Renegade Dreams Living Through Injury In Gangland Chicago:

Renegade Dreams Laurence Ralph, 2014-09-15 Inner city communities in the US have become junkyards of dreams to quote Mike Daviswastelands where gangs package narcotics to stimulate the local economy gunshots occur multiple times on any given day and dreams of a better life can fade into the realities of poverty and disability Laurence Ralph lived in such a community in Chicago for three years conducting interviews and participating in meetings with members of the local gang which has been central to the community since the 1950s Ralph discovered that the experience of injury whether physical or social doesn't always crush dreams into oblivion it can transform them into something productive renegade dreams. The first part of this book moves from a critique of the way government officials as opposed to grandmothers have been handling the situation to a study of the history of the historic Divine Knights gang to a portrait of a duo of gang members who want to be recognized as authentic rappers they call their musical style crack music and the difficulties they face in exiting the gang The second part is on physical disability including being wheelchair bound the prevalence of HIV AIDS among heroin users and the experience of brutality at the hands of Chicago police officers In a final chapter The Frame Or How to Get Out of an Isolated Space Ralph offers a fresh perspective on how to understand urban violence The upshot is a total portrait of the interlocking complexities symbols and vicissitudes of gang life in one of the most dangerous inner city neighborhoods in the US We expect this study will enjoy considerable readership among anthropologists sociologists and other scholars interested in disability urban crime and race How to Read Ethnography Paloma Gay v Blasco, Huon Wardle, 2019-04-08 How to Read Ethnography is an essential guide to approaching anthropological texts It helps students to cultivate the skills they need to critically examine and understand how ethnographies are built up as well as to think anthropologically and develop an anthropological imagination of their own The authors reveal how ethnographically informed anthropology plays a distinctive and valuable role in comprehending the complexity of the world we live in This fully revised second edition includes fresh excerpts from key texts for analysis and comparison along with lucid explanations In addition to concerns with argument authority and the relationship between theory and data the book engages with the purpose value and accountability of ethnographic texts as well as with their reception and usage A brand new chapter looks at the kinds of collaboration between informants consultants and anthropologists that go into the making of ethnographic writing The Best Place Danya Fast, 2023-11-10 The Best Place examines how overlapping housing mental health and addictions and overdose crises alongside their accompanying public health interventions and the frenetic pace of urban renewal have shaped forms of life and death among young people who use drugs in the city of Vancouver Canada In the Meantime Adeline Masquelier, Deborah Durham, 2023-03-10 The meantime represents the gap between what is past and the unknown future When considered as waiting the meantime is defined as a period of suspension to be endured By contrast the contributors of this volume understand it as a space of the possible where calculation coexists with uncertainty promises with disappointment and imminence with deferral Attending to the temporalities of emerging rather than settled facts they put the stress on the temporal tactics social commitments material connections dispositional orientations and affective circuits that emerge in the meantime even in the most desperate times Black in the Middle Terrion L. Williamson, 2020-09-01 A timely compelling collection that allows predominantly Black Midwesterners to reclaim their home histories and future Jen Cox Chicago Review of Books Black Americans have been among the hardest hit by the rapid deindustrialization and accompanying economic decline that have become so synonymous with the Midwest Since the 2016 election many traditional media outlets have renewed attention on the conditions of Middle America but the national discourse continues to marginalize the Black people who live there Black in the Middle brings the voices of Black Midwesterners front and center Filled with compelling personal narratives thought provoking art and searing commentaries this anthology explores the various meanings and experiences of blackness throughout the Rust Belt the Midwest and the Great Plains Bringing together people from major metropolitan centers like Detroit and Chicago as well as smaller cities and rural areas where the lives of Black residents have too often gone unacknowledged this collection is a much needed corrective to the narrative of the region Ambitious and eclectic with African American humanity on display Joseph P Williams Minneapolis Star Tribune The honesty in the essays the emergency in the poetry and the intensity of the photographs and paintings help to sharpen the edge of what it means to be Black in the middle of anything which is the sum of our fears and the hope that manifests itself in our dreams Jason Vasser Elong St Louis Post Dispatch Timely and evocative By calling forth the full range of the Black Midwestern experience this bracing anthology offers crucial insights into why the region is the epicenter of current protests against police brutality and racial injustice Publishers Weekly The Routledge Handbook of Anthropology and the City Setha Low, 2018-10-03 The Routledge Handbook of Anthropology and the City provides a comprehensive study of current and future urban issues on a global and local scale Premised on an engaged approach to urban anthropology the volume adopts a thematic approach