

The background of the cover features a traditional African textile pattern. It depicts two stylized human figures, possibly dancers, in profile. They are wearing long, flowing robes with vibrant red, orange, and yellow colors. The figures are rendered in a simplified, almost abstract manner, with their heads represented by small black dots. The overall style is reminiscent of traditional African art or textile designs.

Ushioda, 2013-04-23 Bringing together motivation related practical concerns and debates from diverse international contexts and educational settings where English is learned, this book shows how locally produced insights and issues can have wider global significance resonating with the experiences and concerns of English teachers and learners across the world.

Language, Literature and Identity Kizito Mpoche, Tenu Mbu, 2006-05-01 The twenty seven articles in this volume are specially selected and edited works presented at the 2005 Yaounde conference on Language Literature and Identity. This is therefore not just a proceedings but a selection of self contained rich and inspiring body of works that should prove of enduring value to scholars and practitioners in the field of language literature culture and education. The themes that run through the works are varied and include among others social integration language culture and identity nationalism identity and development democratisation poverty alleviation and gender sensitivity. The analyses are insightful and perspicacious bringing to the fore a complex matrix of distinctive spiritual cognitive and material features that characterise issues of language literature art and culture predicated on identity as a centralising value. We have taken the liberty to summarise and highlight the key issues in each article below but this at best can only be an imperfect imitation of the original which I invite you to savour as input to a permanent reflection geared towards an objective deconstruction of the past to value the present and envision a brighter future as a legacy to the inheritors of our dreams and aspirations.

A Companion to Folklore Regina F. Bendix, Galit Hasan-Rokem, 2014-08-25 A Companion to Folklore contains an original and comprehensive set of essays from international experts in the field of folklore studies. This state of the art collection uniquely displays the vitality of folklore research across the globe. The Companion covers four main areas: the first section engages with the practices and theoretical approaches developed to understand the phenomena of folklore; the second discusses the distinctive shapes that folklore studies have taken in different locations in time and space; the third examines the interaction of folklore with various media.

as well as folklore's commoditization. In the final section on practice essays offer insights into how folklorists work what they do and ways in which they have institutionalized their field. Throughout contributors investigate the interplay of folklore and folkloristics in both academic and political arenas they evaluate key issues in the folk life of communities from around the world including China post communist Russia post colonial India South America Israel and Japan. The result is a unique reflection and understanding of the profoundly different research histories and current perspectives on international research in the field.

Literacy and Linguistic Diversity in a Global Perspective Neville Alexander, Brigitta Busch, European Centre for Modern Languages, 2007-01-01. This publication reflects the outcomes of a project which brought together experts and practitioners in the field of linguistic diversity and literacy from European and African countries with a view to opening a dialogue to taking a comparative perspective and defining possible areas of mutually enriching co-operation and exchange. The question of promoting low status and non dominant languages in education is the core concern of contributions in this volume which also encompasses topics such as language awareness stimulating and encouraging a reading culture in low status languages and developing criteria for teaching and learning materials that respect linguistic diversity and promote multilingualism. Examples of good practice in valuing African languages include an awareness raising campaign in Cameroon NGO activities promoting literary production in Senegalese languages the Stories Across Africa Project StAAf as well as initiatives of North South cooperation in the fields of teacher training and materials development. This publication was conceptualised as a contribution to the African Union's Year of African Languages 2006-07.

Reference Guide to Africa Alfred Kagan, Atoma Batoma, 2014-10-16. This third edition of the Reference Guide to Africa explains the most important resources for the study of the continent of Africa. It contains a general sources section and a larger disciplinary oriented section. All sources are annotated. A new edition is sorely needed since the last edition was published nine years ago. The previous editions have been successfully used in research libraries worldwide since 1999 and it has been used to teach several African studies research courses. The book provides an orientation for researching almost any topic in the arts humanities and social sciences concerning the continent of Africa and all of its countries and ethnic groups. The first part explains and lists portals databases bibliographies indexes guides encyclopedias country sources biography primary sources government publications and statistics. The second part presents 16 subject oriented chapters mostly in the arts humanities and social sciences from agriculture and food security to women studies. It covers sources that broadly cover the continent or in some cases only North Africa and the Middle East. It generally excludes sources limited to one country or region of Africa except for North Africa because of the nature of the literature. One third of the sources in this edition are new and nearly half of them are available in electronic format. There are author title and subject indexes. This unique work is intended for students teachers librarians and researchers. It likely will be used most by reference librarians and teachers for students in high school through graduate studies. It will also be used independently by undergraduate and graduate students.

It can be used to answer simple reference questions provide the resources for an undergraduate paper or for comprehensive work by advanced students and researchers
