Complex Worlds Andrienne Lamberti, Anne Richards, 2017-03-02 Complex Worlds Digital Culture Rhetoric and Professional Communication is a collection of thought provoking scholarly essays by teachers and industry practitioners in professional communication and technology oriented fields. Scrupulously edited for a range of readers, the collection aims to help familiarize advanced students, teachers, and researchers in professional communication, computers, and writing literacy and sister disciplines with key issues in digital theory and practice. An emphasis on the situations of and audiences for digital communication identifies Complex Worlds as a rhetorical approach. In an era when globalizing markets and digital technologies are transforming culture around the world, readers should find the collection both engaging and timely. The collection's twelve essays constitute a diverse and thematically coherent set of inquiries. Included are explorations of topics such as cyber activism, digital dispositio, citizen and open source journalism, broadband affordances, XML, digital resumes, avant garde performance art, best pedagogical practices, and intercultural communication between East and West, North and South. The text is especially well suited for advanced courses in professional and applied writing, contemporary rhetorics, and digital culture. The complexity highlighted in the collection's title is brought into relief by authors who address how the digital is daily unmaking our assumptions about the boundaries between work and school, the global and the local, the private and the public. Complex Worlds offers readers an opportunity to build on their rhetorical awareness by expanding their understanding of the means, aims, and strategies of effective communication today and in the future. Negotiating

Cultural Encounters Han Yu, Gerald Savage, 2013-03-05. Discusses the challenges of intercultural communication in engineering, technical, and related professional fields. Given today's globalized technical and engineering environment, intercultural communication is an essential topic for engineers, other technical professionals, and technical communicators to learn. Engineering programs in particular need to think about how to address the ABET requirement for students to develop global competence and communication skills. This book will help readers learn what intercultural communication is like in the workplace, which is an important first step in gaining intercultural competence. Through narratives based on the real experiences of working professionals, Negotiating Cultural Encounters: Narrating Intercultural Engineering and Technical Communication covers a range of design, development, research, and documentation projects, offering an authentic picture of today's international workplace. Narrative contributors present firsthand experience and perspectives on the complexities and challenges of working with multicultural team members, international vendors, and diverse customers. Additional suggested readings and discussion questions provide students with information on relevant cultural factors and invite them to think deeply and critically about the narratives. This collection of narratives responds to the need for updated firsthand information in intercultural communication and will help us prepare workplace professionals. Covers various topics such as designing e-commerce websites, localizing technical documentation, and translating workplace safety materials. Provides hands-on studies of intercultural professional communication in the workplace. Is targeted toward institutions that train engineers for technical communication tasks in diverse sociocultural environments. Presents contributions from a diverse group of professionals Recommends additional material for further pursuit A book unlike any other in its field Negotiating Cultural Encounters is ideal for all engineering and technical communication professionals seeking to better communicate their ideas and thoughts in the multicultural workplaces of the world      Teaching Intercultural Rhetoric and Technical Communication Kirk St. Amant, Barry Thatcher, 2011      International Technical Communication Nancy L.