that covers a wide range of modern urban issues with a particular focus on those of high public interest Topics covered include security displacement social justice privatisation sustainability and preservation Offering valuable insight into how anthropologists investigate make sense of and then address a variety of urban issues each chapter covers key theoretical and methodological concerns alongside rich ethnographic case study material The volume is an essential reference for students and researchers in urban anthropology as well as of interest for those in related disciplines such as urban studies sociology and geography Interrogating Ethnography Steven Lubet, 2018 In this comprehensive review of urban ethnography Steven Lubet encountered a field that relies heavily on anonymous sources often as reported by a single investigator whose underlying data remain unseen Upon digging into the details he discovered too many ethnographic assertions that were dubious exaggerated tendentious or just plain wrong Employing the tools and techniques of a trial lawyer Lubet uses original sources and contemporaneous documentation to explore the stories behind ethnographic narratives Many turn out to be accurate but others are revealed to be based on rumors folklore and unreliable hearsay Interrogating Ethnography explains how qualitative social science would benefit from greater attention to the quality of evidence and provides recommendations for bringing the field more closely in line with other fact based disciplines such as law and journalism Introduction to Anthropology Jennifer Hasty, David G. Lewis, Marjorie M. Snipes, 2024-09-16 Designed to meet the scope and sequence of your course Introduction to Anthropology is a four field text integrating diverse voices engaging field activities and meaningful themes like Indigenous experiences and social inequality to engage students and enrich learning The text showcases the historical context of the discipline with a strong focus on anthropology as a living and evolving field There is significant discussion of recent efforts to make the field more diverse in its practitioners in the questions it asks and in the applications of anthropological research to address contemporary challenges In addressing social inequality the text drives readers to consider the rise and impact of social inequalities based on forms of identity and difference such as gender ethnicity race and class as well as oppression and discrimination. The contributors to and dangers of socioeconomic inequality are fully addressed and the role of inequality in social dysfunction disruption and change is noted This is an adaptation of Introduction to Anthropology by OpenStax You can access the textbook as pdf for free at openstax org Minor editorial changes were made to ensure a better ebook reading experience Textbook content produced by OpenStax is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4 0 International License Military Waste Joshua O. Reno, 2020-02-04 World War III has yet to happen and yet material evidence of this conflict is strewn everywhere resting at the bottom of the ocean rusting in deserts and floating in near Earth orbit In Military Waste Joshua O Reno offers a unique analysis of the costs of American war preparation through an examination of the lives and stories of American civilians confronted with what is left over and cast aside when a society is permanently ready for war Using ethnographic and archival research Reno demonstrates how obsolete military junk in its various incarnations affects people and places far from the battlegrounds that are ordinarily associated with warfare Using a broad swath of examples from excess planes ships and space debris that fall into civilian hands to the dispossessed and polluted island territories once occupied by military bases to the militarized masculinities of mass shooters Military Waste reveals the unexpected and open ended relationships that non combatants on the home front form with a nation permanently ready for war The Space of Boredom Bruce O'Neill, 2017-03-09 In The Space of Boredom Bruce O Neill explores how people cast aside by globalism deal with an intractable symptom of downward mobility an unshakeable and immense boredom Focusing on Bucharest Romania where the 2008 financial crisis compounded the failures of the postsocialist state to deliver on the promises of liberalism O Neill shows how the city s homeless are unable to fully participate in a society that is increasingly organized around practices of consumption Without a job to work a home to make or money to spend the homeless who include pensioners abandoned by their families and the state struggle daily with the slow deterioration of their lives O Neill moves between homeless shelters and squatter camps black labor markets and transit stations detailing the lives of men and women who manage boredom by seeking stimulation from conversation and coffee to sex in public restrooms or going to the mall or IKEA Showing how boredom correlates with the downward mobility of Bucharest's homeless O Neill theorizes boredom as an enduring affect of globalization in order to provide a foundation from which to rethink the politics of alienation and displacement Clinard and Quinney's Criminal Behavior Systems A. Moffett-Bateau, 2024-09-06 Identifies socio political concepts and frameworks that can be used to recognize and understand the styles of political engagement political rebellion and political identity creation used by poor Black women living in the United States Healing Movements Megan S. Raschig, 2024-06-04 How a grassroots abolitionist project of cultural healing counters the carceral state in a Chicanx community in California For many gang involvement can be a guaranteed life sentence a force which traps them in an inescapable cycle of violence even if it does not lead to actual prison time Healing Movements explores the work of formerly gang involved Chicanx men and women in California who draw on the social connections made during their gang involved years to forge new pathways for cultural healing and countering the carceral system Known colloquially as the movement of healing this Chicanx Indigenous abolitionist project based in Salinas California was spurred on by a series of four police homicides of Latino men in 2014

