Joining the Clubs J. Andrew Ross, 2015-05-21 How did a small Canadian regional league come to dominate a North American continental sport Joining the Clubs The Business of the National Hockey League to 1945 tells the fascinating story of the game off the ice offering a play by play of cooperation and competition among owners players arenas and spectators that produced a major league business enterprise Ross explores the ways in which the NHL organized itself to maintain long term stability deal with its labor force and adapt its product and structure to the demands of local regional and international markets He argues that sports leagues like the NHL pursued a strategy that responded both to standard commercial incentives and also to consumer demands that the product provide cultural meaning Leagues successfully used the cartel form an ostensibly illegal association of businesses that cooperated to monopolize the market for professional hockey along with a focus on locally branded clubs to manage competition and attract spectators to the sport In addition the NHL had another special challenge unlike other major leagues it was a binational league that had to sell and manage its sport in two different countries Joining the Clubs pays close attention to these national differences as well as to the context of a historical period characterized by war and peace by rapid economic growth and dire recession and by the momentous technological and social changes of the modern age

Festival and Event Management in Nordic Countries Tommy D. Andersson, Donald Getz, Reidar Johan Mykletun, 2014-06-11 This book on events related research marks a watershed in the development of a Nordic School of festival and event research Each of the chapters presents a new and interesting approach to the study of events in terms of methods perspectives or content It is mostly rooted in management theory but also incorporating other perspectives that enhance our understanding of the phenomena Implications for real world applications in tourism hospitality and community development are also at the fore The scholarship is comprehensive not focused on only tourism or economic aspects Management theory including stakeholder management social networks and institutionalization processes is being applied Attention is being given to the multiple roles festivals and events play in society and to evaluation of their worth and impacts Innovative methods are being developed to examine event experiences innovation processes and success factors There is now a critical mass of scholars in the Nordic countries that share a strong interest in event studies and they are engaged in collaborative research making it an appealing and innovative region for other event students and researchers to visit It can be expected that the Nordic school will take an increasingly important place in the development of event studies which is now truly global in terms of scholarship and university degree programs This book was originally published as a special issue of Scandinavian Journal of Hospitality and Tourism

Making Imperial Mentalities J. Mangan, 2012-05-04 This book discusses the way in which those born into the British empire were persuaded to accept it often with enthusiasm The study compares the perceptions of people at home in the dominions and in the colonies Across the diversity of imperial territories it explores themes such as the diverse nature of political socialisation the various agents and agencies of persuasion reaction to the experience of dominance by dominant and dominated the paradoxical impact of the missionary and the subversive role of some women It also considers the significant issues of colonial adaptation resistance and rejection and the post imperial consequences of imperialism
