wijck's painted alchemical laboratories were celebrated in his day as artful and ingenious. They fell into obscurity along with their subject as alchemy came to be viewed as an occult art or a fool's errand. But these unusual pictures challenge our understanding of early modern alchemy and of the deeper relationship between chemical workshops and the artists who represented them. The work of artists like the work of alchemists contained intellectual, creative, and manual material aspects. Both alchemists and artists claimed a special status owing to their creative powers. Wijck's formation of an artistic and professional identity around alchemical themes reveals his desire to explore this curious territory and ultimately to demonstrate art's superior claims to knowledge and mastery over nature. This book explores one artist's transformation of alchemy and its materials into a reputation for virtuosity and what his work can teach us about the experimental early modern world. Crafting Feminism from Literary Modernism to the Multimedia

Present Amy E. Elkins, 2022-09-05 Crafting Feminism develops a dynamic study of craft and art making in modern and contemporary feminist writing. In evocative readings of literary works from Virginia Woolf to Zadie Smith, this book expands our sense of transartistic modernist scholarship to encompass process-oriented and medium-specific analyses of textile arts, digital design, collage, photography, painting, and sculpture in literary culture. By integrating these craft practices into the book's enlightening archive, Elkins's theoretical argument extends a reading of craft metaphors into the material present. Crafting Feminism demonstrates how writers have engaged with handiwork across generations and have undertaken the crafting of a new modernity, one that is queer and feminist, threaded, messy, shattered, cut up, pasted together, preserved, repaired, reflected, and spun out. An avant-garde work of scholarship, this book interweaves queer research methods and interdisciplinary rigor with a series of surprising archival discoveries. Making visible the collaborative creative features of craft, Elkins captivates readers with generous illustrations and a series of Techné interchapters, interludes between longer chapters which powerfully convey the symbiosis between feminist theory and method and detail the network of archival influences that underpin this volume's hybrid approach. Foregrounding the work of decentering patriarchal and Eurocentric legacies of artistic authority, Elkins champions the diverse intergenerational history of craft as a way to reposition intersectional makers at the heart of literary culture. An original and compelling study, Crafting Feminism breaks new ground in modernist and visual studies, digital humanities, and feminist, queer, and critical race theory. Re-membering Masculinity in Early Modern Florence Allison Levy, 2017-03-02 From Pliny to Petrarch to Pope Hennessy and beyond, many have understood the obvious connection between portraiture and commemorative practice. This book expands and nuances our understanding of

Renaissance portraiture the author shows it to be complexly generated within a discourse of male anxiety and pre mortuary mourning She argues that portraiture could defer memory loss or at the very least pictorially console the subject against his own potentially unmourned death This book recognizes a socio cultural anxiety the fear not merely of death but also of being forgotten and identifies a set of pictorial literary and theoretical strategies consequently formulated to ensure memory To explore this phenomenon this interdisciplinary but fundamentally art historical project merges early modern visual culture and critical theories of the body The author examines an extensive selection of fifteenth and sixteenth century male and female portraits primarily associated with the Medici family circle and court in and against both historical writings and contemporary discourses including literary and cultural theory psychoanalysis feminism and gender studies and critical theories of race and disability Re membering Masculinity generates new ideas about both male and female portraiture in early modern Florence raises even more questions about the experiences and representations of widowhood and mourning and re configures our understanding of masculinity from the early modern male body to Renaissance Man to postmodern manhood