Organizing around such issues as police brutality and mass incarceration these collectives two of which are discussed in this book one mixed gender and the other women only turned to their often obscured Mesoamerican ancestry to find new resources for building a different future for themselves and subsequent generations Drawing on extensive fieldwork conducted in Salinas Healing Movements reveals how these communities have taken shape in large part through a conscious effort to uplift Chicanx Indigenous culture and ceremonial practices By tapping into their Indigeneity the members of these collectives access a wealth of new resources to shape their future opening up novel ways to organize and build strong relational ties that are noteworthy to anyone invested in abolitionist work Liquor Store Theatre Maya Stovall, 2020-10-09 For six years Maya Stovall staged Liquor Store Theatre a conceptual art and anthropology video project included in the Whitney Biennial in 2017 in which she danced near the liquor stores in her Detroit neighborhood as a way to start conversations with her neighbors In this book of the same name Stovall uses the project as a point of departure for understanding everyday life in Detroit and the possibilities for ethnographic research art and knowledge creation Her conversations with her neighbors which touch on everything from economics aesthetics and sex to the political and economic racism that undergirds Detroit s history bring to light rarely acknowledged experiences of longtime Detroiters In these exchanges Stovall enacts an innovative form of ethnographic engagement that offers new modes of integrating the social sciences with the arts in ways that exceed what either approach can achieve alone The Third Reconstruction Peniel E. Joseph, 2022-09-06 One of our preeminent historians of race and democracy argues that the period since 2008 has marked nothing less than America's Third Reconstruction In The Third Reconstruction distinguished historian Peniel E Joseph offers a powerful and personal new interpretation of recent history The racial reckoning that unfolded in 2020 he argues marked the climax of a Third Reconstruction a new struggle for citizenship and dignity for Black Americans just as momentous as the movements that arose after the Civil War and during the civil rights era Joseph draws revealing connections and insights across centuries as he traces this Third Reconstruction from the election of Barack Obama to the rise of Black Lives Matter to the failed assault on the Capitol America's first and second Reconstructions fell tragically short of their grand aims Our Third Reconstruction offers a new chance to achieve Black dignity and citizenship at last an opportunity to choose hope over Handbook of Political Anthropology Harald Wydra, Bjørn Thomassen, 2018-11-30 This Handbook engages the fear reader in the major debates approaches methodologies and explanatory frames within political anthropology Examining the shifting borders of a moving field of enquiry it illustrates disciplinary paradigm shifts the role of humans in political structures ethnographies of the political and global processes Reflecting the variety of directions that surround political anthropology today this volume will be essential reading to understanding the interactions of humans within political frames in a globalising world What Brexit Means Max Horder, 2024-12-06 What Brexit Means explores the rise of populism in Britain Drawing on several years of ethnographic fieldwork amongst ideologically committed Brexit activists it examines the discourse of populism across language culture politics psychology and cognition It explains how populism is expressed in terms of ritually renewing social order and solidarity Rejecting the notion that the territory of populism studies belongs to political science this book shows how it is in the realm of anthropology myth ritual alterity consciousness selfhood that we witness the most compelling examples of how a phenomena as modern as populism depends upon the same symbolic logics that we find in the premodern world What Brexit Means is a demonstration of the power of anthropology to explain momentous and poorly predicted transformations in the global order It will become a benchmark text for those eager for anthropology s contribution to understanding the political turbulence that is rocking the stability of Western democracies

Halfway House Liam Martin,2021-10-19 Halfway House draws on three and a half years of intensive ethnographic fieldwork to open a window on the little known web of organizations governing prisoner reentry at the frontier of mass incarceration It tells the story of Joe Badillo along with a small cast of connected characters by following the ups and downs of his unfolding experience as he leaves jail and searches for a place in the world outside while confronting overwhelming obstacles Joe's first stop after release is Bridge House and the author moves into the program as a researcher around the same time he arrives the beginnings of the long term collaboration at the heart of the book This deeply personal account is weaved into a larger analysis of the halfway house as an institution a site of punishment and carceral control as well as housing and social support With a national push underway for decarceration and alternatives to imprisonment it provides an opportunity to rethink the pitfalls and possibilities of using the halfway house to challenge the worst excesses of mass incarceration
