Hector Richard Albrecht Lexis, Heinrich Waentig, 1894 Popular High Culture in Italian Media, 1950-1970 Emma Barron, 2018-08-20 When Mona Lisa smiled enigmatically from the cover of the Italian magazine Epoca in 1957 she gazed out at more than three million readers As Emma Barron argues her appearance on the cover is emblematic of the distinctive ways that high culture was integrated into Italy's mass culture boom in the 1950s and 1960s a period when popular appropriations of literature fine art and music became a part of the rapidly changing modern Italian identity Popular magazines ran weekly illustrated adaptations of literary classics Television brought opera from the opera house into the homes of millions Readers wrote to intellectuals and artists such as Alberto Moravia Thomas Mann and Salvatore Quasimodo by the thousands with questions about literature and self education Drawing upon new archival material on the demographics of television audiences and magazine readers this book is an engaging account of how the Italian people took possession of high culture and transformed the modern Italian identity Jahrbücher für Nationalökonomie und

Russo, 2021-12-30 This book offers an analysis of the socio historical conditions of the rise of postwar Italian photography considers its practices and outlines its destiny Antonella Russo provides an incisive examination of Neorealist photography delineates its periodization traces its instances and its progressive popularization and subsequent co optation that occurred with the advent of the industrialization of photographic magazines This volume examines the ethno photo graphic missions of Ernesto De Martino in the deep South of Italy the key role played by the Neorealist writer and painter Carlo Levi as ambassador of international photography and the journeys of David Seymour Henry Cartier Bresson and Paul Strand in Neorealist Italy The text includes an account the formation and proliferation of Italian photographic associations and their role in institutionalizing and promoting Italian photography their link to British and other European photographic societies and the subsequent decline of Neorealism It also considers the inception of non objective photography that thrived soon after the war in concurrence with the circulation of Neorealism thus debunking the myth identifying all Italian postwar photography with the Neorealist image This book will be particularly useful for scholars and students in the history and theory of photography and Italian history Rivista coloniale organo dell'Istituto coloniale italiano, 1912 of the social political and cultural history of women in Italy in the years 1946 1960 Despite being a time when women and the family were at the center of national debates and when society changed considerably the fifteen years following the Second World War have tended to be overlooked or subsumed into discussions of other periods By focusing on the experience of women and by broadening the frame of reference to include subjects and sources often ignored or only alluded to by traditional analyses the essays in this volume break new ground and provide a corrective to previous interpretive models
